SHAW TO RESCUE OF MONEY MART.

Secretary of Treasury Expected to Deposit from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000 Inside of 48 Hours.

ONLY PART TO NEW YORK.

Bulk of Amount Will Go to Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, and Other Large Cities.

BY RAYMOND.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—With the money rate in the New York stock market at 20 and even 25 per cent, and with heavy liquidation going on all day, it is no wonder the treasury has been bombarded more or less with queries as to whether Secretary Shaw proposed to come to the relief of the market or not. A statement was issued during the day to the effect that the secretary had not made up his mind whether to make any additional deposits of government funds or not.

In spite of this statement, in view of the critical condition in the stock market and high rate of money there, which, although purely speculative, must ultimately affect legitimate business, I believe it to be extremely probable that Secretary Shaw will make heavy government deposits on Tuesday or Wednesday, and I would not be surprised if the announcement were made with the opening of the market tomorrow. This is in spite of the comparatively low cash balance in the treasury.

New York Not to Get All.

Furthermore, I believe I am justified in saying that when Secretary Shaw does come to the relief of the money market he will not do it by dumping all government deposits into New York banks, but will spread them around and will make deposits practically in all of the large financial centers of the country. In that case Chicago will get about as much as New York.

This is a departure from some of the old traditions of the treasury which is of the utmost importance to financial interests of the entire interior. The time was, and it was not so long ago, when every secretary of the treasury, when Wall street began to call most loudly, thought it to be his duty to relieve the stringency in the speculative money market by government deposits in the New York banks which were called upon to spend cash for the speculative movement. That time has gone by.

When Secretary Shaw was in New York last week consulting with bankers and financiers there regarding the situation, he told them with the utmost frankness, I have been informed, that if he were asked to raise the level of the sea he would not do it by pouring all his money into the sea itself, but would reserve really a large portion to be dumped into the little creeks in the interior, whence it would find its way to the sea level in the natural order of things. This is a pointer, and I venture to predict government deposits of from $10,000,000 to $30,000,000 within a day or two, most of the money going into the interior and only a fair proportion of it to the New York banks.

Radical Change in Methods.

Looking into this latest departure in treasury metods, it is easy to see that if Secretary Shaw does make such a deposit at this particular time it will be more or less of a radical departure from the custom of his department. According to today's treasury statement, the available cash balance is $133,885,539. If this were all it would be a simple matter to put a whole lot of money into the national banks which are government depositories. But in point of fact the treasury balance is really unusually small. There is now in the banks to the credit of the treasurer of the United States $56,451,432. Besides that there are credits of disbursing officers here and in the Philippines and some minor items which make up a total of $70,920,980, which is carried as cash, but which really is not in the treasury at all and cannot be put there without increasing the stringency of the money market.

Thus the actual cash balance is reduced to about $83,000,000 in round numbers, and of this sum a good deal is in the form of silver bullion, fractional currency, and similar unavailable cash assets.

It has been the tradition of the treasury that from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000 must be kept on hand in actual cash for the purpose of providing for the current needs of government expenditure. This has been deemed to be particularly true at a time when the daily expenditures are in excess of the receipts. The deficit for this fiscal year already amounts to $15,001,132, so the cash balance, instead of increasing as the months go by, will constantly decrease.

It takes considerable bravery, therefore, on the part of a secretary of the treasury to reduce this balance still further, and yet I believe Secretary Shaw not only possesses this bravery but will probably demonstrate the fact to the country in from twenty-four to forty-eight hours.

Demand Is Purely Speculative.

Besides this the extraordinary demand for money is purely speculative. It is the price bid by people who want to carry stocks on margin for a particular reason of their own, and who need the money at any price for a short time to run them through with their operations.

Legitimate commercial demands thus far in New York from business houses, industrial enterprises, railroads, and other institutions have been met on ordinary money basis.

The demand for relief, therefore, comes from the speculative element entirely, and as that account is not entitled to so much consideration as would be accorded a similar movement arising from purely business sources. But the difficulty of it all is that this speculative demand for money cannot continue long without two things happening. In the first place, there must be a heavy liquidating movement in the stock market,

LAWSON TO ROOSEVELT: DON'T

Author of "Frenzied Finance" Against Help for Wall Street.

CALLS IT A GAMBLING DEAL.

Declares Nation's Millions Should Not Be Used to Bolster Speculation.

New York, Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Thomas W. Lawson, in an advertisement, announces that he sent today a telegram to President Roosevelt, saying in part:

"Mr. President: At the close of business in Wall street tonight it is the current report that your secretary of the treasury has agreed to help the frenzied financiers of the New York stock market out of their plight and will come to the rescue tomorrow with $25,000,000 of the government's funds.

Does Not Believe It.

"I do not believe this to be true. I am aware that in the past other secretaries of the treasury have won large financial profits as well as presidencies of great banking institutions by using the nation's millions to relieve just such 'emergencies' as exist in Wall street at this moment, but that this will be allowed under your administration I cannot credit.

No Calamity Threatens.

"No calamity threatened the nation's legitimate interests. What has happened is that a coterie of reckless bankers and desperate plungers, in defiance of a world wide money stringency, have inaugurated a persistent series of dangerous stock operations. Having exhausted the resources of their own banking houses, they are now demanding that the United States treasury shall help finance their gambling enterprises.

"Knowing that Theodore Roosevelt stands for the 'square deal,' I feel confident that you, Mr. President, will take decisive measures to render vain this cold blooded attempt to bolster up gambling ventures with public funds."

Message to Congress, Just Completed, Hits Out from the Shoulder on Live Public Issues.

REFORM IS WATCHWORD.

Deals with Rates, Insurance, Corporations, Graft in High Places, and Other National Topics.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt's annual message to congress is about completed. He is reading the proof. It is the most comprehensive document he ever submitted to congress. In length it aggregates 20,000 words and would fill two pages of THE TRIBUNE.

It covers an immense variety of subjects, internal and external, and has some straight talk, particularly on the subject of railroad rate legislation and federal supervision of corporations, which will appeal to the country.

The president has not minced words in his discussion of corporate interests or of the immigration question. In connection with the former, he is opposed by capital, and in the latter by labor.

Rate Issue Is Feature.

His message may be summarized as follows:

RAILROAD RATE REGULATION—This is the most prominent feature of the message. The president has pointed out in great detail the evils now existing and the necessity for their eradication. As a remedy he proposes that the interstate commerce commission shall be authorized in declaring a rate to be unreasonable, to declare at the same time what is a maximum, reasonable rate, and to make an order requiring the offending railroad to reduce its rate to that maximum.

He further recommends that in order to insure obedience to the order, the law contain a penalty, but that opportunity be reserved to the company to appeal to the federal court, whose decision shall be final. The maximum and reasonable rate fixed by the commission, however, shall enter into force upon its declaration. The president also seeks the regulation of the private car and terminal interests so that discrimination or rebates in any form shall be impossible.

Need of Insurance Reform.

INSURANCE—The president has handled this subject without gloves, referring to the revelations made during the inquiry in New York as evidence of the great need of federal supervision. In the discussion of this subject, the president has been hampered by the general belief prevailing among men versed in law that federal supervision is unconstitutional. But the president believes the quickest way to settle this is to enact legislation, and if the Supreme court decides the act of congress to be unconstitutional to amend the constitution.

Curb for Corporations.

CORPORATIONS—This is a subject which has been given serious consideration by the president. He believes corporations should be managed with due regard to the interests of the public as a whole. He has expressed this belief in his message and has recommended proper legislation by congress. In this connection, attention is called to notified the leaders of the moderate or administration party that they would not consent to the postponement until after election of the proposed discussion into the circumstances surrounding the killing of Congressman Enrique Villuendas at Cienfuegos on Sept. 22.

The liberals desire to discuss the affair on alternate days. The moderates would be willing to make such an arrangement; if the liberals promised not to attack the government. The liberals, however, refuse to give such a promise.

Unrest Has Long Prevailed.

Many serious incidents have grown out of the differences between the moderate and liberal parties in Cuba, which first arose over the registration for the elections.

During the campaign there were charges of corruption against the officials at Vueltas. President Palma ordered an investigation in that and other municipalities. Gov. Gomes openly defied the president, asserting that Palma was encroaching on the rights of the provincial governors. Before an examination of the records at Vueltas could be made the city hall was burned and all the municipal books destroyed.

Havana, Nov. 14, 3 a. m.—It is believed that the government fears a coup d'état, as the number of police at the palace has recently been trebled, and for the last two nights the policemen have been compelled to sleep on the palace floor.

MAYOR SUBMITS 75-CENT GAS LAW.

Ordinance Providing a Lower Rate and Message Defending It Received by the City Council.

UPHOLDS MEASURE OF 1900

Declares Its Legality Will Be Maintained and Consumers Can Recover $13,700,000 Overcharges.

Mayor Dunne's effort to get cheaper gas for consumers in Chicago takes the form of an ordinance for 75 cent gas, which was submitted to the city council by him last night and referred to the gas, oil, and electric light committee.

In a special message the mayor asserted that the People's Gaslight and Coke company owed its consumers $13,700,000 for overcharges since the passage of the 75 cent gas ordinance in 1900—an ordinance which the company has held up in the courts by restraining orders ever since.

The proposed ordinance is to be based on the recent act of the legislature, which was adopted by the people at last Tuesday's election. It had been supposed that the first act of the city, working on this new grant of power, would be to appoint a commission to examine the condition under which gas is manufactured and to report a fair and reasonable rate.

Objects to Investigation Plan.

Mayor Dunne advised against following this plan, for the reason that any change in the rate provided by the ordinance of 1900 would be an admission on the part of the city that 75 cents was an unreasonable price and the companies would escape paying the rebates, which he contends they will be forced to pay by the final order of court in the present gas litigation.

Seventy-five cents per thousand cubic feet he declared to be a fair and reasonable rate, affirming that he had made investigations in a number of cities, and that the data thus obtained bore out the contention that it was a reasonable price.

In his special message the mayor discussed the litigation which followed the passage of the 75 cent gas ordinance in October, 1900—the suit which the People's Gaslight and Coke company brought to restrain its enforcement, the decision of the United States Supreme court in the case, and the suit brought by D. C. Mills, a stockholder of the company, in the United States court to restrain the enforcement of the ordinance, claiming the city had no grant of authority from the legislature to fix such rates.

"The city is contending that stockholder Mills is in collusion with the company," the mayor explained in his message. "I am advised that the city can establish this contention in this regard and that there is a strong probability of the city being able to maintain the validity of the 75 cent gas ordinance of 1900."

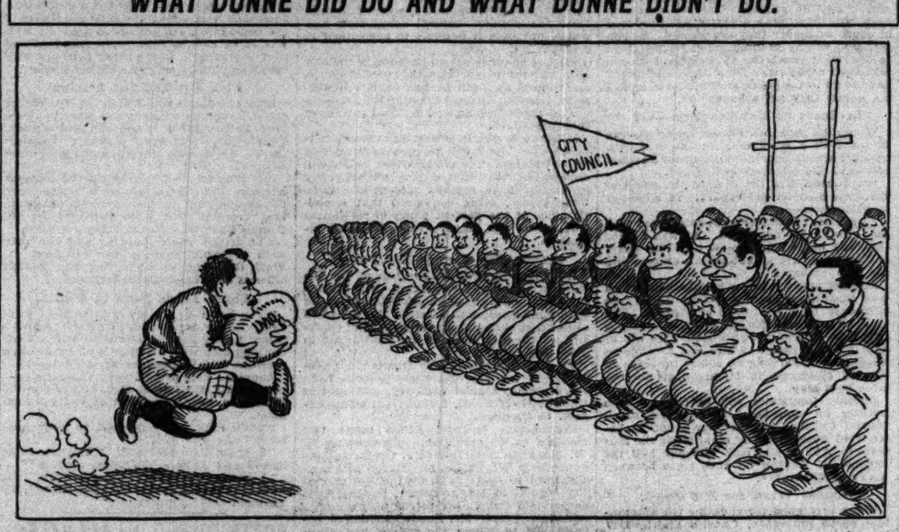

$3,700,000 Overcharge Involved.

If the ordinance of 1900 should be sustained, the company would be obliged to return to consumers the difference between the rate then established and the rate charged—25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet—for the elapsed time following the passage of the ordinance. This sum now amounts to $13,700,000, the mayor affirmed in his message.

"As there are, in round numbers, 300,000 consumers of the gas company in the city," the mayor explained in his message, "it

T. HEIDMAN BURNED TO DEATH IN AN EARLY MORNING FIRE.

Body Almost Beyond Recognition Taken from Blazing Structure at 1713 North Clark Street.

T. Heidman was burned to death in a fire that swept through a four story building at 1713 North Clark street at 3:30 o'clock this morning. The body was unrecognizable when the police removed it.

Several other occupants of the building were carried out by the firemen and policemen nearly suffocated.

The fire started in a tailor shop on the first floor from an overheated stove and caught the occupants of the place asleep.

2,600 TARS CHEER 2 NATIONS.

Evans' Bluejackets Give Louis' Marines Howling Time.

STOLID BRITONS WARM UP.

English Sailors Soon Sing and Shout Like Vivacious Hosts.

New York, Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The dinner and beer fest of the United States blue jackets to their visiting brethren of the British squadron was brought off according to schedule at Stauch's pavilion, Coney Island, tonight. The history of the two navies records nothing like it. Twenty-six hundred sailormen and 100 of their officers sat down to supper in one big hall. The whole 2,700 was moved at times to rise and bellow for anybody and everybody in husky sea voices. College rooting, national conventions, and Jerome meetings retire and take a back seat when compared to the cheering of the British and American squadrons on pleasure bent.

To begin at the beginning, the hosts and guests were carried down North river on three big steamships. The British sailors, because they were going to have a good time, looked sad and depressed.

At the first the British tars and his majesty's jollies stood aloof, and regarded the shore line. Then Sergeant Robitaille of the Marine corps, who has had the affair much on his mind, began to circulate with cigars.

Things Loosen Up Some.

"Take all you want, boys; there's plenty more aboard," he said. The ice began to break. The American tars walked up to the British, as they had seen their officers do, and said: "I'm Jones of the Massachusetts" or "I'm Smith of the Alabama." Things loosened up.

A ship's poet from the Massachusetts collected a crowd in a cabin and began to sing. The Americans hurried up from every quarter of the ship. They sang about "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" and "Coney Island Down the Bay." Then they swung into some topical songs of the American squadron which have not been made to put on paper. The British sat open mouthed and admired the superior nerve and the vivacity of the Americans.

Of the glory of Stauch's pavilion, as decorated by the committee from the American fleet, the poet of the Maine will sing later. Neither expense, flags, nor policemen had been spared. It took a quarter of an hour for the 2,600 to get past the turnstiles, where the nervous quartermaster of the Maine worked hard, keeping out unauthorized persons.

Little Girl Carries House Down.

The blue jackets and marines filled the floor, galleries, and alcoves. They found seats and sang while they waited for Prince Louis. An orchestra of sixty pieces, picked from the squadron and led by Bandmaster Ferguson of the Kentucky, led the singing. The table of Prince Louis and his officers, arranged in comb fashion, stood at one end of the main floor.

Prince Louis hardly had taken his seat and begun clams on the half shell and mock turtle soup when the committee sprang its first stunt. Up the aisle walked a little girl dressed as Columbia—a blushing, yet confident little girl, buried under a bouquet of red and white chrysanthemums.

Behind her came a messenger boy with another bouquet. In a tense silence—for this was a surprise and no one knew what the prince would do—she walked around to the head of the table and approached his serene highness. He rose and looked down at her. She spoke her piece and shoved the bouquet up at him. He bent over and kissed her. She paused and blinked, but went right ahead and gave another bouquet to Bob Evans. He got up and kissed her, too.

Gladys Scott, 8 years old, is the little girl who will tell her grandchildren how the prince kissed her.

Prince Proves Best at Kissing.

"He kissed me right here," she said when she was interviewed, and she pursed up the point of her upper lip. "Admiral Evans didn't. He kissed me here," and she indicated her right dimple. "I guess he ain't used to kissing." Anyway she got a great hand.

Five minutes later the prince and Admiral Evans walked up to the main gallery and stood over the crowd. It rose, and then it did some cheering.

"Speech, speech," bowled the Americans. The admiral-prince shook his head, and Evans, grinning, raised a deprecating hand.

After he had been cheered for five minutes the admiral retired during a short space for eating, during which the company tackled the fish course.

Louis Passes Wine for Beer.

Drinks now were bubbling merrily—beer for the men and champagne for the officers. When the wine came around to the prince he covered his glass.

"Bring me beer, please," he said.

Most of the men failed to see that little compliment. He was taking the same fare they got.

After this the committee on arrangements sprang the best thing it did. The lights in the hall all went out except for those at the band stand, which stood out in a blaze of red fire. A doll in a sailor's costume was slung in a bo'sun's chair and lowered from the ceiling. The band struck up "Hands Across the Sea," and two sailors, American and Britisher, stood forth in the red glare, hand in hand.

Of course that brought a roar. George Duncan, A. B., of the Missouri rose in the upper gallery and proposed three cheers for the prince. He waved the men to their feet and kept them roaring for three full minutes—for ever yone in sight.

Rush for the Champagne.

The prince finished his ice cream and coffee and rose to go at 8:25. Before he left he distributed largesse. The Americans had received leave until Wednesday morning. The British guests had to be back on ship tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock.

When the officers left for the horse show some one noticed many half bottles of champagne left on their table. The rush which followed shook the house. The champagne lasted but a moment.

A vaudeville program followed. It was almost a waste.

Catherine Wiley tried to sing some sentimental songs. You could see her mouth move. "You're all right, sister," roared the Americans, but they went on clicking beer glasses and making an uproar just the same.

The Arbury sisters, lightning change song and dance artists, had a little more success. You could watch them and take some joy in it without ceasing to wave a bottle around the head of your new international friend while assuring him that the British navy 'n' the 'Mer'can navy can lickemall.

Outside Coney Island had a kind of Indian summer. Shooting galleries, hit the nigger games, and hot dog stands wakened to life all along the Bowery. Kind ladies who love the society of sailors flocked to the back rooms long before the vaudeville program was over, and the tars were drifting about to hunt variety.

ALDERMEN AGAIN SNUB THE MAYOR.

His "City Plan" Message and Ordinance Go to Hostile Transportation Committee.

ACTION TAKEN OFFHAND.

Without Debate or Fireworks the Documents Are Sent After the Ones That Preceded.

Mayor Dunne laid his final plan for municipal ownership of street car lines before the city council last evening. The council promptly sent it to the committee on local transportation, which does not favor municipal ownership. There was no debate and no fireworks about the proceedings.

This last plan of the mayor's is his "city plan." It is municipal ownership, but by no means "immediate municipal ownership." The mayor explained in his message that he had tried for L. M. O. by means of his "contract plan," but that having been rejected, he was doing the next best thing.

The scheme he suggested means lawsuits of different kinds. It means condemnation proceedings and a final test of the right of the traction companies under the "ninety-nine year acts." It means that if he is to see it go through he will have to be re-elected mayor, as there is no chance of its being worked out before his present term expires. In this situation some people think they see the reason for his decision to use his office for all it is worth politically.

Asks a Referendum Order.

While the mayor really sent one message to the council, nominally he sent two. The main one was a plea for municipal ownership in any form. The other one simply asked the council to order a referendum at the spring election seeking to authorize the city to operate as well as own street car properties. They were bound up together and both were sent to the same committee.

The mayor stated his position both in his message and in talk afterwards. Said he:

"The committee on local transportation having voted to defer action on the 'contract plan,' has taken up the consideration of franchise ordinances. The principle of these ordinances have been condemned already by the people by referendum vote. The ordinances themselves have been introduced directly into the committee by representatives of the traction companies.

"As further delay can but operate favorably to the interests of the companies, and the voters under the public policy act have instructed every alderman to proceed at once to acquire municipal ownership under the Mueller law, I have asked for the requisite mandatory ordinance."

Would Buy All Tracks.

The ordinance the mayor asks the council to pass provides for the city's owning the tracks in every street in the city in which tracks now exist. The streets in which the franchises have now expired are named, as well as those in which "ninety-nine year rights" exist. The property is to be acquired by condemnation proceedings.

The estimated price of the street car systems the city is to buy is put at $75,000,000. So the council is asked to order a vote on the proposition whether Mueller law certificates to that amount shall be issued. There is nothing in the message or the ordinance which gives any reason for this price. It is an arbitrary one, fixed by A. B. Dupont, the mayor's expert in these matters, and Mr. Dupont was at hand last evening to defend his figures before the council. There was no debate about the matter, however, and Mr. Dupont's services were not needed.

The message and ordinance came before the council in the regular course of business and was referred to the committee, on motion of Ald. Foreman, without any other interruption than a request from Ald. Dever that they both be published.

Message of the Mayor.

The message is as follows:

"To the Honorable the City Council, Gentlemen: In laying before your honorable body the accompanying draft of an ordinance for establishing municipal ownership of street railways in Chicago, under the provisions of the Mueller law, I invite your attention to the following facts and considerations relative thereto:

"During the first three months of my administration I learned that of the 700 miles of street car trackage in the entire city, at least 240 miles were, or within two years thereafter would be, incontestably at the disposal of the city, freed from all franchise claims. This part of the trackage, now reported to me to aggregate 274 miles, is exceptionally advantageous for the beginning of a municipal system under the Mueller law, and if so used it would give to the city at an early day advantages that would force the traction companies to assent to fair terms of sale for complete municipalisation.

Companies in Possession.

"But as the traction companies, being in actual possession, hold advantages of position which made delays serviceable to them and prejudicial to the interests of the people of the city, it seems to me that the most important first step for your honorable body to take in obedience to the declared will of the people with reference to municipal ownership, was to shift those advantages of position from the companies to the city. To that end I submitted to your honorable body an ordinance for a construction company.

"This company was designed to acquire the expired and expiring trackage and to rehabilitate the lines, under your supervision. It was also to have authority under your supervision to operate the system it should acquire and construct, until its stockholders had been paid in full, with 5 per cent interest, for their actual and necessary investment, out of the sinking fund provided for, or the sale of Mueller law certificates, or both. Thereupon the system was to be the exclusive property of the city.

Quotes Former Recommendations.

"My recommendations in that message of transmittal were, first, appropriate proceedings for referring the proposed ordinance to your committee on local transportation; second, public hearings before that committee for the purpose of considering objections to the ordinance, together with the fullest explanation and exposition of its purpose and provisions, and the consideration of such amendments not in conflict with its essential features as might be deemed proper and necessary for the interests of the city of Chicago; and, third, that pending final action the council provide for securing the submission to the voters of Chicago, at the then next general election, the plan for the ac-cution of which the proposed ordinance had been drafted.

"In order also that there might be no unnecessary delay in proceeding concurrently under the Mueller law to establish municipal ownership, I instructed counsel for the city to prepare an ordinance for such proceedings. The counsel for the city did thereupon immediately proceed to draft such an ordinance.

Committee Considering Franchise.

"Your honorable body referred the first proposed ordinance to your committee on local transportation. But that committee, having voted to defer action thereon, has entered upon the consideration of ordinances extending the franchises of the traction companies. The principle of these ordinances already has been condemned by the people by referendum vote. The ordinances themselves, without having been referred to your committee by your honorable body, have been introduced directly into that committee by representatives of the traction companies.

"It seems evident to me, therefore, that the advantages of position which I had hoped your honorable body might decide to secure for the people of the city preliminary to proceeding to establish municipal ownership under the Mueller law are not likely to be taken from the traction companies in time to be immediately effective. And, inasmuch as further delay can but operate favorably to the interests of those companies and unfavorably to the interests of the people of the city, and as the counsel for the city have now completed their proposed ordinance for proceeding under the Mueller law for the establishment of municipal ownership, I am of the opinion that such proceedings on our part ought to begin at once.

Council Instructed by Voters.

"The advisory votes under the public policy statute having clearly instructed every member of your honorable body to proceed without delay to acquire municipal ownership under the Mueller law, I respectfully submit to your good judgment that it has now become the duty of your honorable body to provide for the necessary mandatory referendum under the Mueller law. Similar instructions having been given to me as mayor, both by advisory referendum and the circumstances of my election, I have no doubt of my duty to do all in my power to accomplish that result. I, therefore, advise your honorable body to proceed without further delay to establish municipal ownership pursuant to the Mueller law.

"To facilitate your action I submit to your consideration the accompanying draft of the ordinance which has been prepared by the special traction counsel of the city. As I am advised and believe, this ordinance lays the proper legal basis for a complete, speedy, and final judicial test of the validity of the Mueller law certificates.

"While I still believe that, pending the necessary proceedings under, and the adjudication of, the provisions of the Mueller law, a construction and temporary operating company properly safeguarded would be the most effective first step for securing municipal control, I am satisfied that this advantage should not be purchased at the cost of postponing proceedings under the Mueller law indefinitely. Accordingly, I hereby recommend that the accompanying proposed ordinance be submitted by your honorable body to the people at the next municipal election, in due form, in accordance with the provisions of the Mueller law. Respectfully,

"EDWARD F. DUNNE,
"Mayor."

Provisions of Ordinance.

The ordinance accompanying the message is in due legal form. It names the streets which the municipal railway is to use—all of which are now occupied by street car tracks—and ends with a provision for a referendum vote.

Section 1 authorizes the issuance by the city of street railway certificates not to exceed $75,000,000. Section 2 provides that the certificates shall be used for acquiring by purchase or construction street railways upon every street now occupied by street railways in Chicago. Section 4 provides that the certificates shall not be an obligation on the city, but payable solely out of the income derived from street railway properties. Section 5 provides for a sinking fund.

Section 7 provides for renewals and extensions to be made out of the earnings.

Section 8 contains a form of deed of trust. The certificates are numbered from 1 to 141,000 inclusive, aggregate $75,000,000 in amount, and are of six series, the denominations being $1,000, $100, $500, $50, $20, and $10. All of the certificates mature in twenty years and bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent.

Other sections provide for various legal technicalities. Section 18 provides that the question of the approval of the ordinance shall be submitted to a popular vote at an election to be held April 3 1906.

Supplemental Ordinance.

Then to cover the point that perhaps after the city had secured a railway system it would not be empowered to operate it the mayor sent a supplemental ordinance, to that effect, accompanied with the following message:

"To the Honorable the City Council—Gentlemen: The Mueller law provides as well for municipal operation of the street car system of Chicago as for municipal ownership. But under that law municipal operation cannot be adopted by the city authorities until it has been authorized by a three-fifths vote of the people. I therefore advise the submission to the people at the next municipal election of the question of authorizing the adoption of municipal operation of street cars. Herewith I transmit to you an ordinance for that purpose, which has been drafted under my direction by counsel for the city. Respectfully submitting it to your good judgment, I advise its prompt passage. Respectfully EDWARD F. DUNNE, mayor."

WATER STREET TO BE EXEMPT.

Judiciary Committee Instructed to Prepare Ordinance Giving Merchants Right to Sidewalk Space.

Ald. Snow, chairman of the compensation committee of the council, changed his mind regarding the clearing of South Water street, and at last night's session of the council secured the passage of an order directing the judiciary committee to frame an ordinance to have the street set aside as a market street, thus legalizing its use by the produce and other merchants.

At its meeting on Saturday the committee ordered the commissioner of public works to have the street cleared of obstructions, and force the merchants to transact their business within their stores. The commissioner declined to enforce the order, saying the street was not a thoroughfare, but a market place. Ald. Snow came around to this view of the matter.

Ald. Hunter introduced an order prohibiting the sale of giant firecrackers. It went to the judiciary committee.

Ald. Riley submitted an ordinance for a prohibition district in the territory bounded by South Central Park avenue, Downey court, Monroe street, and West Van Buren street.

At the suggestion of Ald. Bennett an order was passed directing a transfer of $5,000 from other fire department funds to the furniture and bedding fund. An investigation made by THE TRIBUNE disclosed the fact that in many of the fire stations insufficient provision has been made for the comfort of the men.

An amendment to the code submitted by Ald. Foreman provides that all proposals for public work, public improvements, or furnishing supplies for the city shall be made in sealed bids on triplicate forms to be furnished by the city, and that all contracts shall be executed in quadruplicate. It further is required that each city department shall make monthly reports showing the names of bidders on various public improvements, the names of the successful bidders, the contracts on which extras were allowed, the list of contracts completed during the previous month, and the contracts which have been let to other than the lowest bidder with the reason for such letting. The ordinance was sent to the judiciary.

An ordinance providing that the bridges across the river shall not be opened between 6:30 and 8:30 o'clock in the morning and between 5 and 7 o'clock in the evening, was passed.

Ald. John P. Stewart, elected last Tuesday in the Twentieth ward, was appointed to all the committees on which the late James C. Patterson, his predecessor, had served, except the water department committee, of which Mr. Patterson had been chairman. This chairmanship was given to Ald. Pringle, the council establishing a precedent which may be used later when the question of appointing a successor to Ald. McCormick on the local transportation committee comes up. Mayor Dunne will not be allowed to appoint a successor to Mr. McCormick.

MAYOR SUBMITS 75 CENT GAS LAW

Ordinance Providing a Lower Rate Is Received by the City Council.

UPHOLDS MEASURE OF 1900

follows that these people are interested to an average amount of $49.69. In view of this enormous sum, which, the city contends, has been collected wrongfully, and that must be paid back in case the city is successful in its pending litigation, I am advised by counsel for the city that the rights of the city might be jeopardized seriously if your honorable body should take any action which could be interpreted as calling into question the reasonableness of the 75 cent rate fixed by the ordinance of Oct. 15, 1900.

"From data which I have collected I find that there are a number of cities in which artificial gas is being furnished profitably by privately owned companies for 75 cents. Being convinced, as I am, that nothing should be done that would impair the rights of the people under the old ordinance and that 75 cents is a reasonable rate, as demonstrated from the actual experience of many large cities, I herewith transmit an ordinance providing for such rates."

Ordinance Is Sent to Committee.

As the reading of the message was finished Ald. Powers called out a suggestion that the accompanying ordinance, with the message, be sent to the committee on gas, oil, and electric light. A motion to this effect was made by Ald. Snow, and it was passed, while Ald. Coughlin was calling out:

"What's the matter with passing the ordinance tonight?"

The preamble to the ordinance recites that the city council passed a 75 cent gas ordinance Oct. 15, 1900; that the companies disputed the right of the city to attempt such regulation, and that the city claimed then, and claims now, the authority to fix such prices. It further set up the fact that the last legislature passed a specific act giving the city such authority, and that the people of the city had adopted it on referendum, and that it now is in force in the city.

Provisions of the Ordinance.

The ordinance itself provides:

"That no corporation, company or companies, firm, or persons manufacturing, selling, supplying, or distributing gas in the city of Chicago for illuminating or fuel purposes shall charge, exact, demand, or collect from any customer thereof for the next five years from and after the taking effect of this ordinance more than the sum of 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas consumed or used. Said sum of 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas shall be the net price charged, exacted, demanded, or collected from each customer. Manufactured gas, so furnished, shall afford a light of not less than 22 candle power, to be measured and ascertained at the places of consumption in said city by the most modern appliances known to science for measuring the candle power of illuminating gas.

"Provided, however, that any corporation, company or companies, firm, or persons distributing or selling gas for fuel or illuminating purposes in the city of Chicago may, in addition to said 75 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas furnished to such consumer, add a penalty of not exceeding 10 cents for each 1,000 cubic feet of gas so supplied in such consumer for delinquency or nonpayment of the bill, statement, or charge, ten days from the date at which said bill is made and furnished to such consumer.'

Proposed Measure Provides Fines.

Further, the ordinance provides that any company which shall remove its meters against the will of the consumers, who shall have made a tender of the amount fixed by the ordinance in payment for the gas consumed, should be subject to a fine of from $25 to $200. A similar fine is provided in case the gas furnished does not meet the requirement of twenty-two candle power. The ordinance of 1900 is repealed by the proposed ordinance with the following reservation:

"Section 5—That the repeal of the ordinance mentioned in the preceding section shall not affect suits pending or rights existing at the time this ordinance takes effect or penalties then incurred, but the city of Chicago and all persons, firms, companies, or corporations who were consumers of gas within the city of Chicago during any portion of the time said ordinance was in effect, shall hereafter have the right, severally and respectively, to bring suit in any court of competent jurisdiction for the purpose of recovering penalties, or overcharges, or claims growing out of rights conferred by said ordinance of Oct. 15, 1900, in the same manner and to the same effect as if said ordinance had not been repealed, and said ordinance shall continue in full force and effect for all the purposes aforesaid."

SALE IN LAKE SHORE DRIVE REPORTED AS COMPLETED.

Real Estate Men Hear That Agents of Archbishop Have Disposed of Frontage to Stanley McCormick.

It was reported yesterday in real estate circles that the archbishop's agents had negotiated the sale of another piece of Lake Shore drive property belonging to the Roman Catholic diocese. The property lies on the west side of the drive, 100 feet south of North avenue. It is understood that Stanley McCormick, 135 Rush street, is the purchaser. The lot directly to the north and reaching to North avenue and the park was bought recently from the archbishop by Richard T. Crane Jr., the price approximating $1,000 a foot.

A little way to the south, in the same block, is the residence property bought some time ago by Victor F. Lawson.

CLERGYMEN TALK OF SALOONS.

Methodist Ministers Censure Mayor Dunne for Failure to Stop Sales of Liquor on Sunday.

The Chicago Lutheran Ministers' association at its monthly meeting, held yesterday at the Victoria hotel, adopted resolutions commending Mayor Dunne for his activity against vice in the city and for seeking enforcement of the Sunday closing saloon law.

The Methodist Ministers' association commended the mayor for his enforcement of other laws in the suppression of crime, but censured him for not closing saloons on Sunday.

A resolution to appoint representatives to join the delegation of the Woman's Christian Temperance union in their visit to the mayor next Friday was rejected.

ROBBED IN SIGHT OF MANY.

Mrs. Mary Cleveland Attacked Almost in Front of Leavitt Street Church.

In view of many persons who were entering the Leavitt Street Congregational church, West Adams and Leavitt streets, last night Mrs. Mary Cleveland, wife of Wilbur Cleveland, president of the Cleveland Livery company, was robbed of her purse containing a check for $18 and a railroad ticket.

The robber snatched the purse which was hanging from Mrs. Cleveland's belt, and escaped.

Frederick Lindquist, 1408 Franklin boulevard, was robbed of his gold watch and $50 by pickpockets while riding on a Kedzie avenue car.

CLUB TO BAIL AUTOISTS.

PLAN TO SAVE SCORCHERS FROM GOING TO THE STATION.

John Farson Proposes That Organization of Vehicle Owners Issue to Members in Good Standing Cards Which Will Be Accepted by the Police in Lieu of Bond for Those Who Are Arrested for Violation of the Speed Ordinance.

When the vigilant "sparrow cop" or city bluecoat stops a motor car hereafter and accuses the owner of violating the speed ordinance there will be no talk of police stations or bail bonds if John Farson, president of the Chicago Automobile club, has his way about it. Instead, the conversation will be something like this:

"'Fraid you were speeding a bit, sir? Sorry to trouble you, but—"

"Don't mention it. Here's my card. Good-by."

After presenting the officer with a bit of pasteboard the auto owner will be privileged to whiz away, free from any such annoyance as a personal interview with a desk sergeant regarding a bondsman—that is, if Mr. Farson has his way about it.

Flanked by Sidney Gorham, secretary and attorney for the Automobile club, Mr. Farson will broach his plan to Chief of Police Collins today. He thinks the chief will approve of it. He explained it to the board of directors of the club at their meeting yesterday and there was great cheering.

Farson Outlines His Plan.

"First, the club will issue to each member in good standing a card bearing his name and address, certifying to the fact that he is a member in good standing," said Mr. Farson. "Then the club will send all the cards to Chief Collins, and the chief will affix his signature to a statement printed on the back to the effect that the card is to be accepted in lieu of a bond, in case the bearer is arrested."

The directors wanted to know what security beside the card the chief would have that the bearer of the card would appear in court the next morning.

The club will stand back of its members, if they are in good standing," said Mr. Farson. "It will guarantee to see that any such who have been arrested are produced in court whenever they are wanted. So you see, that will be an inducement for members to behave themselves. If they don't we can take their cards away from them, and they'll have to go to the police station and be locked up, unless they get a bondsman."

In Cases of Manslaughter——?

Would the card Mr. Farson spoke of serve in place of a bond only in the case of a member arrested for speeding, or for all other offenses? the directors questioned.

Mr. Farson had not decided the scope of the little piece of pasteboard. In a case of manslaughter—

"But that's a matter to be considered with the chief," he concluded. It was agreed that the innovation would have the effect of forcing nearly all automobile owners into the club instanter.

Another play for larger membership which was considered at the meeting was a new clubhouse to cost $100,000 or $150,000. The club already has $60,000 available for the purpose. In a day or so a committee will be appointed to choose a site and arrange to have the new building up before the lease on the old clubhouse in Michigan avenue expires next May.

Another committee will be charged with putting up sign posts at all cross roads around Chicago for the instruction of bewildered autoists. The club thinks the Milwaukee Automobile club will pay half the expense of putting up such signs between here and Milwaukee.

Blames Wind for His Speed.

When arraigned for violating the automobile speed ordinance, Charles Smith, 1147 West Taylor street, said to Justice Callihan:

"It wasn't my fault. I was operating my machine about five miles an hour, but the wind blew me along about twelve miles an hour."

"Ten dollars and costs," said the justice.

Ten automobilists were fined in the Desplaines street and Warren avenue courts. Fred Cregier, a brother of the city custodian, and R. W. Carney, 18 years old, 4200 Grand boulevard, were among those who obtained continuances.

RIBS BROKEN IN CAR CRASH.

August Schieke Is Seriously Injured in Accident on Elston Avenue Line at Clybourn Place.

Passengers were thrown from their seats to the floor, and windows were broken. Schieke was found lying near the front of the car, unconscious and bleeding from several bruises.

A mistake in switching caused a slight collision of the engine of a south bound suburban train with a north bound engine on the Illinois Central railroad at Harrison street. Peter Schlack, engineer of the south bound train, was bruised slightly. The damage was nominal.

Three persons were injured when a Twenty-sixth street trolley car crashed into a wagon at Twenty-sixth street and Wabash avenue.

MRS. WALTER FARWELL BETTER

At the Presbyterian Hospital Recovering from an Operation for Appendicitis, Performed on Sunday.

Mrs. Walter Farwell, 65 Bellevue place, is at the Presbyterian hospital, it was learned last night, recovering from an operation for appendicitis, performed Sunday evening.

She is under the care of Dr. J. Clarence Webster and Dr. Arthur D. Bevan, who stated last night that she is past the danger point.

"She was not seriously ill when we concluded to have the operation performed," said her husband, "and there is every likelihood, I am told, that she will come out of it safely. She was taken to the hospital Sunday morning."

DR. EMMA C. HACKETT ILL.

Hull House Physician Is Suffering from Blood Poisoning—May Lose Right Hand.

Dr. Emma C. Hackett, resident physician of the Hull House, and one of the staff of lecturers of the Augustana School for Trained Nurses, is in the Augustana hospital suffering from blood poison, which threatens to cause the loss of her right hand. A finger of the doctor's hand became infected while performing an operation about ten days ago. Last Thursday, at the advice of Dr. A. J. Ochsner, head surgeon of the hospital, Dr. Hackett began treatment, but the disease has made headway against the best medical skill.

BOB BURKE TO BE PILOT FOR DUNNE.

Harrison's Former Manager to Organize the Mayor's Political Machine.

PROSPECT OF LIFTED LID.

Discredited Democratic Leader to Be Restored to Power as Dictator.

Robert Emmet Burke is to be to Mayor Dunne what he was to Carter H. Harrison before he, as city oil inspector, discovered the necessity of refunding $50,000 to the city treasury. It is to be a case of "O. K., Bob Burke," again. Mayor Dunne, recognizing his own lack of ability as a politician, has turned his affairs over to Pilot Burke.

The discredited Harrison leader is to be the organizer of Dunne's democratic organization. The necessity of such organizing has been made apparent since election by the work of the old Harrison machine, which is out after Dunne without any reservation and which purposes to put Carter H. Harrison back in the city hall if it can be done.

The mayor has seen the whole fabric of L. M. O. failing about his ears for the lack of a political organizer and Burke's worst enemies admit that he understands politics and especially democratic politics as few men in Chicago have understood it.

Harrison's Friends Are Feared.

To put him in charge means a certain letdown in the ideals of the present mayor, but he has become convinced that there is but one issue of any importance in Chicago, and that this issue is municipal ownership.

The cause is threatened because no Dunne leader has acumen enough to organize against the Harrison crowd, which now controls the county central committee, and which purposes if possible to keep itself in control.

Several changes are to be made in the city hall, but the mayor said they would not be determined on until he had conferred with some friends. He was asked if Mr. Burke is one of these friends, and declined to answer the question.

If Burke is put in power, and his advice is taken, the "lid" will be lifted several feet off of Chicago. The old Harrison leader will suggest at once that a more liberal policy be employed as regards saloons and gambling places, being convinced that a continuance of the present policy of restriction will defeat the mayor when he seeks re-election.

Mayor May Change His Policy.

It is possible that Mayor Dunne, for the sake of municipal ownership, will change the entire program of his administration and give some freedom to the city. The Harrison crowd is counting on the present tight condition of the city to be of substantial aid in defeating the mayor.

The only change Mayor Dunne made yesterday in the city offices was to retire Robert Redfield, special attorney, and appoint Charles H. Mitchell, former real estate expert, to his place.

Corporation Counsel Lewis made two changes in his department, discharging M. W. Meagher and Edward J. Green, and reappointing W. D. Barge. Barge had been dismissed to make room for the first two, at the request of Mayor Dunne, but later the mayor told Col. Lewis to run his own office and as a result Mr. Lewis discharged the two men to whom the mayor had given places, and reappointed the man who had been let out.

CANNON IN CHICAGO FOR DAY.

Speaker of National House Declares He Will Not Be Candidate for President.

Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of the national house of representatives was in Chicago yesterday on his way to Washington. He sidestepped the endeavor to bring him forward as a candidate for president.

"I have no presidential bee," he said. "If I thought I had one buzzing in my head I would have a surgical operation performed to have it taken out."

Mr. Cannon predicted that there would be no tariff legislation at the coming session of congress, but said he believed some sort of railroad rate legislation would be enacted early in the session by the house and that it would be ratified later by the senate.

The precinct leaders of the Sixth ward republican organization met at noon for lunch downtown and made preliminary arrangements for the ward club fight to come off two weeks from tonight. The ticket to be supported by the organization includes John F. Holland for president, A. A. Rolfe for treasurer, and K. Wood for vice president. The Jamieson faction will support A. W. Draper for president of the ward club and Clifford Nathan for secretary.

Precinct nominations in the various wards will be made tonight. The precinct elections will be held Nov. 21 and the ward club elections Nov. 28.

VICTORY FOR HARLEM POLICE.

Captain and Patrolman Suspended by Village President Are Reinstated by Board of Trustees.

Police Captain Charles Schwass and Policeman George Haber, who were suspended from the Harlem force two weeks ago by Village President Martin W. Grosse, were reinstated last night by the village board, which also adopted, over the president's veto, a resolution giving both policemen full pay for the time they were suspended.

Trustee Blessman introduced a resolution, which was adopted, empowering the village attorney, Albert C. Ross, to begin legal proceedings to restrain the president from interfering further with the Harlem police department.

Capt. Schwass will be restored to his office as soon as he takes a new oath of office, but President Grosse manifests his intention to suspend the captain again.

The trustees voted to revoke the saloon licenses granted to Henry Zimmerman Jr., 226 North Circle avenue, whose place was raided by the Harlem police Oct. 27, and to Otto Schneider, 14 Washington boulevard.

Resolutions, ordering the creation of a prohibition district in Harlem, were referred to a committee. The territory to be exempt includes the site of the new amusement park to be opened in the village next year.

CELL ENDS FRANTIC CHASE

E. R. LOWRY FINDS "KIDNAPED" WIFE LEFT HIM VOLUNTARILY.

Ex-Bookmaker of Ottawa, Ill., Hurries to Chicago to Find Woman, Who "Was Lured Away for Vengeance by 'Get Rich Quick' Gang"—Trails Her Baggage to Tailoring Firm—Attacks Proprietor and Is Arrested—Spouse Visits Him in Jail.

E. R. Lowry, an ex-bookmaker, broke but worried, came to Chicago yesterday from Ottawa. He was looking for his wife. He told the police she had been kidnaped by a gang of "get rich quick" men, whom he had threatened to expose. He was not sure she had been murdered, but he was certain she was being held captive—perhaps in a cellar.

After an exciting day, Lowry was locked up by the police because he "beat up" Alexander Wolf, an inoffensive clothing merchant, in the Temple Court building. He thought the clothing man knew where his wife was.

Then his wife was discovered with friends on the south side. She said she had left her husband of her own accord.

"Didn't my husband get my letter?" asked Mrs. Lowry, after she had been discovered. "I wrote him sixteen pages, and I told him all about how I came to leave home."

The letter may have got to Ottawa all right, but not before Lowry started for Chicago, for he reached here at 2 o'clock in the morning. Bright and early he called at the Harrison street police station.

Tells Story to the Police.

"My wife has been kidnaped," he told Inspector Lavin. "She is being held a captive here by a gang of get rich quick swindlers. Perhaps she has been murdered."

Lowry said that he had been given desk room in Thomas Nertney's building in Ottawa. He had quit bookmaking and was organizing an American breeders' coöperative sales association. In cleaning out the desk he found a lot of literature about a Canadian land investment association, which, he says, had swindled Ottawa residents out of $200,000. This is an old story in Ottawa and has been in the courts, but Lowry says he learned in poking about the desk that a local insurance man was one of the chief promoters of the concern. I am convinced that my wife was lured here by false representations and that the gang is keeping her prisoner until they can bargain with me for my silence."

Pick Up Trail at Station.

Inspector Lavin told Detective Wooldridge about it, and with Lowry the detective went over to the Rock Island railroad station. They discovered Mrs. Lowry's baggage there. There was a trunk and a good sized hamper.

But Wooldridge interrogated the baggage official. The official wouldn't let him open the hamper, but mentioned that the baggage that morning had been delivered to 705 Temple Court building and then returned.

Wooldridge could hardly hold the man until a search warrant was procured. A. Wolf, the commission clothing man, has his office at 705 Temple Court building.

Chase Leads Back to Wolf's.

"You know where my wife is and I want her!" Lowry exclaimed. Wolf got behind a table, Lowry jumped over it, and struck the clothing man with his fist. Wolf swore out a warrant and Wooldridge arrested Lowry.

About an hour after Lowry's arrest a telephone call came from Mrs. Lowry for the trunks to be delivered at 41 Forty-second place.

"Something has happened to your husband," she was told.

"I knew it!" she said. "Tell me, is he locked up? Is he in the insane asylum?"

"I came here to try and get work," she said. "I had to make my own living. My husband can't support me."

BOATS TOSSED IN LAKE GALE; LIFE SAVERS RESCUE SIX MEN

Fishermen Are Caught in Storm, and Steamers, Unable to Make Headway, Are Towed Back to Port.

Four men were rescued from possible death and two more were saved from impending death yesterday in the storm which swept over the lake during the afternoon. Steamships and lumber barges were swept from their courses, and were unable to make headway against the storm. Many vessels were towed back to port by tugs after being compelled to call for assistance.

The two men reached just in the nick of time were Arthur Swanson, 701 Homan avenue, and John J. Smith, 3347 Lowe avenue. When the lifeboat reached the men they were exhausted.

A half hour later another man was rescued from the lake near the north pier. He refused to give his name. Shortly after a launch was seen in distress off Twenty-second street. When the life savers reached it they found Nelson St. Peter, 373 Illinois street, and two assistants working hard to keep the craft afloat.

At Waukegan the fishing fleet was caught in the gale and finally reached port with great difficulty. Two of the fleet, R. E. Burke and Elsie Nell, were unable to make the harbor and ran for Chicago, reaching here late in the evening.

A large sign at the corner of State and Adams streets was blown from a building by the wind, and struck Frank Biggio, 650 Walnut street, on the shoulder. He suffered a severe scalp wound. Other persons narrowly escaped injury.

WIFE SEES HUSBAND DROWN.

Joseph Rowley Ends His Life in the Calumet River Despite Woman's Efforts to Restrain Him.

Joseph Rowley, 36 years old, 2472 One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street, South Chicago, leaped into the Calumet river at One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street last night and was drowned. His suicide was witnessed by his wife, who followed him from the house in an effort to stop him. He was sunstruck last summer and since then his mind had been affected at times.

Minnie Rosenbloom, 19 years old, a cigaret maker, attempted suicide by drinking carbolic acid at her residence, 127 Hastings street. She was taken to the county hospital. The physicians said she probably woul not recover.

George Shagney, 42 years old, 248 Milwaukee avenue, who had been in ill health for some time, swallowed carbolic acid, but probably will recover. He was taken to the county hospital.

SUES WHITE CITY FOR $10,000.

Mrs. Barbara Thiel Alleges That Limb Was Fractured in "Bumping the Bumps."

The White City Construction company has been sued for $10,000 by Mrs. Barbara Thiel, 312 Sedgwick street, for injuries which she received last summer, she says, in "bumping the bumps." In her declaration, which was filed yesterday, Mrs. Thiel declared she went to the south side amusement resort, and, after reaching the top of the "bumps" building, her nerve failed her and she asked to be allowed to go down the stairs. An attendant is said to have told her that the only way down was to take the regular slide down the "bumps." After some argument Mrs. Thiel did this, and declares that as a result her left limb was fractured.

Chemicals Explode in Laboratory.

An explosion occurred in the chemical laboratory at Lake Forest college yesterday afternoon. Miss Caroline Ryan's face was badly cut by flying glass. Books and apparatus were burned before the blaze was extinguished by the students, previous to the arrival of the fire department. The explosion occurred while Miss Ryan, who is a Streator girl, was conducting an experiment.

Butterfield and Assistant Counsel Charles Quarles today filed a complaint in the United States Circuit court against the Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company, Pere Marquette railway company, Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway company, Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway company, St. Louis and San Francisco railroad company, Wisconsin Central railroad company, Chicago and Alton railroad company, Erie railroad company, and the Pabst Brewing company, charging violations of the Elkins law prohibiting rebates, discriminations, and concessions.

Violation of Law Alleged.

After reciting the corporate history of the various defendants the complaint proceeds:

"The said Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company is and since the 7th day of October, 1904, has been a Wisconsin corporation and was organized, among other things, for the purpose of acquiring and operating refrigerator cars for the carriage of freight; that it has acquired and has the ownership of and control of about 540 such refrigerator cars; that said company was organized, and its business has been and is being carried on with the intent of exacting, soliciting, and receiving from railroad companies by way of rebates, concessions, and discriminations a large proportion of the moneys received by the defendant railroad companies for the transportation of freight with the intent to evade and violate the acts of congress."

The complaint further charges that large sums of money under the name and guise of "commissions," from 10 to 12½ per cent of all the moneys paid the said defendant railroad companies as freight rates for transporting freight between competitive points, is paid to defendant company.

Charges Against Pabst.

The complaint avers that upon organization of the Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company Gustav G. Pabst and Frederick Pabst, as the controlling officers of the Pabst Brewing company, made a written contract with themselves whereby the Pabst Brewing company bound itself for a term of years to give to the Milwaukee Refrigerator company the exclusive control of the shipment of all the freight of the Pabst Brewing company.

The complaint also alleges that "All the rebates, concessions, and discriminations charged have been and are being exacted by force on threats of the Pabst and the Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company to divert the traffic unless rebates and concessions are granted.

The complaint asks the court to "order, adjudge, and decree that the combination and the rates, regulations, and practices are unlawful."

The court is asked to issue subpœnas in chancery to the different companies, and an effort will be made to induce Judge [illegible] to take up the matter summarily, ordering an answer to be filed within twenty days, as provided by the statute. In the event that this is done testimony will be started early next month.

Pabst Denies Collusion.

Officials of both transit and brewing companies enter emphatic denial to the charges. They deny there is collusion between the two concerns or that there is other than legitimate business contract whereby the transit company is to have the routing of the major portion of freight shipments of the Pabst company. The connection which the railroad companies is alleged to have with the case is that they were a party to the illegal agreements whereby rebates are said to have been paid.

"The deductions which have been made concerning this case are entirely wrong," said Col. Gustav Pabst, president of the Pabst Brewing company. "There is absolutely no connection between the Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company and the Pabst Brewing company. I am not now the owner of a dollar's worth of stock in the transit company, nor am I an officer in that concern."

Frederick Pabst, president of the Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company, is out of the city. Thomas F. Howe, secretary and general manager of the concern, denied absolutely that rebates were paid.

ARTHUR YOUNG MAY LOSE EYE.

Injury Caused by Pebble Thrown from Wheel of Auto at Lake Forest Proves Serious.

Arthur Young, an enthusiastic follower of the hounds, is in great danger of losing the sight of his right eye as the result of an accident which befell him while riding at Lake Forest Saturday afternoon.

A sharp pebble, thrown, it was said, by the wheel of a passing automobile, struck him on the eyeball. Inflammation set in and compelled him to take to bed. He is now staying at the house of N. P. Bigelow in Lake Forest. Yesterday Dr. J. Clarence Webster, Dr. George F. Fiske, and Dr. F. C. Hotz were called in, but declined to make any statement regarding the gravity of the case.

"It is too early yet to say what the outcome may be," said Dr. Fiske.

CONTRACT LET FOR NEW BRIDGE

Bascule to Replace the Old Structure at Dearborn Street—Drainage Bonds Sold.

The engineering committee of the drainage board yesterday recommended the award of the contract for the erection of a new bascule bridge at Dearborn street as follows: Substructure, Great Lakes Dredging and Dock company, $142,253; superstructure, the Jackson & Corbett Bridge and Iron company, $145,335. The new bridge will be completed within eighteen months.

The People's Gas Light and Coke company must pay $25,000 toward the cost because of the expense of building foundations over the company's tunnel there.

The finance committee voted to accept the bid of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company and N. W. Harris & Co. for $1,000,000 of 4 per cent bonds at a premium of $2,500.

Clothes Worn on the Studebaker Theater Stage Last Night.

Charles Ross, known as one of the best dressed men on the stage, arrived in Chicago yesterday. His trunks were left in the Grand Central Station, New York.

He inquired of the clerk at the Annex for the finest ready-to-wear garment shop in Chicago. He was directed here. Last night he appeared on the stage at "The Studebaker" wearing our clothes. Nobody would have ever known that he had lost his trunks. His garments, from the standpoint of a critic, were finer than those he wore in New York. Suits, ready-to-wear, $20 to $50.

BULLETIN.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 14, 8 a. m.—A dispatch to the Daily Standard from Lisbon says Mr. Charles Page Bryan, the American minister to Portugal, has communicated to the commander of the cruiser Minneapolis an urgent telegram received from Washington instructing him to interrupt his cruise and go immediately to Cronstadt to protect Americans there and to disembark marines if necessary.

[From the St. Petersburg Correspondent of the London Times.]

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 14, 1 a. m.—The Polish unions will lead to final and absolute rupture between the government and the Russian, and will seriously complicate the Russian situation. Already the union of unions has publicly condemned the action of the government, declaring that the Polish liberation movement is part and parcel with Russia's fight for freedom. The question remains whether the socialists will decide to aid a revolution in Poland and call another general strike in Russia for that purpose.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—Private and reliable reports from Warsaw today say that all the parties there are joining in the nationalist movement, following the tactics of Finland, for a complete strike. So long as their attitude of passive resistance continues the issue will be one of endurance.

The danger is that the Poles may provoke an active measure, which would mean nothing short of civil war.

It would be extremely difficult under the present circumstances to attempt to withdraw any troops from European Russia. The number of troops in Poland, however, is sufficient to cope with the situation. With the Polish "quadrilateral," Novogeorgievsk, Warsaw, and Evangorom on each side of the Vistula, and Brest on the Bug, there are over 600,000 troops.

Germany and Austria May Aid.

It is generally believed here that both Germany and Austria have given Russia assurances of support but of what nature cannot be learned.

Whether or not this is true both Germany and Austria naturally are interested, each of them having a Polish problem on their hands, in not raising the Polish hopes of a restoration of the ancient kingdom of Poland, and the present movement in Poland certainly will not receive the sympathy of the governments beyond the western border.

Empire's Integrity at Stake.

It is officially pointed out that it would be impossible to attempt to place in operation the liberties bestowed until Poland shows a disposition to accept them in good faith. While Poland continues to mutinously insist upon autonomy nothing can be done.

"If the government should allow the Poles to continue their present agitation," said a prominent official, "they would inevitably force the government to suppress the movement with the bayonet, which we desire to avoid. If we yielded to the Poles' demand for autonomy we would need to have to surrender the Baltic provinces, and then perhaps the Caucasus, and later all the alien races, which would so decentralize the power of the empire that its disintegration would be inevitable."

Witte Favors Drastic Action.

The city is full of rumors to the effect that the imperial ukase was issued over count de Witte's head at the instigation of the reactionaries, but it can be stated with positiveness that the action was taken upon the premier's advice. Count de Witte impressed on his majesty that to surrender autonomy to Poland would only be a prelude to an attempt to set up the ancient kingdom as an independent state, and would involve ultimately either the dismemberment of the empire or the necessity for bloody repression, such as marked the revolutions of 1831 and 1863. It was regarded as wise therefore, to let the Poles understand that the separate movement would not be tolerated, and that until they came to their senses further efforts to place in operation the reforms manifesto would be suspended.

American Report from Warsaw.

The American embassy has received a report from the American consul at Warsaw covering the events of the last ten days and beginning with the tragedy at the town hall Nov. 2. He thinks that half a dozen American policemen could have dealt with the crowd on that occasion, but a squadron of Cossacks with drawn sabers charged on the unarmed populace, cutting the people down without distinction of age or sex. The surgeons of the Holy Spirit hospital susbequently telegraphing to count de Witte said that among fifty-three persons treated at that hospital for wounds sixteen were children, several of them being under 8 years of age.

On Nov. 7 the national democratic party, which is organizing the movement for autonomy, held a large meeting and summoned all the parties to join in the struggle for a separate parliament and a separate constitution for Poland based un universal suffrage.

FINNISH TROOPS MUTINY.

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Nov. 13.—A revolt broke out yesterday in the garrison of Sveaborg. Hundreds of the men assert that they have been retained with the colors from two to three years beyond the legal period of service and also complain of their conditions of life.

The mutineers refused to obey orders, expelled the civilians from the precincts of the fortress, and in several of the barracks threw beds, chairs, and kitchen apparatus out of the windows. They then opened negotiations with Gen. Kaigarodoff and Gov. Nylandis, who promised to remedy their grievances and to give them easier terms of service. There was no bloodshed.

114 MORE DEAD AT ODESSA.

ODESSA, Nov. 13.—The death list of Jewish victims of the recent outbreak here has been increased by 114, who succumbed to injuries. As a token of deep mourning the Jewish clergy have decided not to celebrate any marriage for a month. Chief Rabbi Kreps, who has been unpopular, has resigned.

The dismissal of Prefect Neidhardt, to whom is attributed the responsibility for the recent outrages, was announced this evening and caused much rejoicing among the Jewish population. The prefect, it appears, will not receive another appointment. His successor, Mr. Gregorieff, is a conservative anti-Semite.

UPPER HOUSE OF DOUMA TO BE PART ELECTED.

Count De Witte's Cabinet Agrees to Make Another Concession to the People in the Way of Representative Government — Council of the Empire Remits $13,000,000 Land Rentals Due from Peasants—Soldiers' Pay Increased.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—The second session of count de Witte's cabinet was held this afternoon. One of the matters under consideration was the project for placing the council of the empire, the upper house of the national assembly, to a certain extent on an elective basis.

The project, as elaborated, provides for the representation of land owners, orthodox, nonconformist, and nonchristian clergy, and boerse committees. Ten representatives each are to be chosen for five years by owners of over 5,000 acres, the orthodox and the nonconformist clergy, and six by the boerse committees. The number to be chosen by the nonchristian clergy has not yet been decided.

Thus about one-quarter of the membership of the council of the empire, which hitherto has been entirely appointive, will be chosen on an elective basis.

Will Remit $13,000,000 Taxes.

The council of the empire this afternoon decided to remit a portion of the land payments due next year by the peasants in the provinces affected by the famine. The peasants, since their emancipation in 1861, have been paying installments on lands allotted to them. The council also decided to remit entirely the payments for 1906 due on land held by peasants killed during the war. The amount remitted totals $13,000,000.

More Pay for Soldiers.

In addition to increasing the pay of the rank and file of the army, the war department has decided to reduce the term of service by one year. The present pay of the infantry is 11 cents per month and the cavalry 14 cents per month.

The fears of the wholesale pillage and murder of the Jews and Intelligencia by the "Black Hundred" have not entirely disappeared, although the strictest precautions have been taken against probable outbreaks. Two students were beaten to death near the Obvorny canal last night, three house porters were murdered at their doors, and many domestic servants left their work, announcing to their mistresses that labor was no longer necessary, as now everybody was on an equality, having become "citizens" and would receive government pensions.

Demand Eight Hour Day.

As the next step in their program the social democrats have decided to attempt the enforcement of an eight hour day in all the factories of St. Petersburg. The workmen in a number of big factories have already resolved to work only eight hours for their present pay and to cease work entirely if the employers attempt to enforce the old scale.

Disquieting reports of the progress of the agrarian disorders were received tonight. The military authorities are rushing troops and machine guns into the affected areas.

Emperor Nicholas will resume his residence at Tsarkoe Selo Nov. 18.

EMPLOYES OF FRANCE TO QUIT.

Workmen Employed in Government Arsenals and Shipyards Demand Freedom of Speech.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—The union of the government employés of the arsenals and dockyards at Havre, Toulon, Brest, Bordeaux, and other naval headquarters has ordered a general strike, beginning tomorrow.

This threatens to seriously interrupt the naval construction program. Military forces are being concentrated to preserve order at the ports. The strikers claim that liberty of speech is denied them by the dismissal of workmen who criticise the naval administration.

The federation of government employés has issued an appeal to the employés of the post and telegraph department, the mint, military arsenals, tobacco and match, and other state industries to give their moral support to the naval strikers.

NORWAY IS SWEPT BY CHARLES

Denmark Prince Overwhelmingly Victorious—Big Monarchical Majorities in Republican Districts.

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Nov. 14, 2:30 a. m.—At 2 o'clock this morning the returns of the plebiscite were still incomplete, but no change in its main features is now possible. The results in 418 constituencies show 233,935 votes in favor of Prince Charles of Denmark as king of Norway and 62,739 against him. The republicans expected to poll about 33 per cent, but only obtained 21 per cent.

An interesting phase of the plebiscite is the strong monarchical majorities obtained in the republican leaders' constituencies.

It also is noticeable that the monarchists seem to control the districts surrounding Christiania and all the coast districts, while republican votes predominate in the interior and in the northern districts.

KENTUCKY HAILS BOOMERS

CHICAGO TRADE BOOSTERS WELCOMED IN FRANKFORT.

Representatives of Local Mercantile and Banking Interests Shown Over the Capital—Gov. Beckham Extends Freedom of State—Citizens Generally Meet Visitors Half Way and Seem to Appreciate Significance of Mission—Next Stop at Lexington.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The representatives of Chicago's mercantile and banking interests arrived here this morning and made their first stop on the southern itinerary. A delegation from the Business Men's club, headed by Mayor Darnell, escorted the visitors to a hotel, where a hearty Kentucky welcome was extended by Ell Brown, speaker of the house of representatives. Responses were made by Messrs. Barlow and Colbert of Chicago.

Mr. Barlow said the visitors came south to the belief that personal acquaintanceship, affiliation, and association would lead to the spirit of harmony and good will, so conducive to the successful extension of trade, commerce, and maufacturing. His statement that President Roosevelt had implanted in the heart of every man a desire to get in closer touch with his fellow men elicited enthusiastic applause.

Business Unites Varied Interests.

Speaking on behalf of Frankfort, the Rev. Hudson, pastor of the Christian church, said:

"I am persuaded that no one thing has contributed more in a practical way toward the brotherhood of man than the world of business. No two nations and no two sections of a country will engage in war so long as they have extensive commercial relations and a thorough understanding of each other's motives. So, gentlemen, your coming from Chicago to Frankfort, seeking to help us and yourselves, will bind the two cities in closer relationship."

The visiting delegation was then taken in a trolley car to inspect the site of the new capitol now being erected. The visitors then were taken to call on Gov. Beckham, who extended a formal welcome to the state. He said he felt an especial attachment for Chicago because members of his family reside there.

Would Have Prevented War.

He declared that he was impressed with the good results which would follow the visit through the better knowledge gained from personal acquaintanceship and that he believed that if the present transportation facilities and opportunities for social and commercial intercourse had existed before 1860, the war would not have occurred.

After luncheon the tourists entered upon a study of the local conditions in various lines of industries through personal calls on the respective business houses. Two hours were spent in this way. The party went to Lexington this evening.

HAZED STUDENT IS WORSE

VICTIM OF ATTACK AT KENYON COLLEGE NEAR COLLAPSE.

McGarvey, Who Recently Was Operated On, Believes Assailants Kicked Him While He Was Unconscious—Grand Jury's Inquiry Will Not Take Place for Two or Three Days—President Pierce Issues Statement on Pierson's Death.

Gambier, O., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—James E. McGarvey, the Bexley Theological seminary student found bound and gagged in his room Saturday night, is on the verge of collapse tonight, and fears are entertained that he may not recover. He suffered several convulsions today. A short time ago he underwent an operation for appendicitis and had not fully recovered when he was assaulted in his room. He complains of severe pains in the right side and believes he was kicked while unconscious.

McGavrey's mind is not yet clear and he is unable to tell anything of the assault which will give a clew to the police at work on the case.

Grand Jury Action Delayed.

Mount Vernon, O., Nov. 13.—The grand jury probably will not reach its investigation of the death of young Stuart Pierson for three or four days.

Pierce in Another Statement.

Columbus, O., Nov. 13.—President William E. Pierce of Kenyon college was in Columbus today conferring with Attorney T. P. Linn and the Rev. John Hewitt, both trustees of the institution, concerning the tragic death of Stuart Pierson, and accusations which have been made. In a signed statement issued by President Pierce he emphatically denies what he terms "Perversions of the truth which have got abroad," and "absolves the students from any charge of misdoing."

Dr. Pierce says he believes the coroner's finding in the Pierson case to be mistaken, and, after reciting the preparations for the initiation and reiterating his belief that the tragedy must have been an accident, he concludes:

"I should contradict in detail some of the falsehoods and perversions of the truth which have got abroad.

Students Are Not Tied.

"First, it is not the custom of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, nor of any other fraternity in Kenyon college, to tie its initiates to the railroad track, nor has there been an instance of the kind known. Barber, the Kenyon freshman who is quoted as having testified to such treatment, never made such a statement.

"Second, the members of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity did not make inquiry from the station agent about the train schedule for that night.

"Third, the bridge was not cleaned by the order of any group of students.

"Fourth, I am not, as alleged, a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity, or of any other.

"Fifth, there has been no attempt on the part of the college authorities to stifle investigation."

CANNOT TAX OUTSIDE GOODS.

Corporations in One State Need Not Pay Taxes on Cars Used in Other Commonwealths.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—The Supreme court of the United States today reversed the decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals in the case of the commonwealth of Kentucky vs. the Union Refrigerator Transit company, holding that the cars owned by the defendant and used in other states cannot be taxed in that state, even though it be a Kentucky corporation.

The Ohio anti-gambling statute was upheld in an opinion handed down today by Justice Peckham, in the case of William Marvin vs. Belle Trout. The case involved the constitutionality of the section authorising any person who loses money at gambling to bring suit for its recovery.

That a state statute of limitation cannot be used to protect a stockholder of a failed national bank against liability on his stock today was decided in an opinion delivered by Justice McKenna in the case of George C. Rankin, receiver of the Hutchinson National bank of Hutchinson, Kas., versus Edward E. Barton, a stockholder in the bank.

In this instance an effort was made to enforce the individual liability requirement of the national banking laws in 1900, seven years after the suspension of the bank.

"All the encores have been given. You can hear what I have to sing or you may have the curtain."

As this was received with hisses and cries of "Give us the curtain," the comedian stepped back and the curtain fell.

WORLD'S PITY FOR JEWS.

LONDON AND PARIS RAISE BIG SUMS FOR RELIEF FUND.

Premier Balfour Declares British Government Has Heard of Atrocities in Russia with Horror — Sir Harry Johnson Declares European Fleets Aught to Be Sent Into the Black Sea—Money Pouring Into New York from American Cities.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Including a further sum of $50,000 from Jacob H. Schiff, treasurer of the New York relief committee, the fund here for the relief of the Russian Jews amounts to $355,000.

Premier Balfour writes:

"The government has heard with pity and horror of the Jewish massacres, and already it has taken every step which seemed possible to mitigate the calamity."

Lord Rosebery, Joseph Chamberlain, Herbert Henry Asquith, and the archbishop of Canterbury and other prelates similarly expressed their indignation. Lord James of Hereford telegraphed:

"Russia stands arraigned before the whole world."

Sir Harry Johnston, addressing a Zionist meeting, said he thought that European fleets ought to be sent into the Black Sea.

United States to Raise $1,000,000.

New York, Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The fund for the relief of the Jewish sufferers from Russian massacres is growing by leaps and bounds, so great has been the interest demonstrated in every part of the United States. The national committee, of which Jacob H. Schiff is treasurer, now feels confident of being able to reach the $1,000,000 mark which has been set.

The fund has reached at least $200,000. Contributions continue to come in. Mr. Schiff today received word from St. Louis that $16,000 is on its way, from San Francisco that $10,000 had been sent, and that at least $50,000 could be expected from Philadelphia.

Word was received from the Rothschilds of London and Paris that the London fund, of which Baron Rothschild is treasurer, had reached $265,000, and the Paris fund $125,000.

Cash from Other Cities.

The following sums were received today from cities outside of New York:

Philadelphia	$25,000
San Francisco	10,000
Cleveland	5,000
Seattle	1,500
Peoria	2,350

DIVINITY STUDENT ASSAILS ETHICS OF TRACTION LINES.

Contends That He Has a Moral Right to Use a Transfer Which He Found in Street.

A new point in transfer ethics was raised yesterday when Robert Morris, a divinity student in Chicago university, was arraigned before Justice Callahan on a charge of offering on a Cottage Grove avenue car a transfer which he had found in the street.

Morris was arrested by one of the detectives of the City railway company, who saw him attempt to use the transfer. He admitted he had found the transfer in the street and that he knew it was illegal to use it, but he said he could not see the justice of the law.

He contended that every nickel spent by the patrons of the street car company purchased the maximum ride on the company's lines, and that if the original purchaser did not care to use all of that ride it could be no moral offense for another person to use what some one else had willfully thrown away.

Justice Callahan held that to ride on a transfer that had been found in the street was no less than robbery, inasmuch as the company was deprived of a nickel that otherwise would have been spent.

"Then you might as well say that I rob the storekeepers when I give away an overcoat which is only half worn out, because I save the recipient of the coat the necessity of buying a new one," rejoined Morris.

The student finally agreed to meet the justice again and thrash out the question thoroughly.

"He had me going some," was Justice Callahan's comment after Morris had left the room.

WOUNDED MAN IS A MYSTERY.

With Three Ribs Broken He Is Left Unconscious in Vestibule of the Augustana Hospital.

The Halsted street police are investigating the case of a man 40 years old who was taken to Augustana hospital after midnight this morning by two well dressed young men who placed him inside the vestibule of the hospital and hurried away.

The man was unconscious when he was found a short time later by one of the hospital attendants. He was examined by physicians who found three of his ribs were broken, and his head was bruised.

The man recovered consciousness half an hour later, but refused to tell his name or give any information as to how he was injured. Evidently he was not a victim of robbers, for he had $35 in his pocket, but he had no letters or anything else in his possession by which he could be identified.

Active work toward raising a $100,000 fund for the relief of victims of Russian mob violence was started in Chicago yesterday. At the close of the day Moses E. Calls for Day of Mourning.

The Daily Jewish Courier asked for a day of mourning for the massacred Jews. It said:

"The whole Jewish nation will mourn on Monday, Nov. 27. You, who read these lines, join with us on Nov. 27. Close your store, Mr. Storekeeper; close your factory, Mr. Manufacturer; put away your tools, Mr. Workingman, and away your pleasures, Mr. Pleasure Seeker. Let us come together and weep, bemoan the fate of our unfortunate murdered. This is all we can and should do for the dead. For the living we will, with the aid of God, act.

"A whole nation, the Jewish nation, weeps and mourns her dead."

Resolutions of Sympathy.

The Chicago city council last night adopted a resolution introduced by Ald. Hunter, as follows:

"Whereas, The terrible massacres in Russia have horrified the people of this city. It is the greatest crime committed by people of a civilized nation for centuries; therefore,

"Resolved, By the city council of the City of Chicago, that the maimed survivors, the widows and orphans, are entitled not only to the heartfelt sympathy of all lovers of mankind, but that we also bespeak for them financial aid."

A communication was received by the council from Chicago Typographical union No. 16 and ordered placed on file. The communication stated that at a meeting of the typographical union held Nov. 5 the following resolution had been adopted:

Resolved, That this meeting express sympathy with the people of Russia in their struggle for liberty.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the city council and that the city council be asked to express the sympathy of the working class in America with the working class of Russia.

Benefit Matinee Probable.

With the hope of raising $10,000 for the fund, plans were begun yesterday for a large benefit matinée to be held at the Auditorium about four weeks from now. Adolf Kraus said last evening that only partial arrangements have been made, but that the subcommittee, headed by Isaac Anderson Loeb, in charge of the matinée, is confident that nearly all of the prominent attractions in town will assist in it.

Ald. Foreman yesterday called upon Milward Adams, manager of the Auditorium theater, and conferred with him about a date. He was told that a matinée could be arranged for any time around the middle of December. The program will consist of an act from each of several plays if the committee's plans are successful.

Liberal Aid Given by Women.

At a meeting of the Chicago section of the Council of Jewish Women held during the afternoon in Sinai temple coffee and sandwiches were sold to the 700 club members in aid of the relief fund. The price asked for a cup of coffee and a sandwich was 10 cents, but the members were permitted to pay as large a premium as they pleased. The refreshments were served immediately after the adjournment of the meeting, and the club women thronged into the dining rooms and clamored for places at the tables. The members who had volunteered to serve as waitresses were besieged by those anxious to contribute to the cause. Coffee and sandwiches were seized and heavy coins and greenbacks were dropped on the trays.

The highest price paid for one cup of coffee was $5. Several of the members contributed $2 or $3. Others gave $1. After all the money had been collected Mrs. Isaac Block, treasurer of the fund, announced that $50 had been raised.

Appeal Is Circulated Widely.

Secretary Herbert J. Friedman reported that fifty subcommittees are at work soliciting subscriptions in as many trades and professions. He has issued 25,000 circulars bearing the appeal for aid made by Dr. Emil G. Hirsch at the Standard club Saturday afternoon.

HIGH MONEY RATE HELPS THE BANKS

Chicago Men Satisfied in Spite of the Situation in New York.

WEST HAS CASH ENOUGH.

St. Louis, St. Paul, and Omaha Report Sufficient Funds for All Needs.

Chicago bankers express considerable satisfaction over the money market, although in New York there may be apprehension by market interests. The high rates in the east have resulted in a great deal of western money finding its way to Wall street. A continuance of this situation will work to the disadvantage of western commercial borrowers. It has already resulted in rates of 5½ and 6 per cent. These quotations are as high usually as commercial interests except to pay in times such as these. A prolongation of 10 to 20 per cent call rates in New York would attract so much more money from Chicago and other western centers that business paper would meet with difficulty in being placed.

So far as stock market loans go they are not made in Chicago in sufficient volume to cut any considerable figure. And in the matter of accommodation for commercial interests there would be an abundance of it here should rates decline in New York, and thereby bring about a return of western funds to some institutions.

Reports were current in Chicago that the secretary of the treasury would deposit government money with banks in the interior, should he become convinced that the necessity of commercial borrowers warranted such a step. From New York there were reports that the secretary would place money in Wall street, Baltimore, Pittsburg, Chicago, and St. Louis. The amount indicated varied from $30,000,000 to $40,000,000.

New York Has a Squeeze.

New York, Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Wall street experienced today an old time squeeze in the money market. Call money loaned as high as 25 per cent, and commissions were paid for time loans which carried the rate for sixty day loans as high as 9 per cent. In both call and time rates these are the highest figures reached since the fall of 1902, when reckless speculation in the stock market taxed the money market to such an extent that commissions of as much as 2 per cent were paid for two months' loans in addition to the full 6 per cent interest.

When the rates had risen to 25 per cent the National City bank offered several million dollars at 6 per cent in $50,000 lots.

The high rates that prevailed most of the day caused heavy liquidation throughout the entire list. The drop in money to 6 per cent, however, brought immediate recovery all through the list.

St. Louis Is All Right.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—St. Louis bankers have been observing the sensational fluctuations in the eastern money market without the least concern. It would be difficult to find a banker in this city who is not thoroughly optimistic. Hardly any importance is attached to the high rates demanded in New York, as the feeling prevails that they have no connection whatever with solid business affairs.

St. Louis bankers report conditions in this city and throughout the southwest as substantial and flourishing, and are unanimous of the opinion that there is absolutely no reason why the treasury department should afford relief against the peculiar circumstances which exist in New York.

St. Paul Needs No Money.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Kenneth Clark, president of the Merchants' National bank, said tonight:

"I don't see any necessity for the treasury helping the money market. I don't believe in the treasury department always responding whenever New York banks and Wall street see fit to call for money. The condition of affairs here and elsewhere is all right, and there is no necessity whatever for government action. All money needed for legitimate transactions is, I think, sure to be forthcoming, here and elsewhere, without treasury aid."

W. A. Miller, cashier of the First National bank, expressed himself in a similar vein.

Nebraska in Good Shape.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Henry W. Yates, president of the Nebraska National, says:

"There is no stringency in the money market here. There is plenty of cash for moving of crops and financing of legitimate enterprises at regular rates of interest. We consider the excitement in New York and other eastern cities purely due to speculation."

Gurdon W. Wattles, vice president of the United States National bank, says:

"So far as our city and state banks are concerned they experience no stringency. Deposits in Nebraska banks aggregate $136,000,000. This year Nebraska will market $200,000,000 surplus products. There will be no money needed from outside sources for the removal of the crops or for any legitimate enterprises."

SHAW TO RESCUE OF MONEY MART.

which means an immediate and perhaps a panicky decline in prices almost along the whole list. On the other hand, the demand for money for purely speculative purposes will after a while certainly react upon legitimate business interests and commercial rates of money also will be increased, and perhaps to a dangerous degree.

When there is a heavy demand for money in New York there is a general and quite rapid movement from the interior to take advantage of the high prices. This denudes the cities away from the seaboard of their money supply, and the tendency is to increase rates there. Many secretaries of the treasury have thought it best to dump their money into the New York hopper, and are quite satisfied if they see as an immediate result a sharp decline in the interest rate on call loans there.

Will Help Interior Banks.

But, unless I have misinterpreted Secretary Shaw's remark to the New York bankers entirely, he will drop the greater part of the forthcoming government deposits "at the head of the creeks," and let the New York banks get the bulk of the benefit by the natural flow of money from the interior banks toward the metropolis. In this case, assuming the deposit of, say, $15,000,000, Secretary Shaw would send about $2,000,000 to New York, the same amount to Chicago, half as much to Boston, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco, St. Paul, and similar cities, $500,000 to the smaller financial centers, and so on down. According as the deposits may be increased about the same proportion would hold good, and the interior banks and business houses would be protected from the possibility of danger on account of the speculative movement in New York City.

But little dependence can be placed on the ordinary telegrams which invariably are received at the treasury department during a flurry of this kind. Some of them are unsigned. Some of them come from sources which notoriously are open to suspicion, while most of them indicate that they are from interested persons. Secretary Shaw has been urged to intervene, and equally urged to keep his hands off. There are bear telegrams and bull telegrams. Some insist he must come to the relief of the market at once to prevent a serious panic, while others are equaly sure the best thing he could do would be to do nothing, which would force a general liquidation all along the line, squeeze the water out everywhere, and leave the market in better shape for legitimate investors and the public generally.

General Business in Danger.

On the other hand, there are reputable and disinterested bankers and business men not only in New York but in Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, and elsewhere, who merely call attention to the fact that although the present movement is purely speculative, and though it has had as yet no disastrous effect on general business, still the high rate on call loans must before long increase interest charges on legitimate business operations, which would be a serious check to the present condition of undoubted commercial prosperity. It is this danger, if anything at all, which will induce the secretary of the treasury, I think, to increase government deposits in the national banks throughout the country.

Secretary Shaw already has shown that in financial emergencies he is willing to dispense with red tape and to defy some of the traditions of his own department. He accepted other than government bonds at one time for deposits, and if he believes the emergency to be sufficiently great he will let the banks have $20,000,000 or $30,000,000, even if it does pull down the actual cash balance below the $50,000,000 mark.

Cause of Present Flurry.

Most of the flurry in financial circles arises from the fact that last Saturday's bank return showed a deficit in the reserve of the associated banks. This will have to be made good, as a matter of course, but it has suggested an idea to some people at the treasury with whom I have talked, and possibly the notion has reached Secretary Shaw himself, that it might be a good idea to require the banks to build up their reserves during the summer time in anticipation of the inevitable drain in the autumn months, when money is needed to move the crops. That is to say, if the existing national bank act could be amended so as to require banks to carry a reserve of say 30 per cent instead of the existing 25 per cent, during the months of July and August, they would begin to build up for this figure early in the summer, and by crop moving time would have a surplus of 5 per cent, which could safely be drawn upon, allowing the reserve to drop to the statutory figure of 25 per cent after Sept. 1. It might even be possible to clothe the secretary of the treasury with authority to fix the bank reserve within a certain limit, but that of course is a matter which congress would want to consider a long while.

Women Plan Bazaar for Church.

The women of the Granville Avenue Methodist Episcopal church are planning to give a bazaar in the church on Nov. 25. The entertainment will be held in the chapel, Evanston and Granville avenues, and will be given under the auspices of the Women's Aid society. The articles to be sold will be supplied by friends of the church and by the congregation.

ADMIRAL PRINCE HORSE SHOW LION

Louis of Battenberg Cheered by Throngs as He Pushed His Way in Promenade.

CARUSO OUTGROWS HOTEL.

Tenor's Domestic Retinue Becomes So Large He Is Forced to Take House.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE, New York, Nov. 13.

Prince Louis Guest of Honor at Horse Show.

Admiral Prince Louis and many more quarter deck lords under the union jack or the stars and stripes attended the launching of the twenty-first annual horse show tonight. British and American flags hung from the midarch of Madison square garden and the special boxes for the officers of the combined fleets were draped also in dual flags.

A record breaking crowd for a first night thronged the garden and judging from the impatient glances cast at the boxes reserved for Prince Louis and his party it was easy to see the royal visitor and not the horses was the attraction. It was half past 9 when the prince arrived from the Coney Island jollification.

As the prince entered the band struck up the national anthem, the crowd rose to its feet, and the cheers and hand clapping drowned the dull thud of the hoofs on the tanbark.

After the judging of roadsters was finished the prince and those nearest him in the boxes left their seats and made a circuit of the promenade. The prince walked bareheaded, pushing his way through the crowd in a most democratic way and returning all salutes. He stopped a moment at J. E. Widener's box to speak to one of his officers.

His progress around the garden became a veritable triumph, and the cheers and hand clapping grew until the band caught the infection and played madly all the English, Scotch, and Irish airs the members knew. The prince returned to his box to take leave of the party, and then was escorted to the Strollers' club.

"I never saw anything like it in my life," he said. "There is nothing like it in Europe. It was perfectly beautiful. I was delighted. I was so pleased with the show that I shall go again if I have the opportunity."

Miss Alice Roosevelt also was an attendant. The cavalier plumes that nodded on her hat as she talked were a marked feature of the afternoon's costumes, for every second woman wore a frond of feathers equal in fluffiness and of all sorts of colors. Of quite as much distinction as a notable visitor was Waldorf Astor, for although his comings and goings were quiet, every one in society seemed curious to see him.

There was nothing sensational in today's judging. Eben D. Jordan won the blue ribbon in two classes, one with ponies really owned by James Hobart Moore, a Chicagoan, but in the class for tandems his renowned Hildred and Chestnut Pole were only fourth. Boston was beaten out for the blue ribbon by J. W. Harriman of New York, while Brooklyn men, Jay F. Carlisle and Herbert L. Pratt, were second and third.

Harry A. Leonard, the young Wall street clerk who stole $350,000 worth of securities from the City National bank recently, was today sentenced to thirteen or fourteen months' imprisonment in Elmira reformatory.

Caruso's Large Retinue Makes Hotel Impossible.

Signor Caruso, who moved from the Hotel York with his domestic retinue today, is settled in a house on West Fifty-seventh street for the winter months. In the same block are Cornelius Vanderbilt Sr., Whitney, and other rich families. It was Signor Caruso's domestic equipment that made it necessary for him to depart from the hotel.

In spite of the chef's effort to cook the signor's macaroni to his taste the tenor was not satisfied.

So a cook from the Palazzo Caruso in Florence came with his master. So did two maids and the rest of the household. The valet joined the party along with the manager, who had come over in advance of the tenor. This made a retinue of six, including an attendant in whom Signor Caruso takes the liveliest interest—a tailor.

The steamship Graf Waldersee, which went aground on Saturday, was floated this morning.

Another Lawsuit Because of Power Bubble.

Suit for $66,700 was brought against Joseph Leiter, Joseph H. Hoadley, president of the International Power company, and Cyrus F. Judson today by Willard H. Jones and Alexander J. Houston, stock brokers. The plaintiffs claim that they lost the amount sued for in operations in the International Power company's stock in 1902, when this stock fell nearly $100 a share in one day.

Recently a suit against the same defendants for $65,800 with interest was won by William B. Franklin and George I. Scott, who claimed that their losses were suffered during the same drop in this stock.

Attachments of $18,500 Against Joseph Leiter.

Deputy Sheriff McCourt has received two attachments, aggregating $18,500, against Joseph Leiter of Chicago in favor of Francis A. Huck. One on a note of $10,000, made by Mr. Leiter at Chicago on Nov. 14, 1904, to the order of the executors and trustees of the estate of L. Z. Leiter. The sheriff served this attachment on Edward Thomas, Orlando F. Thomas, and Edwin M. Post, against whom Leiter obtained a judgment for $7,174 on Dec. 10 last. The other attachment was on a demand note for $8,500, payment of which was demanded and refused.

May Be Victim of Cold Bath.

Walker, Ia., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—John Sanders, a painter who has been employed here, has disappeared, and no trace of him can be found by his friends. Sanders was found of cold plunge baths, and it is believed that he was drowned while taking a cold dip in Wapsipicon river.

ROOSEVELT GIVES JOLTS AND JARS.

prosecutions which have been conducted by the department of justice, particularly the beef trust cases. The president describes what has been done to punish the men who took part in this combination. Railroad prosecutions which have been begun in St. Louis and Milwaukee and which involve a number of roads are also referred to in connection with the activity of the department of justice in enforcing the existing statutes.

Faith in Canal Project.

PANAMA CANAL—The president expresses confidence in Chairman Shonts and staff now building the canal, and describes the work which has been done up to date, accounting for the expenditure of $10,000,000 placed at his disposal when the project was undertaken. The president wants more money and will urge congress to authorize it. He will ask that the bonds which congress authorized the secretary of the treasury to issue may be used by national banks as a basis for circulation which shall be subject to a tax of one quarter of one per cent instead of one half of one per cent. This will place these securities upon the same basis as the 2 per cent bonds of 1898. The president does not want any legislation which is calculated to restrict the powers of the executive in connection with the construction of the canal. This feature of his message is not entirely completed. Secretary Taft now is on his way back from the isthmus. The board of consulting engineers has not submitted its recommendation as to the type of canal to be built, and the Panama Canal commission has not, consequently, prepared its views upon the recommendation of the consulting board. At present President Roosevelt does not contemplate a reduction in the membership of the commission, which he considered last spring.

Would Admit Educated Chinese.

IMMIGRATION—The president wants laws which will prevent the United States from serving as a dumping ground for Europe. At the same time he wants fair dealing with all nations, and has devoted considerable space to the question of the amendment of the Chinese exclusion law. The president favors continued exclusion of the laboring classes of the Chinese. He opposes the exclusion of the intelligent classes. He wants the merchant, the banker, artist, student, and such classes of Chinamen to have a right to enter the United States under exactly the same terms and conditions as if they were born in Europe or any place else. He wants them relieved from unnecessary and harsh examination, and particularly from any measures savoring of degradation. He is much in earnest in this connection, and has called attention to the boycott inaugurated against American goods in China as the beginning of what may develop into a serious situation, involving all American interests in the empire.

Gratified Over Peace.

RUSSO-JAPANESE PEACE—"The white world is again at peace," the president says, and he refers to the happy result of the negotiations which occurred at Portsmouth between Russia and Japan. There is a modest reference to the part the United States played in bringing the belligerents together and in aiding them to reach an agreement. The president regards the internal situation in Russia as deplorable and is considering a reference to the unfortunate situation of the Jews, but he sees in the new era which has been inaugurated promise of the improvement of all classes and the removal of the serious restrictions under which the Jews have labored.

Urges Domingo Action.

SANTO DOMINGO—The president describes at length the reasons for his action putting into operation the modus vivendi under which the United States is collecting the customs of Santo Domingo without sanction of congress. He has told of the satisfactory results which flowed from the modus vivendi, including the peaceful administration of the island, and of depositing a large sum of money in New York with which to discharge the foreign debt of the Dominican government. He recommends urgently the ratification of the treaty pending before the senate by which the United States is authorized to collect the customs.

Reform in Consular Service.

CONSULAR SERVICE—The president tells of the reforms he has ordered in the consular service and recommends that congress enact legislation in order that this service may be placed upon a sound business footing, which will enable it to give satisfactory and adequate results for its cost.

Need Merchant Marine.

MERCHANT MARINE—The president earnestly commends the encouragement of the merchant marine by appropriate legislation.

Favors National Quarantine.

NATIONAL QUARANTINE LAW.—The president believes it is important that congress should enact legislation for a national quarantine instead of the haphazard quarantines of the several states, which lead to disputes between the states and create embarrassing problems for the states and the government.

Abuses in Naturalization.

CITIZENSHIP AND NATURALIZATION—The president has had a commission make a careful investigation of this subject. He reports its findings, showing the terrible abuses it has found, and recommends appropriate legislation for their cure.

Condemnation of Graft.

EXTRAVAGANCE—The gross extravagance and even graft which have been found to flourish are subjects for especial condemnation. Secretary Hitchcock's course in bringing to justice the influential men who were guilty of land frauds is warmly approved. The president finds considerable saving can be made in the administration of the government, and refers to the necessity of making appropriations in such manner as will enable purchases of government supplies in large lots rather than by each department as in the past.

Pride in Growth of Navy.

NAVY—The president is gratified at the substantial increases which have been made in the navy, and believes this work should not stop. He refers to the lessons of the Russo-Japanese war as vindicating the battleship and concurs in the recommendation of the general board of the navy that three new battleships be authorized.

Progress in Philippines.

PHILIPPINES—The president is satisfied that real progress is being made in the Philippines. He regards the government as more efficient and more economical, and Filipinos are replacing Americans in official positions. He recommends strongly legislation for lower tariff rates on Filipino exports to the United States.

WHOSE SAY-SO IS BEST?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists one has to take the maker's say-so alone and exclusively as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their owners' and makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines. Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. Jno. King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow and scores of others equally eminent.

The writings of these have been for the various medical journals and for publication in standard medical books for professional reading and instruction, and hence are the more valuable as they relate to Dr. Pierce's medicines, since the writers did not know that they were endorsing and recommending articles that enter into the composition of these medicines and had no personal interest whatever therein. Hence, their great value as endosements.

A brief synopsis, of a small part only, of these extensive writings, which apply to the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the world-famed remedy for weak stomach, or dyspepsia, torpid or congested liver, biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments—has been compiled for publication in book form. These extracts also treat of the several ingredients entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, "rundown," debilitated, nervous women, who find in it a priceless boon.

Send your name and address by postal card or letter, with request for this little book, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will be mailed free to your address. From it you will learn why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrh of the nasal passages, even though of years' standing. It is a most potent constitutional remedy for this terribly common and generally unsuccessfully treated malady. The cure will be facilitated if Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy be employed to cleanse out the nasal passages at the same time that the "Discovery" is employed for the constitutional treatment.

The "Discovery" is equally efficient in the cure of catarrh of the stomach and bowels, and in cases of ulceration of these organs. Read what Doctors King, Scudder, Grover Coe, and others say of the curative properties of Golden Seal root and of Stone root in cases of the above diseases. Both these roots are important ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery." From the writings of these same authors you will learn, why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures chronic, or lingering ailments of the throat and bronchia attended with hoarseness, cough, soreness and kindred symptoms. Several of the ingredients in the "Golden Medical Discovery" are highly recommended for their specific, curative effects in laryngitis, or "Speakers' sore throat," as well as in incipient consumption and obstinate, lingering coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated, are apt to end in consumption.

From the same little book you may learn why Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, anti-version and retro-version and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, and why a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women, readily yield to its marvelous curative potency. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and cheerfully takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

That every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has the endorsement of the leading medical writers of the age amply attests its harmless character as well as its sterling curative value. Send your address for the little book and read what some of the most eminent medical men of this century say of the curative properties contained in the several ingredients which go to make up Dr. Pierce's leading medicines. No other medicines are backed up by such marvelous, disinterested, professional endorsements. This one fact is worth more and should have more weight in determining whether these non-secret medicines, or some secret compounds without professional endorsement and with only the makers' praise to recommend them are best and most likely to effect important cures.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's medicines is the frank, confiding, open statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities. The little free book mentioned in the preceding column will tell you all about the properties and uses of these most valuable medicinal roots. Send for it NOW.

Your druggists sells the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Dr. Pierce's 1000-page illustrated book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For 31 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. It was formerly sold for $1.50 per copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

OFFICIAL VOTE CANVASS CONTINUES TO REVEAL GAINS BY REPUBLICANS.

The election commissioners yesterday completed the official canvass of votes cast in the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, and Tenth wards for the judiciary and sanitary district tickets and for the little ballot propositions. ORDERS N. Y. LIFE TO GET HAMILTON

Armstrong Committee Demands Immediate Return of the Lobbyist.

MUST EXPLAIN BIG LOAN.

Peremptorily Commands That McCall Furnish an Accounting for $235,000.

New York, Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Charles E. Hughes, counsel to the Armstrong legislative insurance committee, went after the executive management and the trustees of the New York Life hard today because of the failure of "Judge" Andrew Hamilton, the company's supervisor of legislation, to return from Europe and appear before the committee.

Mr. Hughes compelled President John A. McCall to admit not only that neither he nor the trustees of the New York Life had requested Hamilton to return but also that the board had not asked for an accounting of the $235,000 which was paid to the attorney a year or two ago.

Nothing but the "judge's" personal receipt has been received by the company in the way of a voucher for this amount. President McCall stated today, however, that he had guaranteed to make this amount good to the company if it was not returned by Dec. 31 of the present year.

Reach Limit of Patience.

The Armstrong committee feels keenly the failure of both Hamilton and Fields, the latter's legislative agent, to appear as witnesses, and it was said that its members believe the time has come for the trustees of these companies to act or else shoulder the responsibility of keeping these two important witnesses out of their jurisdiction.

It has been the plea of many of these respectable trustees that they knew nothing of the practices and methods that have prevailed under executive direction, but the committee believes now, it was said, that it is time for them to lend a helping hand to the investigation by calling for the appearance, if possible, of both Hamilton and Fields.

It was toward the close of the afternoon session that President McCall was summoned to the stand. He had no idea what the committee wanted him for. Mr. Hughes at once pounce.

?—Hughes to McCall.

"Mr. McCall," said he, "I have called you to ask whether you have any knowledge or information of the whereabouts of Andrew Hamilton?"

President McCall replied that he had lately talked with Judge Hamilton's daughter about him, and that he understood the judge was in Paris or Nauheim. After getting the impression that neither President McCall nor the board of trustees had taken any steps to procure his return, or any explanation of what he had done with the company's moneys, Mr. Hughes asked:

"Is it the policy of your company to have Mr. Hamilton remain abroad until the conclusion of this investigation?"

"On the other hand," replied Mr. McCall, "I should very much like to see him here."

Mr. McCall admitted that Mr. Hamilton had not been discharged; that he was still under retainer.

"Why," asked Mr. Hughes, "do you not instruct him to return?"

Promises to Do His "Best."

"Well," replied the witness, "I went to see his daughter on her arrival from Europe, and she told me that her father was in extremely sick man, and I was asking Mr. Nauheim, and I did not feel from what she said in relation to her father's condition that I could ask her, nor did I feel myself that I could ask him to return."

Mr. McCall admitted further that not one of the New York Life's trustees had taken it upon himself to insist that there be an accounting by Hamilton of the hundreds of thousands of dollars paid to him in addition to the $235,000, and for which the company has merely his receipts.

"The committee," said Mr. Hughes, "is desirous of having an accounting of those moneys and to know exactly what the moneys have been used for. Will you take steps to have such an accounting?"

"I shall do my best," was President McCall's reply.

"Will you instruct 'Judge' Hamilton to return to this country if he is physically able to do so?" asked counsel for the committee.

"If that is the wish of the committee, I will," said Mr. McCall.

"Forthwith?" inquired Mr. Hughes.

"Yes," said President McCall. Later, however, Mr. McCall said he wanted the committee to understand that while he would do all he could he was not able to "control" "Judge" Hamilton.

Demands an Accounting.

Mr. McCall in referring to the Hamilton matter called the committee's attention to the fact that the New York Life's board of trustees on Oct. 16 of the present year adopted a resolution in regard to payments for legislative supervision by the company in the future.

Mr. Hughes said that the preamble expressed the belief that the "methods employed in opposing legislation and kindred work shall be so open and public as to put them above criticism," and asked significantly if it was Mr. McCall's understanding that this resolution is retroactive in its operation. Mr. McCall said it was.

"Well," said Mr. Hughes, "nothing was said by the company or in the board as to the importance of accounting for the moneys already given to Mr. Hamilton, and that is the particular point to which I desire to call your attention, and through you the attention of your board."

Metropolitan's Corner on Loans.

Next to President McCall, John R. Hegeman, head of the Metropolitan Life, was the chief witness at today's hearing. Further disclosures were made in regard to the business relations between the banking firms of Vermilye & Co. and William A. Read & Co., and the Metropolitan Life.

It was shown that of the $93,000,000 of securities bought by the Metropolitan in the last ten years $87,000,000 were from these two concerns, and that in the same period $24,000,000 out of the $26,000,000 of securities sold by the company were disposed of to or through them. Mr. Read was the controlling factor in each of the firms, having left Vermilye & Co. and started up on his own account early in the present year.

It was shown further that the amounts which John R. Hegeman has received from Vermilye & Co. since 1902 as "interest rebates" on a personal "speculative" account amount to almost $70,000, and that concessions had been made to him in regard to the interest rates charged because of the volume of business which the firm got from the life insurance company.

Paid $16,000 Conscience Money.

Some of the payments made by the firm was entered in Vermilye & Co.'s books, and there were other roundabout practices which made the account a subject of particular interest to the investigators.

The fact also was brought out that President Hegeman, after the life insurance scandal broke, covered back to the Metropolitan $16,000 which he had made in participations in syndicates in which the company was interested.

President Hegeman at the opening of the inquiry submitted a statement showing the payment which had been made to him by Vermilye & Co. as interest rebates. These payments were made quarterly since Sept. 30, 1902, and amount to $49,584.74. There was in addition one payment of $2,261.38 by William A. Read & Co., representing the rebate on Mr. Hegeman's accounts after it was transferred in March of the present year from Vermilye & Co. to the Reid establishment.

The interest rate charged by Vermilye & Co. on this Hegeman account was a flat 4½ per cent. The checks received by Hegeman showed that the charge was rebated down to 3½ per cent, which was the rate that William A. Read paid for his loans from the Metropolitan Life.

Admits Covering His Tracks.

William A. Read, the head of the firm bearing his name, testified that these payments to Hegeman were first made by the firm of Vermilye & Co. to its individual members, who in turn drew their checks, payable to the Metropolitan president. Mr. Read stated also that this was done so that the firm's clerks would not detect the discrimination.

"This was, of course, a special favor to Mr. Hegeman?" said Mr. Hughes.

"I should say that it was," replied Mr. Read.

Mr. Read admitted that it was the practice of the Metropolitan to sell all of its collateral loans to Vermilye & Co. on the last day of each year and buy them back at the beginning of the new year after the annual statement had been prepared. This was done so that the company wouldn't be pestered with applications for call loans, as it didn't care to do that sort of business.

Testifying in regard to the $36,000 of syndicate profits which he covered back to the Metropolitan after the life insurance scandal broke, President Hegeman said that the amount represented what might have been claimed that he had made out of the syndicate sales to the Metropolitan.

Company Gets Benefit of Doubt.

Mr. Hegeman said that he called his friends and advisers together shortly after the trouble started in the Equitable. None of them could see any wrong in his syndicate participation, but because one of them had some doubt as to their propriety, he decided to give the Metropolitan the benefit of the doubt and turned the money back.

Mr. Hughes called President Hegeman's attention to the answer which he had made to inquiries by outside insurance commissioners after he had covered the money back into the treasury. Here is the answer, which Mr. Hughes called a work of art:

"Neither from any past or present purchases or sales of any securities by the company has any officer received any benefit. The company has received every such benefit and all of it."

It was also brought out that Silas B. Dutcher, a member of the Metropolitan finance committee, is the Dutcher interested in the firm of Dutcher & Edmister, which writes all the fire insurance on the Mercantile's mortgaged property. It was shown that the Metropolitan, in addition to the moneys paid to Andrew Hamilton, has spent in the last eleven years for legislative purposes nearly $90,000. More than $40,000 was spent in one year in Massachusetts.

Fields Had Batch of Directions.

There has come into the possession of the committee a batch of letters written by Thomas D. Jordan, former controller of the Equitable, to A. C. Fields, the Mutual legislative agent, instructing Fields as to what measures he should oppose and what ones he should favor at Albany. Two or three of the bills referred to by Mr. Jordan had to do with matters in Suffolk, L. I. James Hazen Hyde had a country place in that county.

It was reported today that Gen. Louis Fitzgerald did not attend the funeral of his son on Friday. The committee's subpoena servers have been looking for Fitzgerald for several weeks, but whether they watched his house since the death of his son could not be ascertained.

It is expected that James Hazen Hyde will be called either tomorrow or next day.

Dakota Policy Holders Organize.

Watertown, S. D., Nov. 13.—Insurance policy holders have organized here to secure proxies in favor of Gov. Johnson of Minnesota. Strong resolutions were adopted denouncing the methods of the New York Life and the Mutual Life. Circulars will be sent throughout the state urging similar action.

Favor Lawson's Move.

Logansport, Ind., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The policy holders in the Equitable and New York Life Insurance companies, at the conclusion of a citizens' meeting tonight, decided to call a mass meeting of policy holders of the two companies in a few days, at which action will be taken relative to sending 500 proxies to Thomas W. Lawson to be used in his fight against the heads of these two companies. All present were in favor of the move taken by Lawson, and want the companies placed on a mutualization basis.

CABLE BREAKS; CARS DELAYED.

Service in North Clark Street Tied Up Nearly Half an Hour in the Evening.

General Manager Roach of the Union Traction company, who believes the cable should be superseded by electric cars, gave another object lesson last night. It was unintentional.

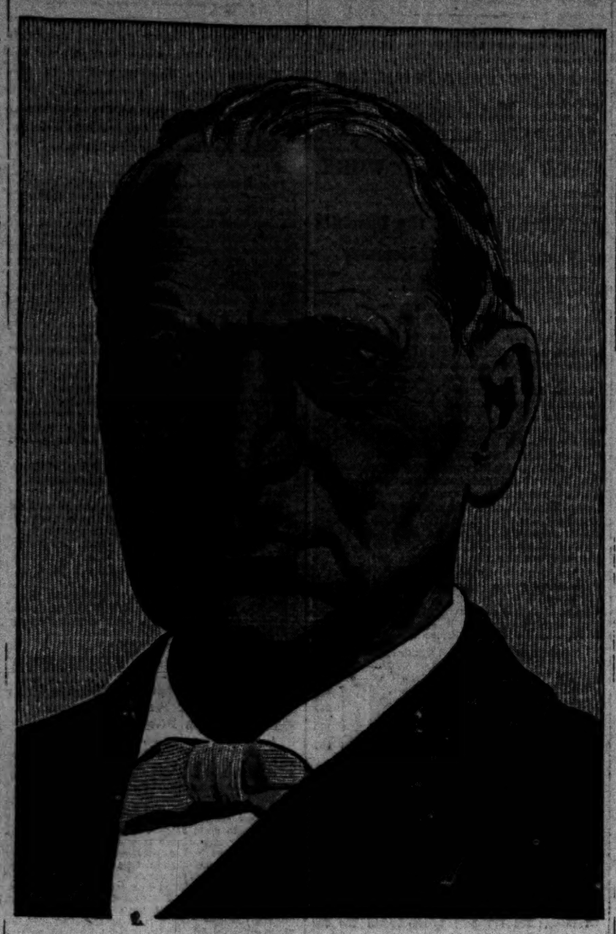

For twenty-three minutes by the head cable fixer's watch the Clark street line was made inoperative by a broken cable.

The break occurred on what is technically known as the "middle rope," between Indiana and Elm streets. A gripman held to the rope too long with his grip and one of the seven strands got kinks in it for 1,000 feet. The cars that happened to be in the stranded section were drawn out of it by horses and the Clark street cars were run over the Wells street line until the break was repaired. The accident occurred at 7 o'clock.

Methodist Bishop Dies Suddenly.

BISHOP STEPHEN M. MERRILL.

DEATH OF BISHOP SHOCK TO CHURCH

Stephen M. Merrill, Who Expired Suddenly Sunday, to Be Buried Friday.

MINISTER FOR 59 YEARS.

Elected to Presiding Board of Methodists in 1872, Serving Actively to 1904.

Funeral services for Bishop Stephen M. Merrill, who died of paralysis of the heart late Sunday night at Keyport, N. J., will be held in Grace Methodist Episcopal church, La Salle avenue and Locust street, at 10 o'clock next Friday morning. Dignitaries of the church from all over the country are expected to be present.

News of the bishop's death came as a shock yesterday to the city, where he had labored for the last twenty-eight years. Although he was 80 years old, and had retired from active duty, his health, according to his friends, was as robust as usual when he left Chicago with Bishop McDowell on Thursday to attend a general missionary conference in New York.

He presided at the sessions on Saturday, and showed no indications of weakness beyond the remark that he found it "more difficult than usual to keep track of parliamentary business." Sunday morning he preached at the Fleet Street church in Brooklyn at the request of the Rev. E. G. Richardson, the pastor.

Complains of Asthmatic Trouble.

At the close of the sermon, which he delivered with his usual clearness and vigor, he complained of a slight asthmatic trouble. He was urged to rest during the afternoon, and went out to Keyport to spend the rest of the day at the residence of Mrs. Josephine A. Brown, an old family friend. In the evening he was taken suddenly ill, and died at 11:10 o'clock, despite the efforts of three physicians.

This morning the missionary conference will hold special memorial services for the dead bishop, and tonight the body will be taken westward, accompanied by Bishop W. F. McDowell, D. D. Thompson, the Rev. H. G. Jackson, and E. R. Graham.

The services next Friday will be conducted by Bishop McDowell on behalf of the board of bishops and the Rev. C. ... Little, president of the Garrett Biblical institute.

The honorary pallbearers will be the Rev. H. G. Jackson, the Rev. W. H. Burns, the Rev. C. E. Mandeville, the Rev. William Craven, the Rev. M. S. Terry, the Rev. H. F. Fisk, and all local and visiting presiding elders.

The active pallbearers will be the Rev. A. D. Traveller, the Rev. W. A. Phillips, the Rev. John N. Hall, the Rev. E. H. Crawford, the Rev. P. H. Swift, and the Rev. E. C. Arnold.

Mrs. Merrill, who numbers almost as many years as the late bishop, was informed of his death during the day, and is said to have become seriously ill. She has two sons, Charles and Edward Merrill.

Able Presiding Officer.

Bishop Merrill was a keen student of church procedure and early won the title of the "John Marshall of Methodism." He had a legal mind and took considerable delight in the controversies of the general conferences, where he was regarded as the ablest presiding officer on the board of bishops.

He was born in 1825 at Mount Pleasant, O., of poor parents. His father was Joshua Merrill of New Hampshire, a descendant of a minute man in the revolutionary war. His mother, Rhoda Croseon, claimed direct descent from John Wesley. Both parents were devout Methodists. At 17 their son joined the church and at the age of 20 he was admitted to the conference.

Then followed eleven years of strenuous circuit riding and eight years on station, most of which was spent in Kentucky, where Merrill's intense abolitionist convictions brought him into open conflict with the church authorities and a large faction of the people.

Bishop for Thirty-two Years.

For four years he was editor of the Western Christian Advocate, and in 1872 was elected bishop, taking up his residence in Chicago five years later. At the general conference in May, 1904, he resigned on account of his age after thirty-two years of service as a bishop and fifty-nine years as a minister. He received the degree of M. A. from Indiana Asbury (De Pauw), the degree of D. D. from Ohio Wesleyan and Mount Union, and the degree of LL. D. from Iowa Wesleyan, Ohio Wesleyan, and Northwestern universities. His episcopal tours included visits to Mexico in 1878, to Europe and India in 1880, and to China and Japan in 1882. He wrote numerous works on theology and a manual on church law.

8 MORE INDICTED IN N. Y.

GRAND JURY NOW HAS EIGHTEEN TRUE BILLS READY.

Still Grinding Out Formal Charges of Fraud Anent Recent Election in the Metropolis—Some Big Tammany Leaders May Be Caught Through Squealing of Three Repeaters—McClellan's Lawyers Will Depend on Past Decisions of Courts.

New York, Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Eight indictments in the election cases were filed by the grand jury today. More probably will be ready tomorrow. It is understood that the inquisitors so far have acted in eighteen charges for which true bills already are in the court's hands or are prepared. This includes the ten drawn last Friday.

Seven of the eight are for illegal voting, attempted or achieved. One is said to be for assault, in the case of Ald. John J. Haggerty of Coroner Oakley's assembly district, who was arrested last week on the complaint of Barney Wayneck.

It is promised that before the week is over a couple of Tammany election district captains will be indicted. Attorney General Mayer attended the grand jury session this morning, and had a long talk with John Krup, to be tried for voting falsely in the Eighteenth assembly district. It was learned that three men have "squealed." One of them is Krup.

Things Doing in Murphy District.

He has told certain things that happened in Charles F. Murphy's district on election day, but in no way implicating Murphy. Another man has told a story against a Tammany district captain. It concerns a gang of repeaters, and the investigators hope to nab him.

One witness told of having voted six times. He also told who got him to vote, but the corroboration is said to be weak.

Some of the others indicted today were John Farra of 265 West Twenty-third street, Thomas O'Grady, on two charges; John L. Foley, Thomas B. Brennan, and Thomas Halle.

Rely on Existing Decisions.

At a meeting held tonight at the office of former Judge Alton B. Parker, at which were present twelve attorneys, all of whom have been retained to represent Mayor McClellan tomorrow, when the board of county canvassers will meet, it was decided to rely entirely on the existing election decisions and the law as it is recorded in the statutes.

Mayor McClellan filed his statement late today of his election expenses, as required by law from all candidates.

"I did not spend any money either directly or indirectly," he certifies.

The police say they have proof that Collegro Lucicero fired three shots at Raia. They are seeking Michael Hermothia, Lorenzo Fiorenzi, and Lorenzo Lucicero.

Angelo D'Augustino, who is in custody on suspicion of having poisoned his wife, Felicia, attended her funeral yesterday in St. John's Roman Catholic church, Eighteenth and Clark streets. ANDREWS LAUDS GRIDIRON

EDUCATOR SAYS GAME IS STRENUOUS, BUT THAT'S ITS GLORY.

Chancellor of University of Nebraska in Talk at Washington Champions All College Athletics as Factors in Alertness, Courage, Efficiency, and Other Qualities—Finds There Are Evils, as Are to Be Found in Everything Worth Consideration.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Chancellor E. Benjamin Andrews of the University of Nebraska is on record as the friend of football and other college athletics. He is here to attend the National Association of State Universities. He said:

"I approve, under reasonable regulations, all the usual forms of college sport, track athletics, tennis, baseball, basketball, football, and rowing, though rowing is not to be specially commended, partly because few can engage in it and partly because it is not a safe sport for matches.

Does Not Deserve Censure.

"Football itself does not deserve the censure it is now fashionable to mete out. The game is strenuous, which is its glory, for young men need training in that quality; but it is not rough in the sense most naturally assigned. Played under due oversight, football breeds not callousness but kindness and restraint. As schooling in alertness, courage, self-mastery, motor efficiency, exact discipline, and determination to achieve it has no equal short of army or navy service. Nothing else in or about college is in these points comparable. Its advantages reach not few but many.

"Evils, of course, attach to the sport, as to everything worth while. These are to be deplored and repressed, not exaggerated or paraded. No few of these we ourselves create by artificial and unreasonable regulations on eligibility.

Reaches Beyond Body.

"The benefit of sound physical education reaches beyond the body. Many sports prevalent in universities are of extraordinary intellectual value. Football excels in this respect. Good play proceeds much more from brain than from muscle. The same is true to a considerable extent in baseball and tennis. Nearly all earnest sport properly carried on also has for all participants an immense moral value. It develops an independence of action and a sense of individual responsibility, and at the same time fits for the joint activities of coöperation and obedience to authority. It cultivates will, particularly, and power of instantaneous decision. It trains the sense of justice. It imparts a moral poise and ability to be fair when under powerful provocation to take advantage or be partisan."

ANOTHER VICTIM OF FOOTBALL.

Player on Pekin, Ill., Team Probably Fatally Injured During a Game.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 13.—Louis Weidman, a player on the Pekin White Sox team, was probably fatally injured in a football game with the Moline team at that place yesterday. He is in a local hospital suffering with internal injuries.

Northwestern University Law Professor Gives Notice He Will Oppose It as Unconstitutional.

Enforcement of the municipal court law, which was approved by the people at last Tuesday's election, is to be fought in the courts. O'NEILL CASE READY FOR JURY.

Verdict in Breach of Promise Suit Against City Track Elevation Superintendent Expected Today.

The breach of promise suit of Miss Mabel Beland against John O'Neill, city superintendent of track elevation, will go to the jury this morning. 1,157 STRIKES COST $2,517,291.

American Federation of Labor Hears Annual Reports at Pittsburg.

GOMPERS TO RUN AGAIN.

President of Affiliated Unions Discusses Outlook for the Workmen.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—There were 1,157 labor strikes during the year ending Oct. 1, 1905. These strikes involved 107,268 men, of whom 63,350 were benefited and 52,028 worsted. The strikes cost the unions in loss of wages $2,517,291.

These were the notable figures presented to the twenty-fifth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which met here today. The statement was made in the annual report of Secretary Frank Morrison.

The secretary's report admits that the figures are not complete. They do not include the Chicago teamsters' strike, nor the strikes of the iron and steel workers, mineworkers, painters, and textile workers. The strike of the textile workers alone involves 20,000 persons and cost $200,000.

The annual report of Treasurer John B. Lennon showed that for the fiscal year ending Oct. 1, 1905, the income of the American Federation of Labor from all sources had been $308,435 and the expenses $196,170, leaving a balance on hand of $112,265. Of this balance $85,000 is deposited in five banks at Bloomington, Ill., and drawing 2 per cent interest.

President Gompers' Address.

In his annual address President Gompers quoted figures showing that there are 1,796 labor unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor. Of this number 118 are international unions, aggregating 27,000 local unions. Alluding to the widespread character of the federation, the president said:

"On the continent of America our labor movement is expanding and extending to all its beneficent influences. We have not only our international trade unions, with their nearly 27,000 local trade unions, but we also have our state, dominion, insular, and territorial federations, our 601 central labor unions, trades assemblies, and local federations. Our limits are no longer from Maine to California, from the lakes to the gulf, but we include the whole of the United States, Canada, Hawaii, Cuba, Porto Rico, Mexico, the Philippines, and British Columbia.

Favors Labor Insurance.

One of the most important recommendations made by President Gompers was a system of insurance against illness, unemployment, loss of tools, superannuation, traveling, and death.

Two important subjects discussed by President Gompers were Chinese exclusion and the Panama canal. He repeated all the arguments in favor of the exclusion of Chinese labor and declared that there is danger that President Roosevelt's desire to relieve Chinese merchants, students, and tourists from the inconvenience of close and insulting scrutiny may be taken advantage of by unscrupulous Chinese. He vigorously opposed the use of Chinese labor on the sugar plantations in the Hawaiian islands and on the Panama canal.

Tonight numerous conferences are being held, but their import will not be known until the convention takes up their subjects.

AMATEUR BOXERS IN HARD BOUTS.

PROGRAM NOT FINISHED.

May Continue for Three Nights; Coulon Makes the Cleverest Showing.

[BY GEORGE SILER.]

The preliminary trials of amateur boxing championships held under the auspices of the new Illinois Athletic club at the Coliseum last night drew an attendance of 2,500 lovers of the manly art of self-defense, and as the bouts pulled off were brimful of honest, hard slugging, the crowd left the hall satisfied it had witnessed an excellent night's sport.

It was the management's intention to stage all of the preliminary bouts and finish with the finals tonight, but the entry list for the lighter classes was so large a postponement was unavoidable. Tonight the club hopes to clean up the balance of the 125 pounders and the light, welter, middle, and heavyweight classes. This will necessitate its pulling off the finals Wednesday night.

More Slugging than Science.

Last night's contests were gingery enough to suit the most fastidious fight fans. Science, in the majority of the bouts, was thrown to the winds for pure downright slugging, but as the contestants were of the lighter classes and were not well versed in the art of well directed and hard deliveries there were no knockouts. There were, however, plenty of bloody noses, but a wipe of the towel sent the boys home none the worse for their nine minute exercises.

The best boxers shown—that is, from a scientific viewpoint—were John F. Coulon, a bantam, and Jimmy Duffy, a featherweight. Coulon was the better of the pair, shaping up and acquitting himself like an old time professional. Duffy, while cool and quite clever, had a habit of hitting with the open glove, especially the right. His opponent, Dave Rennie, was the harder hitter but was a poor judge of distance.

All of the bouts were fast, and the boys fought as if thousands of dollars hinged on the result of the respective bouts.

Bantamweights Appear First.

The bantamweights, 105 pounds and under, opened the tourney, the pair introduced being Erne Whittaker and Frank Tellinger. The latter was outclassed, and was sent to his corner in the first round.

The next pair, Bob Mason and James O'Connell, put up a hard, fast go. The bout went the limit of three rounds, Mason winning on straight left leads and aggressiveness.

John F. Coulon showed the best of the 105 pounders, and his work was equal to that of a professional. His footwork, blocking, ducking, and clean hitting made a hit, and when the judges declared him a winner over Dan Goodman the crowd voiced its approval with cheers.

P. C. England's foul fighting, such as hitting in the clinches and on the breakaways, brought his disqualification in the first round of his tilt with Charles Kriegel.

Feathers Come Next.

Charley Larsen and James Martin were the first pair of featherweights asked to exchange wallops. The pair went the limit, with Larsen being declared the winner. He hit with the open glove repeatedly, but as he was the aggressor and did the better infighting he won the chance of going in the finals.

G. W. Lyons, who stacked up against Ed Roshon, was willing to mix matters, but he was so wild in his deliveries he did little execution. Roshon, on the other hand, worked a good straight left, and, like Lyons, was not averse to exchanging punches and won out.

August Wipfler and Tim O'Connor put up a slovenly go, but Tim had the shade on the work done and was handed the verdict.

James Duffy, one of Gilmore's pupils, was given a close decision over Dave Rennie which did not meet with the approval of the crowd. Duffy won all right enough, as he showed the most cleverness, his one fault being hitting with the open glove. Rennie was the harder hitter, but used poor judgment. He upset Duffy twice in the last round and in return was capsized once. It was a hard and fast go from start to finish.

Rough and Ready Bout.

The blood and thunder, rough and ready 115 pound go was that between Frank Schrack and John Zielaskowski. Neither boy possessed a particle of science, but what they lacked in that they made up in willingness and hard slugging. Frank won, but he knew he had been into a boxing match.

Herman Boder and Frank Oswald were the last pair of feathers, and they finished up their class by slugging each other all over the ring. Boder being the better puncher and the more accurate in his deliveries, was awarded the bout.

Walter Little and Julius Stein started the ball a rolling for the 125 pounders, and put up a hard, lively, and interesting battle. Little took an awful whaling, and managed to stay the limit by clinching and holding. At that, he fought well in spots.

Rauch's Victory Is Narrow.

Jack Rauch won a close decision in the second 125 pound class go, being awarded a victory over Billy Rocco after four rounds of good fighting. Rocco looked an easy winner after the first round, in which he scored a clean right hand knockdown. He also had the better of the second round, despite Jack's hard fighting, aggressiveness, and willingness to mix matters. Rauch fought himself into an extra two minute round, the first extra round of the evening, and as he had the better of the extra session the referee awarded him the bout. The decision did not meet with the approval of the spectators, many of them thinking Rocco's work entitled him to the verdict. Rauch had the better science and Rocco was the harder hitter, especially with his right.

Morgan A. C. Man Worsted.

Thomas F. Kelly of the Morgan A. C. made a sorry mess of it in his tilt with Frank Lawless, quitting after receiving some hard wallops which Lawless handed to him in the first round.

The last bout of the evening, also in the 125 pound class, was between John Walsh and Myles Cannaven and it was a fitting finale, as the boys went at it hammer and tongs throughout the three rounds. Walsh had the science and the punch, upsetting his opponent twice in the first two rounds with well directed rights. Cannaven, however, was game and took his medicine like an old stager. The second knockdown almost saw his finish, but the referee, acting under the rules, called a halt to the round by sending him to his corner. The final round was a session of downright slugging. Cannaven surprised the crowd and also Walsh by forcing the milling, but Johnnie got his bearings after the second rally and gave Myles a select trimming during the remainder of the session and earned a chance to fight in the finals.

HIGH CHANCELLOR WINS FEATURE AT OAKLAND TRACK.

Drake Castoff Repeats His Good Performance of the Opening Day of the Western Meeting—Cloudlight, a Daughter of Bright Phoebus, Captures the 2 Year Old Contest Without Trouble—Dr. Leggo Arrives at the Emeryville Course.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—High Chancellor captured the feature event at Oakland today from start to finish. He was made an odds on favorite on account of his smashing race in the opening handicap.

High Chancellor captured the feature event from start to finish. He was made an odds on favorite on account of his smashing good race in the opening handicap.

Knapp rode his first winner out here since his return on Avonalis in the first race. She won easily, backed down to 6 to 1 from 10 to 1. St. Francis, a mild favorite, came in second.

The second race resulted in a close finish among half a dozen, Judge Denton, a 13 to 1 chance, drawing away at the end. Contrary to the judgment of the wise division, Epicure beat Good Cheer in the seven furlong dash.

Fireball was installed a hot favorite in the fifth race, at five and one-half furlongs, but Cloudlight, a Bright Phoebus filly, easily beat the Williams colt. Radtke rode his first winner here on Cloudlight, while Aubuchon did likewise in the last race on The Lady Rohesia.

Dr. Leggo arrived from Latonia late last night in good condition. He promises to regain his form of last season, if looks count for anything.

Johnny Reiff is expected home from Paris early in December. He cannot now ride at less than 115 pounds, so will not be seen much in the saddle. Summaries:

DE ORO AT THREE CUSHIONS.

Pool Champion Is Trying to Make a Match at Billiards with Helm of Cleveland.

Pool Champion Alfred De Oro is also an expert at three cushion caroms. He came up from St. Louis yesterday to meet Ed Helm of Cleveland in order to arrange a match at three cushions. Last night De Oro sent the following challenge to Helm and his backer, Martin Mullen: "I will play Helm one game of 3 cushions, 100 points up, or one game, 150 points up, in blocks of 75 points, at St. Louis for $500 a side and another game or games, the same number of points, and for the same amount, to be played at Cleveland."

De Oro plays Gus Leon 100 points, three cushions, betting $400 to Leon's $100, in 50 point blocks, at St. Louis, beginning Thursday night.

Banks and Patterson played the first quarter of their 500 ball pool match at Schaefer & Green's last night, the former scoring 137 balls and the latter 120. Champion De Oro defeated Patterson in an exhibition match, 50 to 37.

At Bensinger's—Brown [215] defeated Nolan [215], 215 to 88. Tonight, Conklin [300] and Huntley [190].

At Foley's—Adair defeated Dethke, 170 to 117. Tonight, Jenkins [140] and Roney [140].

At Clarke's—Hartsig defeated Mattison, 100 to 98. Hartsell and Lowe tonight.

At Healy's—Hartzell defeated Hallett, 75 to 55. Tonight, Cole and Carmichael.

PUGILIST RUHLIN WAKES UP.

Sleeping Gus Is Thinking of Claiming the Championship—Marvin Hart Makes Reply.

New York, Nov. 13.—Gus Ruhlin will claim the world's heavyweight championship if the $500 forfeit he has posted with Al Smith to box any man who desires to take up his challenge remains unaccepted at the end of six weeks.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 13.—Marvin Hart, when shown the announcement made by Ruhlin, reiterated his willingness to meet Ruhlin or any other heavyweight—negroes barred—before any club offering a suitable purse. Hart and Ruhlin have fought twice, six rounds in Philadelphia, where no decisions are given, and a twelve round draw at Baltimore.

Murphy Knocks Out Dunn.

Sharon, Pa., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—In the sixth round at South Sharon tonight Tommy Murphy of New York knocked out Jimmy Dunn of Newcastle by a stinging right hook to the jaw. The fight had been about even.

STAGG WORKS ON NEW COMBINATION

Maroon Coach Starts to Develop Man to Take Place of Boone.

TWO MEN ARE TRIED OUT.

Walker and Catlin Get Into Play, the Former Being Given Preference; Plan Shift.

Coach Stagg started out yesterday to develop a new combination in the maroon back field to make up for the loss of Boone. De Tray at left half and Bezdek at full, of course, retained their positions, but at right half both Walker and Catlin were played. Walker was given slight preference, but it practically is certain that he will not be able to stand the constant plunging of the maroon style of offense in the half back position.

On this account the much injured warrior will be played in shifts, according to the acknowledgment of the Midway tutor. Catlin is to drop back to half, while Walker will go up in the captain's place at end on many of the plays. In this way, it is believed, Walker will be able to last the game throughout. The advantage would be a more varied offense and greater strength in attack in general, as Catlin is a half back second to none Stagg has had for many seasons. The reason he has not been used at half this fall is the fact Stagg had been saving him for the defense, having had, in Boone and Walker, two good half backs.

Hard Work to Begin Today.

With this shift combination for the Boone vacancy Stagg will begin his closing campaign this afternoon. As the men show little effects of the hard game with Purdue it is likely a scrimmage will be in order. Stagg intends to bear on hard for the next ten days and especially is anxious to try out in scrimmage work Walker, who has not been in a mixup for nearly a month, excepting a few minutes in the Northwestern game. Walker will be played in the Illinois game unless his injury again puts him out of the running.

Stagg was amused yesterday by the numerous comments made on the showing of the maroon team in the Purdue game, especially in the matter of the plays used in the attack.

Stagg Talks of Purdue Game.

"So I see I was forced to show all I had," he remarked, smiling. "Well, it's too bad. I didn't mean to and I'm awfully sorry I did it. But you see we just had to. But perhaps we didn't use them all—no, not quite all. We have, if I am not mistaken, one or two left. Maybe we will use them on Thanksgiving day. You never can tell. Speaking of that so-called revolving play, I might add that it was not distinctly new. It was old football, and it was brought out in the mere progress of the game."

Manager Chitwood announced yesterday that arrangements were being made to accommodate between 25,000 and 30,000 persons on Thanksgiving day. Four new stands will be under the process of erection in a few days. Two of these will be for seating purposes and will be built at the north end of the field, one on the east and one on the west side, each holding 1,000 spectators. Two stands will be erected for standing room, each to hold 5,000 persons.

Will Not Protest Dunlap.

It was announced officially yesterday that the Midway athletic authorities would make no protest of Dunlap, the Michigan left half back, who, it is asserted, is now playing his eighth year of collegiate football. It is said he played four years at Lenox (Ia.) college before entering Michigan.

Illinois Practiced Chicago Plays.

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Coach Lowenthal taught the Illinois scrubs some of the Chicago plays he saw on Marshall field Saturday and the Illini line was thoroughly tested on defense. The varsity did nobly and there is considerable encouragement. Lowenthal says the maroons are strong, but that he hopes they will meet a Tartar in their old rivals from here. Carrithers is still limping and the coaches are constructing a back field without him. Carrithers says his knee is much better. He would add greatly to the strength of the Illini. Capt. Moynihan played well at tackle tonight, while Schoeller was starring at end. The varsity offense was about the fastest of the season. It is the general belief now that the maroons can be held down better than Michigan was.

LIGHT PRACTICE BY TIGERS.

Princeton Team Returns from Lakewood and Work Is Easy—Hard Play for Yale Eleven.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—The Princeton football team returned this afternoon from Lakewood, where they went Saturday night for a rest and change of scene. The men are all in good condition, Trainer Robinson said tonight, with the exception of H. Dillon. Dillon has been in bad shape since the Columbia game, and he was pretty well shaken up in the Cornell game. His condition is not serious, however, as he is able to get about, and it is thought he will be ready for the Yale game next Saturday.

The scrubs were not called out at all today. The varsity had a light practice. It is likely practice will be secret for the rest of the week until Thursday, when the last regular practice will be held before the team leaves for New Haven. On Thursday the gates will be opened and the undergraduates will be given a chance to see the practice and to polish up on cheering and new songs. In the meantime the eleven will be given a couple of days of hard work, and every nerve will be strained to blot out faults which the Cornell game brought to light.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—At Yale's practice today Hockenburger and Forbes were missing. Erwin played left guard, and Mackay left tackle. The coaches decided to make the work hard, increasing it daily until after Wednesday. All the work this week will be secret, as the coaches have the greatest lot of new combinations on record to spring on the crimsons and Tigers. Several bets of 3 to 5 were made today that Yale would win both the Harvard and Princeton games. Other wagers laid were 1 to 2 that Princeton would not score against Yale. Jones has a sprained ankle, and the quarter back cannot play in the Princeton game.

ARE AGGRIEVED AT MICHIGAN.

Benton Harbor High School Football Players and Supporters Allege Unjust Treatment.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—A fight is on among the high schools of the state which promises to break up the interscholastic league that has flourished several years under the direction of Ann Arbor officials.

The schools in the lower peninsula are aggrieved at Ann Arbor and the University of Michigan men who have been guiding the destinies of the league. They allege that nearly every time the school which won the championship of lower Michigan went to Ann Arbor to play for the championship of the state with the school from the upper peninsula it came back alleging it had been robbed of the game. Benton Harbor fared this way last fall, and when the manager registered a kick he was told they could not allow the championship to go to the lower peninsula, as the players from upper Michigan would then go to Wisconsin.

As a result of the treatment many scholars from this end of Michigan have abandoned their intention of going to Michigan and have gone elsewhere. The Chicago freshman team which was here a week ago made a favorable impression, and it is likely a number of the students here will go to the University of Chicago next year. Handy, one of the guards on the Chicago freshman eleven, is a local boy who has forsaken Michigan.

Snappy Play at Northwestern.

McCornack's men are playing snappier football and the practice yesterday was a revelation of fast and brilliant work. McCornack, always resourceful in plays, is working up a number of shifty open plays and tricks which may puzzle the Gophers. Turner and McPherrin, the ends, are being used to carry the ball, giving a much needed rest to the overworked back field. The attack is much improved by this plan, as the chief weakness has been the lightness of the back field. The big linemen have been whipped into shape by persistent efforts and the Northwestern coaches say they are capable of putting up a stiffer defense than any line which ever has represented Northwestern.

Baseball Player on the Gridiron.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—"Jack" Hayden, an outfielder on the Cleveland ball club, will make his first appearance before the Cleveland public as a member of the Massillon football team on Wednesday in the game against the Carlisle Indians. Hayden is a star at quarter back. He learned the game at the University of Pennsylvania.

PHIL KING HAS A SMILE.

WISCONSIN COACH RETURNS FROM TRIP TO SEE MICHIGAN PLAY.

Makes No Prediction Concerning Outcome of Saturday's Game, but Evidently Regards the Outlook Cheerfully—McCarthy Says Two Teams Are Evenly Matched—Yost Suddenly Enjoins Utmost Secrecy Among Members of His Squad.

The Michigan-Ohio contest did not lessen the smile on the coach's face, and when asked what he thought of Yost's machine he replied, good naturedly: "They're all right."

"Can Wisconsin beat them?"

"Next Saturday I'll tell you that. It's a bad plan to win a game before it's played."

Charles McCarthy, formerly assistant coach of Wisconsin, acted as referee for the Michigan-Ohio game on Saturday. He is of the opinion the Badgers and Wolverines are evenly matched.

"It's a tossup," he said, "who will win. The teams play much the same style of a game, and, in my opinion, are on an equal footing. The team that can develop the most speed will have the advantage. The game certainly will be free from roughness, as the best of feeling exists at Ann Arbor for Wisconsin."

Fifteen hundred dollars of Michigan money has arrived in Madison to be placed even or at odds of 5 to 4. Little of this has been taken up, as the Wisconsin supporters are asking odds of 2 to 1. In spite of the confidence in the team, the Badger backers claim they are entitled to these odds, in view of Michigan's phenomenal record for five years. One bet of $100 to $75 was placed, and one of $50 even that both sides would score. King set to work today to perfect his offense. He is convinced the Badger defense can stand against the attacks of the Michigan backs.

The fastest work done at Madison this year was the signal practice this afternoon. Brindley and Findley were not in the lineup, on account of injuries. Bush and Bertke were back at their old positions. "Speed" was the watchword. After every play King urged the men to "get into it faster." He also drilled the players in some new shifts.

Bush and Melzner spend a good portion of their time in punting and drop kicking. Melzner placed the ball repeatedly between the posts at difficult angles.

Tickets for the big game were placed on sale today. The demand was good, but not what had been expected. There is disappointment over the report that the athletic association will not take the brass band to Ann Arbor. Manager Downer has not definitely decided.

YOST ENJOINS SECRECY ON MEN.

No Facts of Michigan's Practice Given Out—Turner Praises Chicago's Strength.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Yost has shut up like a clam. The talkative, genial author, who never had been known to pass up the inquiry even of a stray kid about Michigan's prospects, has closed his mouth so tightly the sphinx is loquacious compared with him.

"What has been doing today, Coach?" breathlessly inquired the bunch of newspaper men shivering outside Ferry field when the squad came out after three hours' work in a snowstorm.

"Work," snapped the Michigan hurricane.

"Anything else?"

"Nope."

"Who was out? Anybody hurt?"

"Now, fellows," began the coach, putting up a firm, clenched fist, "I have cut out the dope for this week. No more. Please don't ask for credit. Just say we are luring them on."

Assistant Coach "Little Eva" Turner blew back to town today with a huge hunch that Chicago is a far better team than any one ever yet has supposed. He was enthusiastic over the work of the backs; he raved about Eckersall.

"Why, do you know, that Eckie booted that ball over from the fifty-one yard line?" Turner asked. Then he took out time to shake his head meaningly. "And the backfield is a peach, a bird, a lulu, a jim-dandy. In the second half Chicago's work was perfect. Purdue had a splendid bunch for a light team."

There is no noticeable joy in the Wolverine camp over the ruling out of Boone. It is not believed here the disqualification of the big back means the ruination of the maroons, by any manner of means. At any rate, Yost isn't acting as if he believed he would face a crumbling ruin on Thanksgiving day.

Schulte, the crack guard, was hobbling around with a cane this morning. It is feared he was seriously hurt in Saturday's game.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL GOSSIP.

The Hyde Park football team was given a rest yesterday. Tayler, Stern, and Steward are carrying the most marks of the game. Tayler's knee and right shoulder are sprained; Stern has a sprained shoulder, and Steward is suffering from minor bruises in addition to the arm hurt in practice last week. All three will be in Saturday's game with Englewood, however.

Capt. Fagan of Englewood had his squad out for a hard practice at Normal park. Several are having trouble with their studies, but are confident of being able to get into Saturday's contest. The team, although almost the same lineup will be used, is a great improvement over the one which faced Wendell Phillips.

Eleven Hyde Park High school students who had been suspended by Principal Hiram B. Loomis last week for thirty days because they used ineligible players in the game at Oak Park on Nov. 3, which resulted in the death of Vernon Wise, were permitted to return to school yesterday after four days of their suspension had expired.

Kentucky, 6; Arkansas, 0.

Fayetteville, Ark., Nov. 13.—The University of Kentucky defeated the University of Arkansas at football today, 6 to 0.

BRUNSWICKS GET LARGE AVERAGE.

Leaders in Chicago Bowling League Twice Defeat the Motor Ages.

WOLF DOES BEST WORK.

Leaders and tailenders in the Chicago Bowling league met last night and the Brunswicks, who occupy the premier position, dropped the last game to the Motor Ages.

In the first two games Gruver's men averaged 1,010, but slumped in the final and lost by twenty-one pins. Phil Wolf led the winners with a consistent series that netted 214. Rockwell's 223 gave the Motor Ages their only victory. The winners averaged 974⅔. The other series between the Howards and the First Nationals was postponed until Thursday night.

Art Tischhouser rolling for the Rarebits in the Hemmer league scored 279 in his last game, equaling the second high total of the year in the local leagues. His side took two games from the Lipmans.

NEW TEAM FOR Y. M. C. A.

DIRECTOR HAMNETT REORGANIZING BASKETBALL FIVE.

Not a Single Player on Last Season's A. A. U. Champions Will Be in the Lineup This Winter, but It Is Believed Central Association Will Have Good Representatives—Reinke Used in Right Forward Position, With Mohler Opposite Him.

Physical Director Hamnett of the Central Y. M. C. A. is reorganizing his basketball team for the approaching season without having a single player of the five who last winter won the A. A. U. championship. He believes, however, he will have a good team again. Reinke, last season's second team star, is playing in the right forward position, while Mohler, his teammate, holds down the other forward. Schommer's services at center will be sadly missed, but Mr. Hamnett is working hard with Lang, and the new man rapidly is rounding into form. Bockert and Immenhausen are working in excellent shape in the two guard positions.

The season will open around Dec. 1, and several games already have been arranged, while scores of letters are being received asking for dates. One interesting event will be the appearance of the Chiloco Indians from the Oklahoma school. Other games already fixed are:

Dec. 30, with Houghton [Mich.] School of Mines.
Jan. 20 and Feb. 10, with Wheaton college.
Feb. 3, with Kansas university.

The important matches with the West Side Y. M. C. A. will come toward the latter part of the season. Other games to be arranged will be with Crawfordsville, Ind., the Buckeye Guards, Evanston Y. M. C. A., Hamilton, Ont.; Muscatine, Ia.; Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., and Buffalo Y. M. C. A.

Besides the first and second teams there will be at the central department the Meteors, Central Midgets, Noon, and Eight Fifteen classes.

A. G. SPALDING WRITES MURPHY

President Murphy of the Chicago league club yesterday received a congratulatory letter from A. G. Spalding, who was for so many years president of the local organization, and also of the National league. The letter was written from New York. In it Mr. Spalding said:

"If my sixteen years' official connection with the Chicago club, from 1876 to 1891, would entitle me to offer any advice it would be to make the welfare of the National league—the most remarkable athletic association that has existed—your first duty, for it is through this national governing body baseball achieved and maintained its present high position. Of course the interests of the Chicago club must not be neglected, but with National league affairs running smoothly and the game maintained on its present high plane you can depend upon Chicago's patronage to take care of the business end of the game.

"You have undertaken no small job in attempting to fill the place so long and faithfully occupied by Mr. Hart, who has done much to raise the standard of professional baseball during the fifteen years of his presidency. You have one of the best, if not the best, baseball cities in the land back of you. Chicago was the birthplace of the National league in 1876, and as president of one of the only two charter members of the present National league—Chicago and Boston—you have assumed an important trusteeship."

Magnate Comiskey's houseboat White Sox was stranded at Lemont during Friday and Saturday, a hole having been rammed in the side of the boat. William Keough, superintendent of the canal, had the boat put on the dry docks at the canal shops and repaired, after which it started down the canal again. If it meets with further accident the baseball man will be in a bad way, as there is no other dry dock this side of Peoria. However, Capt. Murphy from Chicago took charge of the boat when it left Lockport and promised the old Roman no more accidents would befall the craft.

Johnny Evers, second baseman of the Chicago National league team, who has been in the city since the close of the season, will leave for his home at Troy, N. Y., today.

NEWS OF THE RAILWAYS.

REORGANIZATION OF THE NEW ERIE RAILROAD COMPLETED.

Directors at Recent Meeting Assign Various Officials to New Positions—Offices of Newly Acquired Properties Will Be Consolidated, but Not in Name—Work on Alaska Central Will Continue Through Winter—Rearbitration of Fares to Be Asked.

The reorganization of the New Erie, which includes the recently purchased Zimmerman lines, the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, and the Père Marquette, was completed at a recent meeting of the directors of the Erie. Although the offices of the three roads will be consolidated in many instances, the three separate organizations will be kept for legal reasons.

Vice Presidents G. F. Brownell, G. A. Richardson, and H. B. Chamberlain of the Erie were made vice presidents of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, and Père Marquette. President Underwood of the Erie had previously been elected president of the newly acquired roads. Russell Harding, formerly vice president of the Zimmerman roads, was elected vice president of the Erie, and David Bosman, secretary of the Erie, was made assistant secretary of the new properties.

D. W. Bigoney, treasurer of the Erie, was made assistant treasurer of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton and the Père Marquette, and M. P. Blauvelt, controller of the Erie, was given the same position on the new roads. J. L. Cramer was also made assistant controller of the Zimmerman properties. J. C. Stuart, general manager and A. J. Stone, assistant general manager of the Erie, had their jurisdiction extended over the newly acquired properties.

The following have been elected directors of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton: F. D. Underwood, Charles Steele, Norman B. Ream, George F. Baker, H. McK. Twombly, Samuel Spencer, R. R. Rhodes, J. H. Clarke, and J. L. Cramer.

Plan Rate Rearbitration Request.

There will be held in New York next Wednesday a preliminary meeting of the executives of some of the eastern roads to arrange for the necessary request to the Central Passenger association for a rearbitration of the question of differential fares between Chicago and eastern points. All of the roads except the New York Central lines and allied Vanderbilt interests will be represented at the meeting. The application is the outgrowth of the arbitration last summer, which gave the Michigan Central the right to apply differential rates to New York and Boston for business originating west of Chicago.

Fix Teachers' Holiday Rates.

For the benefit of school teachers during the holiday vacation, the Illinois Central will sell round trip tickets from Chicago and St. Louis to Havana, Cuba, for $48, including meals and berth on the steamer Prince Arthur, sailing from New Orleans on Dec. 26.

Work on Road Through Winter.

Construction work of the Alaska Central railway between Seward on the coast and Fairbanks, on the Tanana river, a distance of 460 miles, will continue through the winter. The road is now in operation between Seward and a point fifty miles inland. Sufficient rails have reached Seward to complete the line to Mantanuska coal fields, about 150 miles from the coast. The road, when completed, will traverse the vast agricultural and timber sections in central Alaska, and will furnish rail transportation between the Mantanuska coal fields and the river copper and gold deposits of Tanana district.

Zion Extension Nearly Ready.

The extension of the Chicago and Milwaukee Electric road north from Zion City to Kenosha, a distance of ten miles, will be open for traffic on Dec. 1. Through trains after that date will be operated between Evanston and Kenosha every forty minutes. With the completion of this extension there will be a complete line of electric railways between Chicago and Milwaukee.

Wonders of a Modern Factory

Machinery Does the Work of Human Hands and The Perfect Food Is Made in Absolute Cleanliness.

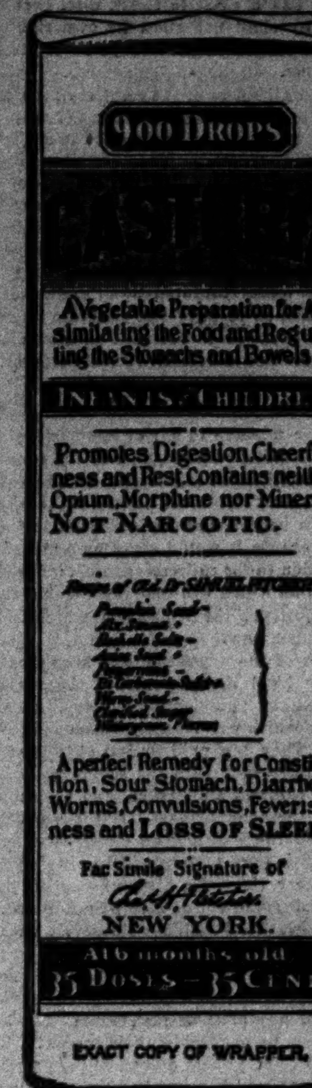

A visit to the the greatest modern food factory is a revelation to anyone not familiar with the development of machinery in recent years. Such a visit verifies the claims of the manufacturers of Malta-Vita, that this perfect whole-wheat food is cooked, steamed, mixed, baked and packed in absolute cleanliness.

"Purity" is the watchword of this wonderful establishment. From the time the wheat is received in the factory until the finished product is shipped out to all parts of the world, Malta-Vita is not soiled by human hands. Machinery, clean, shining machinery conveys the wheat through all the long process, even to the packing and sealing of the air-tight, germ-proof, dirt-proof packages.

After the wheat has been thoroughly cooked and steamed it is mixed with pure barley malt extract and each grain of the malted wheat is rolled into a wafer-like flake. Then it goes to the great ovens where, under intense heat, it is baked crisp and brown—Malta-Vita, the most delicious, the most healthful food in the world.

Malta-Vita Is Always Ready to Eat.

No cooking. No inconvenience. And you never tasted anything quite so goood. Try a bowlful with cream or fruit. To those who have used it and know how delicious and sustaining Malta-Vita is, a perfect breakfast is next to impossible without it, and it's just as good three times a day. All grocers sell Malta-Vita now at 10 cents per package.

Wrecked Nerves From Over-Feeding —Cause Men to Lose Their Self Control and Start at "Trifles."

"MY goodness! what was that?"
"Why, I simply let a book fall!"
"Well, please don't do it again; you nearly startled me to death; my nerves are all gone anyway lately—I don't seem to have any control of them at all."

* * *

Your nerves, in their normal healthy condition, are the great controlling forces of your body—they govern every function.

They create and direct your Energy—your Force—your Thought—They turn Brain and Muscle into achievements—things accomplished—they are the Human's chief instruments of Success.

The great Central Nervous Systems are located in the Brain—These Central Nervous Systems are the executive offices of the Body. From these are issued the order for the whole Body System—for instance, the Stomach, the Kidneys, Liver, Bowels, etc., etc., all receive their orders for the proper performance of their functions from the Brain.

Now your Brain is a supersensitive structure—the least amount of foreign matter in the Blood will usually make itself felt in the Brain almost immediately!

And when you get an unnatural condition in the flow of the Blood through the Arteries—that is either a strong blood pressure or a weak pressure—its effect is also felt very quickly!

And one of the most Common Conditions of the Blood flow in the Arteries is strong pressure, particularly when the heart is strong!

You see excessive blood pressure is caused by a Poison which all Foods produce, therefore, which must be in every System. This Poison is called Uric Acid—and it increases the pressure of the Blood in the Circulation by clogging the Arteries.

Since the Heart is strong, it keeps pumping blood just as strongly and as rapidly as ever, and the Blood flows through the Arteries at a greatly increased rate.

Just as Water will fly further when forced through a small opening than through a large.

And since some of the large Arteries go up into your head the strongest pressure is felt in your head.

Just imagine what it means to the supersensitive Gray Matter in your head—to the complicated and delicate Central Nervous Systems—to have Blood forced against them at a greatly increased pressure—

How long do you think they can stand this greatly increased pressure—without injury?

Not very long, eh?

Now Stimulants won't help you out when you're in this Condition—Stimulants call out the Vital Reserve Forces Nature has been storing up in your Body.

And Beer, Whiskey or Brandy usually increases the supply of Uric Acid in the Body—for they all contain excessive amounts of Uric Acid.

So that while they may make you feel pretty good for a short time—because they temporarily drive out the Uric Acid from the Blood—yet they leave you in a much worse condition because of the increased amount of Uric Acid they put into the Blood after their stimulating effect is worn off.

And Heart Depressers are even worse than Stimulants—because they affect the Heart physically—they injure and weaken your most vital organ.

And you must remember that your Heart has already been overworked because it has had to force Blood through your clogged-up circulation.

Ordinary so-called "Nerve Restorers" and Tonics which some people try are usually Stimulants in disguise—drugged to the Danger Point!

Yet the great Central Nervous Systems are being deranged—they haven't the control they should have, or they would have, were everything in a Natural Condition.

You are becoming "nervous"—you lack proper poise and control at most important times—in vital business deals.

And all these things are felt in your business—they hurt your Income—decrease your Earning Power, whether you're a $10 a week clerk or a $50,000 a year Proprietor of a Business.

Well, now you say what can be done about this condition—how can one restore the nerves to their natural condition?

Well, the only way to do that is to remove the Cause of their derangement—the Uric Acid—by drinking Londonderry Lithia Water.

You see the Lithia in Londonderry renders every tiny grain of Uric Acid absolutely harmless.

Then because of certain other elements it contains besides the Lithia, Londonderry gently but surely stimulates the Kidneys, Bowels and Liver and casts the Uric Acid entirely from the System.

Once the Uric Acid is removed from the System—Circulation, etc.—your Blood ceases rushing up into your Brain—the cause of the derangement to your Great Central Nervous System is removed and they regain their natural control of all the Nerves of your Body.

Your Poise is restored—you're not frightened to Death when a Book falls unexpectedly—you have perfect Control of all your Faculties at important Crises—and your Business success mirrors faithfully your physical well-being.

Just try the wonderful magic of Londonderry—it's a most agreeable beverage—clear—sparkling—and delicious—an ideal thirst-quencher.

Absolutely none of the flat, disagreeable taste, usual with most mineral waters, about Londonderry.

The sparkling Londonderry will delight you with your meals, and the still or plain is just right at other times.

Londonderry Lithia sells as follows: One dozen quarts, $2.25; one dozen pints, $1.50; one dozen splits, $1.25.

If your dealer won't supply you remit to Londonderry Lithia Co., Room 416, 167 Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill.

ANOTHER JEROME.

The determination with which the people are seeking a reform of the crookedness and graft that prevail in so many places was illustrated in the election of John B. Moran, "the Jerome of Boston," as district attorney. Moran ran on one ticket, and that ticket was himself. He nominated himself, found his own issues, wrote his own platform, managed his own campaign, made his own speeches, and was elected by over 4,000 plurality. Opposed to him was Michael J. Sughrue, the present incumbent of the office, and the nominee of both democratic and republican parties. Behind him were two powerful organizations, both fighting shoulder to shoulder with one aim—to defeat Moran and elect Sughrue. Behind Moran there was only himself. He had no organization to help him, no party influence to draw votes to him. He made his issue the issue of graft, accused prominent men of grafting, promised that he would prosecute them when he was elected, and left it to the people. The people were tired of graft, and voted for him in spite of party prejudices.

When Moran announced himself as a candidate, and began his whirlwind campaign, the wheel horses of the two great parties and the newspapers of Boston laughed at him. Four years ago their laugh would possibly have been warranted. Four years ago Moran could hardly have made his successful run. The people knew even then that graft was plentiful, but saw no way to attack it. Then came Folk in St. Louis and Jerome in New York to show them the way, and the people in these cities showed how eagerly they welcomed the light by making one of these a governor and continuing the other in office in the face of overwhelming machine opposition. Boston has joined the graft fighting cities. Moran, confident, strong, and aggressive, and impelled by the audacity of the man who has the courage of his convictions, has brought the light to Boston, and Boston has expressed the sincere desire for reform, which so generally influenced the last election by electing him. It is evident that the day is past for party managers to consider the independent reform candidate as a huge joke.

NEEDLESS CAR BLOCKADES.

One week ago today, at 6 p. m., northbound cars on Halsted street were backed up solidly from Jackson boulevard to Polk street. Some of them were packed and fringed with passengers after the customary rush-hour fashion. Others, at the head of the line, had been nearly deserted by the helpless riders. All north-bound traffic was stopped, the return supply of south-bound cars ceased, and one of the most important arteries of city travel was effectually silenced.

What caused this hardship to the homegoing throngs? The "shelf" of a car rail was broken down, the wheel of an empty dray dropped into the depression, and it stuck fast between rail and paving. The wrecking outfit finally arrived, the wheel was lifted out, and the blockade dissolved. That same broken rail, however, remains today as it was a week ago, and in the meantime several of the paving stones inside it, which were loosened in lifting out the wheel, have been entirely displaced. The resultant depression in the street is admirably calculated thus to provide another blockade when a well laden truck shall drop a fore wheel into that depression.

Many stoppages of car traffic are caused, as was the one in question, by defects in the surface of the car company's right-of-way. Many take place from that cause on this same Halsted street line. They take place at crossings such as those at Harrison street, Van Buren street, and Milwaukee avenue, where wheels are frequently caught in the rough and uneven surfaces. They take place because wheels are twisted off by the belated tram rails still used on portions of the lines. Indeed, the blockade of last Tuesday would never have occurred if the company had put in grooved rails at this point last year, as it did over certain other portions of this line.

There is a prevalent theory to the effect that corporations know their own business, and will at least conserve the interests of stockholders. If the Union Traction company knows its own business, why does it risk the chance of having travel tied up and income interrupted on one of its chief lines rather than repair promptly a broken rail and a square foot of paving? The public, however, has a right to insist that car companies, irrespective of self-interest, shall take all reasonable measures to avoid stoppages of travel. It has a right to insist, indeed, that the Union Traction company shall have more wrecking outfits, so that when accidents and delays do occur they may be more promptly relieved. The public has a right to insist, also, that the company shall not allow its own right-of-way to remain in such shape as to induce accidents.

The ordinances of the company require it to pave and maintain its right-of-way, so as not to cause any obstruction to ordinary vehicular traffic. The company often complains—and not without reason—of interference by such traffic. It alleges that its cars are frequently delayed by obstinate or wayward drivers. Such drivers ought to be dealt with by the police, but the company is under the independent and primary obligation so to pave and maintain its own right-of-way as to forestall accidents and blockades due to defective street surfaces.

A WORD IN THE RAILROAD EAR.

It is a mistake to say or imagine that all of the leading railroad men of the country are opposed to the rate legislation advocated by President Roosevelt. Some of the wisest of them believe that the legislation is desirable, because it would serve as a means of protection to the railroads against more radical action which will take place if they foolishly obstruct the legislation which is insisted upon now.

Much of the opposition has been created by the legal departments of the various roads and by "publication bureaus," such as the one which was recently dissolved in Chicago. They are paid to find objections to any interference with the sovereign power of the railroad authorities, and they must justify their employment. But it is possible here and there to find an old railroad head filled with gray matter and to obtain from the owner thereof a digested opinion that the roads could not do better than to accept the legislation President Roosevelt wishes to have enacted.

The president is not radical on this subject. He is not seeking to deprive the railroads of any of their just rights. He does not wish to confiscate their property, nor even to cripple their officers in the exercise of powers which properly belong to them. But he does wish to meet the just demands of the people, and he knows that these demands are expanding in proportion as they are resisted.

If the complaints of the shippers are not met in a reasonable spirit and removed as far as they can be there will be a much more radical agitation in the course of a few months, and it will have to be dealt with in a candid spirit. The movement for municipal ownership does not stop short of the ownership of all the railroads in the United States, so far as some of the principal proponents of that doctrine are concerned. We have already seen what strength this movement has in New York and Chicago. It is easy to imagine how far it will be reinforced by a proposal to take over the steam railroads and to give the farmers what they want in the way of low rates and prompt service. So long as real grievances remain imaginary ones will gather force and momentum and the difficulty of dealing with them will be intensified. The grievances are not confined to unreasonable men. They are felt and expressed by shippers of all classes. Many merchants who a short time ago were active in making excuses for the railroads are now among the most strenuous advocates of reform measures.

What, after all, is it proposed shall be done? Only, so far as we understand the question, that the interstate commerce commission shall be clothed with the powers which it was supposed were given it when it was originally created. It is proposed that the commission shall have power to establish reasonable rates, and that the rates, when declared, shall begin to operate at once, and it shall then become the duty of the railroads to show that they are unreasonable by an appeal to some tribunal organized for the purpose of hearing such appeals.

It is not to be imagined that a commission clothed with these powers would be anxious to establish unreasonable rates any more than a court of inferior jurisdiction wishes to put error into the record of a case when it knows that an appeal lies to a higher court. To the extent that the interstate commerce commission should be overruled, its competency would be impeached and its members would be convicted of ignorance or of disregard of the conditions existing in the case which might be appealed.

There will never be much danger that the commission will not be sufficiently sensitive to the opinions of railroad officials. On the contrary, the tendency always has been to listen too much to the advice of railway counselors and too little to the suggestions of shippers and consumers. The railways have a better organization than the shippers can possibly have, and they are served by the ablest lawyers in the country. It is not to be believed that any substantial denial of rights will ever befall them, whereas the shippers, representing unorganized opinion, and in many cases lacking the ability to employ proper counsel, are likely to suffer wrong or oppression patiently rather than make a futile appeal.

If the railways are wise they will not permit the approaching session of congress to pass without consenting cheerfully to the adoption of legislation that will meet the just demands of the people and will satisfy President Roosevelt and his advisers that substantial justice has been done.

SELLING WHISKY AS MEDICINE.

On the 1st of December druggists and merchants selling certain classes of patent medicines will be required to pay a special government tax as liquor dealers. The commissioner of internal revenue issued instructions to collectors two months ago concerning alcoholic compounds labeled as medicine and held out to the public as remedies for diseases. Some of them, he says, are composed chiefly of spirits without the addition of drugs or medicinal ingredients in sufficient quantities to change materially the character of the alcoholic liquor.

A medicinal compound may have an alcoholic strength as high as 80 per cent and yet be so saturated with drugs that only extremely small doses can be taken. Another compound may have an alcoholic strength of 40 per cent, but contain so small a quantity of a drug that the ordinary man testing it cannot tell the difference between it and liquor, and is tempted to use it as if it were plain whisky. These are the compounds at which the ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue is aimed. They are simply alcohol masquerading under the name of medicine.

The saloons provide sufficiently for the culture and gratification of the drink habit. Additional facilities should not be provided under the cloak of curing diseases. The credulity of man is so great that he will buy without knowledge of its contents any well advertised proprietary medicine. It may be his misfortune to buy one which is only liquor in disguise, and thus acquire the drink habit without ever entering a saloon. There is no question that infinite harm has been done through compounds which are medicine in name only. The ruling of the commissioner of internal revenue is a just one and will have a good effect.

There is one phase of the question which should interest Chicago officials who wish to add to the revenues of the city. The ordinances provide that a druggist who wishes to deal in spirituous liquors for medicinal, mechanical, sacramental, or chemical purposes only, not to be drunk upon the premises, may do so by paying the city $1 per annum. The druggist who will be compelled to pay $25 to the collector of internal revenue for the privilege of selling whisky in medicine bottles should be made to pay as much, if not more, to the city collector.

The commissioner of internal revenue delayed the enforcement of his order to give druggists who do not wish to take out licenses an opportunity to get rid of stocks on hand. Between now and the end of the month the council might pass an ordinance on the subject and let druggists who pay the general government a tax as liquor dealers know that they will have to settle with the city also.

BIG CITIES' MILITARY STRENGTH.

The tendency of population to concentrate in cities has long been noticed and frequently commented upon. The matter assumes a new aspect in the light of recent discussions of the relative endurance of city and country men in the civil war. It has been asserted, and the records of the war department are called upon to prove the assertion, that, while men from the farms were stronger when they entered the service, they broke down sooner under the stress of inaction, irregular hours, improper or scanty food, and loss of sleep. Men from the cities were more accustomed to all these things. They had had the usual diseases of childhood, and the epidemics of measles which swept off the country boys "like flies," as one surgeon expresses it, were less dangerous to the city boys. Those who had always dwelt in a crowd were immune to the diseases of the crowd. Those whom late hours of work or revelry had often compelled to go without sufficient rest could stand night marches, picket duty, or the midnight alarms better than those who had all their lives gone to bed with the chickens and lain in unbroken sleep until they were awakened to a substantial meal and healthful labor.

If this experience of forty years ago loses some of its importance in view of more recent discoveries as to the prevention and cure of contagious diseases and improvements in transportation securing a better commissary, it still possesses much of its force. With all of modern progress, the fact remains, as the events of the Cuban campaign show, that there is always the possibility of a failure of the food supply or the hospital service, and conditions revert to those of an earlier period. The war between Russia and Japan shows that great guns and the searchlight have added new terrors to the already sufficient number, and the night attack is the usual instead of the occasional interruption of the hours nominally devoted to sleep. Since the civil war the city dweller has secured, through legislation, many improvements in his physical condition; yet in essentials the contrast between city and country life remains, and whatever was true in a general way then as to the relative endurance of men from the two regions is probably true now.

The rush from the farm to the city, deplorable under many aspects, has its compensations from a military point of view. The next great war will be a continuous strain on the nerves. In Cæsar's day armies went into winter quarters, and for half the year there was no fighting. Then, at a later period, war was the labor of the day. Now war, having begun, allows neither winter nor night to interrupt the strenuous conflict. But the man whose sleep neither elevated roads, nor gongs, nor the myriad noises of the city have disturbed, who has often of his own accord gone without sleep, who has survived the quick lunch, and to whom sudden death is an incident of daily life, hardly calling for more than a line or two in the daily press—this man has unconsciously been training his nerves to stand the racking demands of modern warfare. The simple life may be the healthier and happier in normal conditions, but war is abnormal, and, other things being equal, the nation with the greater urban population has the greater military strength, so long as patriotism is astir in all hearts. When that ceases, as in ancient Rome, nothing makes any difference; the end is certain and swift.

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

Copyright: 1905: By the Marquise de Fontenoy.

KING EDWARD and Queen Alexandra are to pay a state visit to the duke and duchess of Portland at Welbeck abbey next month. The king has honored many of his subjects, some of them nobles and others commoners, with visits during his reign. But since his accession Queen Alexandra has accorded this distinction to but five of the great houses of the aristocracy—namely: the duke and duchess of Devonshire at Chatsworth and Lismore, the duke of Richmond at Goodwood, the marquis and marchioness of Ormonde at Kilkenny, the marquis and marchioness of Londonderry, and the duke and duchess of Buccleuch at Dalkeith palace in Scotland. The duchesses of Portland and of Marlborough are still to be complimented in this fashion. For when last the king and queen were at Blenheim they had not at that time succeeded to the crown.

The duchess of Portland, without being in any way an intimate friend of the king and queen, occupies a high place in their regard, the queen in particular admiring her loftiness of principle and her refusal to lend herself to many of the new fangled ideas and ways of society, its vulgarisms, and its readiness to welcome anybody possessed of money, without inquiring as to the sources thereof. The duchess has gained for herself a reputation for great exclusiveness, and while she has made many enemies in connection therewith she has established herself at the head of the English great world, an invitation to Welbeck abbey being today looked upon by many as the highest form of social brevet. It was partly on account of this that when the duchess of Buccleuch was placed in mourning by the death of her wonderful old mother, the nonagenarian duchess of Abercorn, Queen Alexandra invited the duchess of Portland to take up the rôle of mistress of the robes, which carries with it the control of the entire feminine portion of the royal household. There are some who imagine that the duchess of Marlborough might have been selected for the office. But this would have been out of the question, as the law requires that the principal ladies in waiting of the queen, and still more the grand mistress of her robes, should be of English instead of foreign birth.

The duchess of Portland, with her great height, magnificent jewels, delicate coloring, and stately beauty, makes a particularly decorative appearance at all court functions, in which her husband, the duke, figures as the chief member of the king's household—namely: as the master of the horse to his majesty. The position now occupied by the duchess is all the more remarkable when it is recalled that in the early stages of her married life she ventured to brave the wrath of royalty by declining to receive under her roof at Welbeck abbey a guest whom the illustrious personage in question had insisted upon being invited to meet him, and who was welcome at nearly all other houses. The duchess would not allow the visitor in question to cross the threshold of Welbeck abbey, declaring that she would rather forfeit the honor of the royal visit, for which the most elaborate and costly arrangements had been made, than have the unwelcome guest in question forced upon her. At the eleventh hour the royal visit was abandoned and royalty went off instead to another country house in the neighborhood, where the mistress was less hypercritical with regard to the people that she invited, and where popular attention was attracted to the entire affair by a most unfortunate card scandal taking place, all the members of the house party being subsequently forced to appear as witnesses in the legal proceedings which ensued. Had it not been for the stand made by the duchess of Portland the scandal in question might have taken place under her roof, rather than under that of Mrs. Arthur Wilson of Tranby Croft.

The duchess of Portland is, like nearly every other wearer of the ducal strawberry leaves in Great Britain, a commoner, instead of a noble, by birth. Thus, there is the duchess of Marlborough, who was Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt; the duchess of Bedford, who was the daughter of an archdeacon out in India; the duchess of St. Albans, who was a Miss Osborn; the duchess of Beaufort, who was a Miss Louise Harford; the two duchesses of Manchester, who were respectively Miss Helen Zimmerman and Miss Consuelo Yznaga; the duchess of Montrose, who was Miss Violet Graham; the duchess of Newcastle, who was Miss Candy; the duchess of Westminster, who was Miss Cornwallis West; and the duchess of Somerset, who was Miss Susan Mackinnon.

One of the reasons why so few state visits are paid by the queen is the colossal expense which they entail. When the king goes about alone neither balls nor banquets mark the occasion. He spends his time much as any other guest would, his days being taken up with sport and his evenings with bridge. When he is accompanied by the queen, however, on a state visit, there is an immense royal retinue, and elaborate, fairylike entertainments succeed one another, the splendor and luxury displayed on such occasions surpassing anything of the kind since the days of Queen Elizabeth, who was wont to seriously impair the fortunes of the most powerful of her subjects by inviting herself to stay with them whenever they seemed to be becoming too influential for the safety of the crown. Naturally, the king and queen of today do not find it necessary to resort to such measures as this for the protection of the throne, and do not care to impose such expense upon any of their nobles save those who are able to afford it.

Although M. Berteaux has resigned his seat in the Rouvier cabinet at Paris, in which he has held the post of minister of war, in order to be entirely free to promote his candidature for the presidency of the republic, yet it is extremely unlikely that he will ever be elected. For, leaving aside his record as minister of war, which has been quite the reverse of popular, he labors under the disadvantage of being an "agent de change," or stock broker, and if there is one calling more than another that would be of a nature to disqualify a man from the chief magistracy of a great republic it is precisely the profession of stock broker.

In other countries a man might sever his connection with the stock exchange for good and all in order to rid himself of this handicap. But it is out of the question in France. There the French stock brokers are a small and close corporation, restricted to seventy members, who have in most cases inherited the office and the business from several generations of ancestors. As they enjoy the government monopoly of stockbroking, at any rate as far as officially listed stocks are concerned, they naturally never care to dispose of their share of this monopoly, which they look upon as a species of entailed property.

There have been plenty of rulers who have dabbled in stocks, notably the kings of Sweden, of Belgium, and of Greece, as well as the crown prince of Denmark, while King Louis Philippe of France was wont to direct the policy of the government, particularly in foreign matters, with a view more to the success of his "coups de bourse" than with any consideration for the best interests of his people. But so far no stock broker has ever been made ruler of any big country, and I do not imagine that we are ever likely to witness such a choice being made.

I understand that the czar has approached the United States government with a view to ascertaining whether it would not be possible for the latter to take some measures for preventing the printing here and the export to Russia of aggressively anarchistic and revolutionary publications. It is possible that if he had contented himself with asking that some measures should be adopted to prevent the printing and export of literature inciting to outrage and murder, of an anarchistic character, measures might have been adopted to comply with his request, since it is obviously a felony to conspire and initiate here a crime to be perpetrated abroad. The mention in the demand, however, of "revolutionary and seditious" literature serves to put a political complexion upon the affair, and this being the case the United States government, like that of England, does not see how it can interfere or comply with the wishes of the czar.

Good-for-Nothin' Joe

Was three brothers in the lot—
  George, and John, and this here Joe.
George and John was on the spot,
  Joe was lazy like and slow:
Liked to loaf around the store,
  Whittlin', gassin'—well, you know
Him without me tellin' more—
  Nicknamed "Good-for-nothin' Joe."

George he went and studied law;
  John railroaded for a while—
Joe, he staid home with his ma.
  Lazy? Why, he'd hardly smile
When the boys 'd crack a joke;
  Drawled his words out soft and slow
Such times as he ever spoke—
  That was "Good-for-nothin' Joe."

George come back from time to time;
  So did John, but not for long—
Each one had his path to climb.
  Joe, he never felt real strong;
Climbin' wasn't in his line.
  Sittin' still was his best show—
Starred at that, and he was fine—
  Lazy, "Good-for-nothin' Joe."

George he whirled right into fame,
  'Way up in the government;
John he made his wealth and name
  As a railroad president.
I don't want to criticise—
  Each one has his row to hoe,
But there was no golden prize
  Won by "Good-for-nothin' Joe."

You know how these stories run,
  How the wealthy children turn
All cold hearted, and the one
  That the better people spurn
Proves a hero in the end—
  How in times of want and woe
Some poor mother must depend
  On some "Good-for-nothin' Joe."

So I reckon you can guess
  How things happened later on,
When the mother, in distress,
  Found her little savin's gone?
No, you've guessed it wrong! No, sir.
  George and John wa'n't builded so.
They are still a-keepin' her,
  Also "Good-for-nothin' Joe."

See Fred Walton in "Babes in the Wood" at the Garrick. He will give you some of the heartiest laughs you have had in a long time, and incidentally he will show you how much the theater lost when the art of pantomime was permitted to fall into disuse. Mr. Walton hails from London, where he is a great favorite and whence he has been imported to assume the rôle of the Toy Soldier in "Babes in the Wood." He first makes his appearance as the sergeant of the bodyguard of the Wicked Baron. This bodyguard consists of four wooden soldiers, of which Mr. Walton is one. Their uniform is the red coat and white trousers of Tommy Atkins, their faces are pink, their eyes black dots, and their mouths daubs of carmine. They have blocks of wood painted yellow for their shoes, and on the back of their head is a big black blotch instead of hair. They are in short just such soldiers as we had in our toy box when we were still dwellers in the happy dreamland of childhood.

The Wicked Baron's bodyguard is drawn in on a low platform on wheels. Three of the figures are carried forward into the center of the stage, but Mr. Walton stalks stiffly forward and takes his place at the end of the row. The baron begins to converse with him and the sergeant salutes. He keeps saluting until the motion gets on the baron's nerves and the soldier is ordered to stop it. Mr. Walton does not speak a word during the whole scene—in fact, the entire performance contains not so much as a vocal sound for the Toy Soldier. But there is never an instant of doubt in the onlooker's mind as to what the Toy Soldier is thinking or what he is doing. He makes but few movements, and these are mostly of the angular kind befitting a jointed plaything, but so perfect is the pantomimist's art that every motion of eye, head, hand, or body is eloquent.

Later in the first act there is a long scene in which the Toy Soldier brings on two of his fellow dummies and, taking out a document and studying it, proceeds to pin a decoration on the breast of one of them. The other one is supposed to object to this, since he believes that he himself is entitled to the preferment. Mr. Walton converses with each of the dummies in turn, speaking never a word, but his giving of assurance to the disgruntled soldier that the document does not name him, his explanation to the other what the trouble is about, his indignation when this second one objects and casts reflection upon his statements; and the final inducing of the two soldiers to accept the tossing up of a coin to determine which of them shall have the decoration—all this is done with such consummate art that it is fully intelligible, and is delightfully funny.

The audience last evening was in a shout of laughter all the time the scene was playing. And in the second act Mr. Walton has some remarkable comedy pantomiming as a salesman, and later in the restaurant scene he dances with a refinement and a grace such as have not been seen in the work of any male dancer on the local stage in many a day. Mr. Walton would alone make "Babes in the Wood" worth seeing. His work is as excessively funny as was that of the Scarecrow in "Wizard of Oz," and it is even truer art, for it is simon pure pantomime—the equal of which is but rarely to be found on the stage today.

But there are merits in "Babes in the Wood" aside from Mr. Walton's exceptional performance. There is a collie dog Touser which is a source of unalloyed joy to every lover of a canine. Mr. Latell, who is the impersonator of this delightful comrade of the two babes, must be a friend of dogs. He certainly has studied them in their every mood, and watched their every movement. The result of his studies is as perfect a presentment of a collie as could be had from any creature other than a collie itself. We have had dogs on the stage in the past, but none of them has approached in fidelity to nature and variety of accomplishments this excellent Touser of Mr. Latell's. He frisks about, he pants, he barks, he catches flies, he growls, he bites, and he throws himself down with a flop just as a vigor-filled collie pup is wont to do. And there is no exaggeration about it. It is canine impersonation, and it is so perfectly done that it merits the name of art.

The babes who went into the woods for a short time are presented in the persons of Will Archie and Adele Cox. Both are clever midgets, Archie being especially clever in his assumption of the innocence and the mischievous spirit of boyhood, and little Miss Cox being sweet and pretty in appearance and singing one song in childish fashion. Junie McCree is the Wicked Baron, who, as uncle of the youngsters, tries to get rid of them. He is not a particularly formidable and fierce uncle, but he talks his songs in effective fashion and makes all that is possible of the many scenes in which he appears. Henry Norman and J. C. Harvey, as the two robbers, are sufficiently unkempt and unshaven, and they contribute what they can to the merriment of the performance. Miss Simpson is buxom and energetic as usual as Robin Hood, wears a number of striking costumes, and sings the familiar "Moonshine" in good style. Miss Coleman is a pretty Cinderella and furnishes some of the most enjoyable vocal numbers the entertainment contains. Miss Behr is thoroughly adequate as the nurse, Lena, and Miss Muller, Miss Trevillion, and Miss English are satisfactory in small rôles. An attractive pas seul is danced by La Petite Adelaide, and in the last act the Marco twins offer their boisterous and common specialty. They are the one feature of the performance which could be spared without any loud lamentation.

As for the spectacle itself, it is so vast and so elaborate that it by rights should have a stage twice the size of that at the Garrick. The pictures are brought so close to the spectator and the people are so crowded that the effectiveness of the settings and of the groupings is impaired. It is remarkable what is accomplished, however, in the handling of such heavy settings and in the bringing of so many people upon a stage so limited in space. The performance impresses as one of the most gorgeous from a spectacular viewpoint that have been seen here.

Last evening at the Studebaker there was presented for the first time in Chicago a comedy with music entitled "The Winning Girl." Comment is deferred.

HOW TO DISPOSE OF CITY GARBAGE.

The finance committee of the city council took up the garbage question yesterday and then postponed it. There is a dispute between the committee and the commissioner of public works as to how the garbage should be handled, and as the mayor agrees with the commissioner the committee decided to think twice about the question.

The majority in the committee claims that incineration is the proper method of disposing of garbage and that the whole job should be let by contract. The commissioner believes in reduction and furthermore is of the opinion that it would be better for the city to collect the garbage itself and simply let the contract for the disposal.

So Mr. Patterson yesterday collated some figures prepared by Supt. Fox of the street cleaning department, showing that the city could save $57,708 a year if it did its own collecting, and wrote this letter for the edification of the committee:

"Those who have interested themselves in the problem of garbage disposal in Chicago are agreed on this proposition: The dumps must go. Dumps poison the air for miles around; and if ground made by dumping is dug up years afterwards it is found still putrid. Dumping is a barbarous anachronism for a twentieth century city.

"There is also general agreement that garbage must be collected daily from all houses in the city. For, while swill under twenty-four hours old is comparatively inoffensive and harmless, stale swill which has been left to decay for two or more days becomes unpleasant and dangerous to health. Especially is this true in hot weather.

"Shall garbage collected be disposed of by reduction or incineration? Reduction consists in squeezing the liquid out of the garbage; skimming the grease from this liquid, and converting the dry residue into fertilizer. About 3 per cent of the liquid can be saved for grease, the remainder running off into some large body of water. But this liquid is perfectly sanitary and comparatively odorless because it has been cooked at a temperature of 313 degrees Fahrenheit for twelve hours.

"Incineration is simply burning. The advantage of this method is that such waste material as paper, wood, etc., is disposed of at the same time, while under reduction it requires separate treatment.

"Garbage, however, is difficult to burn, since over 80 per cent of it is water. So much coal is used that the process is expensive while there are no by-products which being sold can reduce the cost of destruction. Garbage can probably not be burned for under $2 a ton, while it can be rendered for considerably under $1 a ton, once the rendering plant is built.

"Boston, Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Pittsburg, and Cleveland render their garbage, while the instances of success in economical incineration are rare and not well proven.

"On the whole, therefore, until the case for incineration is better established in this country it would seem that Chicago would do wiser to try reduction.

"Shall the rendering be done by the municipality or a private corporation? There are many trade secrets in the rendering process of which the city is not yet master. The business is an exceedingly intricate one in its present stage of development. I, therefore, strongly advise that for the present the rendering be done by private enterprise.

"But, in the specifications for garbage disposal lately drawn up by the finance committee, it was provided that the collection of garbage also be done by private contract. This, in my judgment, would be a great mistake.

"New York collects its garbage and turns it over to the rendering concern. Philadelphia lets out both collection and reduction to a private concern.

"Now, the requisite for success in rendering is proper separation. The swill proper (kitchen refuse) must be in a different receptacle from the ashes and rubbish (paper, wood, cloth, cans, etc.). Ashes and rubbish ruin the rendering machinery quickly.

"In New York, by its contract, the city contracts to deliver to the rendering firm 95 per cent pure garbage. The city uses its police to compel householders to separate their refuse. Police cause more impression on householders than employés of a garbage firm. So, as a matter of fact, New York delivers garbage to the rendering firm which contains less than 2 per cent of foreign matter. Collections are made daily, with mathematical accuracy. There is never a complaint on this score. Under the present New York government there is no politics in garbage collection nor in street cleaning.

"In Philadelphia, on the other hand, because the machinery of the city government is not used to enforce separation, separation is far less perfect. Frequently there is as much as from 20 to 25 per cent of foreign material in Philadelphia garbage.

"The city has tried to enforce daily collection in the following way: Whenever a complaint is made by a householder the contract firm is fined $5, without appeal, and the firm puts the $5 against the driver.

"In the old Philadelphia days this arrangement was unquestionably a fruitful field. Fines were imposed when drivers had not been derelict. They had no recourse. This method was used to discipline them when delinquent at the primaries. One of the high officials and chief stockholders in the Philadelphia concern informed me that shortly after he had moved into a new house one of his drivers was fined on complaint of a householder. Investigation showed that the city's books showed a complaint of noncollection had been made by the holder of the house into which the rendering company official had moved. Of course, the complaint was not bona fide. The driver probably was behind in his dues to the ward club.

"Even the briefest reflection must convince the experienced that politics might be played more rigorously under such a system than would be possible under our civil service law at its present state of efficiency.

"There is this further consideration. The city must either collect the garbage itself or supervise its collection. If the city is unable to collect its garbage properly it is also unable to supervise its collection by contractors.

"Contractors are in it for the money. They will, if they do their own collecting, spend much of their energy in preventing other collectors from getting the 'richest' garbage (that coming from hotels and restaurants). This is the case in Philadelphia and Pittsburg. By the same token they will, if they conveniently can, omit the collection of the 'poor' garbage, which is not rich in grease. And especially will they try to evade making too many long hauls too often, which wear out horseflesh and eat up wages for the amount of refuse collected. It pays the garbage company not to collect from outlying districts oftener than possible.

"With the city collecting, on the other hand, this motive would not enter. The city would not be in the business for profit, and would not, therefore, center its attention on the profitable short hauls of 'rich' garbage, but would treat all alike.

"Again, if the city lets out garbage collection by contract, there will remain for disposition ashes, rubbish, and street dirt. Should the city abdicate these municipal functions also? If not, it must go into the teaming business for itself, buy land where necessary, build stables in various parts of the city, buy horses, and hire drivers.

"The past system of hiring leaky wagons and wornout, half dead horses from political favorites at the rate of $4.50 a day has been a joke—and an expensive one to the city. It must be said in fairness, however, that no team owner would send a good horse into the dump, where a cut from a piece of old glass or can will allow the poison from the decayed swill to enter the blood of the horse and kill him."

John Dowdle is the lowest bidder for the garbage contract, having bid $794,000 for the first year, $480,000 for the second year, and an advance of $20,000 for each of the following three years. Dowdle is a teaming contractor and has no reduction plant, and it is understood that Armour & Co. will have the disposition of the garbage. It is believed that the Dowdle bid is that of the packing corporation.

The next bid is that of Darling & Co., who have a reduction plant of their own, and who make a bid of $743,000 for each of the five years for both the collection and disposition of the garbage. The American Reduction company is the third bidder, making a price of $1,045,000 for the first year, $940,000 for the second year, $960,000, $980,000, and $995,000 respectively for the following three years.

NATIONAL BANK EXAMINATIONS.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The article of your Washington correspondent in THE TRIBUNE of Nov. 10, calling attention to the inefficiency of national bank examinations, is, I think, suggestive.

Is not the solution of the matter the adoption of the British practice with regard to banks and most forms of corporate enterprise—viz.: the periodical examination of the accounts by auditors elected by the shareholders at the annual meeting and responsible to them? Under the British companies act of 1900 this is compulsory. Sections 21, 23, and 28 are as follows:

"Section 21. Every company shall at each annual general meeting appoint an auditor or auditors to hold office until the next annual general meeting.

"Section 23. Every auditor of a company shall have a right of access at all times to the books and accounts and vouchers of the company, and shall be entitled to require from the directors and officers of the company such information and explanation as may be necessary for the performance of the duties of the auditors, and the auditors shall sign a certificate at the foot of the balance sheet stating whether or not all their requirements as auditors have been complied with, and shall make a report to the shareholders on the accounts examined by them, and on every balance sheet laid before the company in general meeting during their tenure of office; and in every such report shall state whether, in their opinion, the balance sheet referred to in the report is properly drawn up, so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the company's affairs as shown by the books of the company, and such report shall be read before the company in general meeting.

"Section 28. If any person in any return, certificate, balance sheet, or other document required by or for the purposes of this act, willfully makes a statement false in any material particular, knowing it to be false, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labor, and on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding four months, with or without hard labor, and in either case to a fine in lieu of or in addition to such imprisonment as aforesaid; provided, that the fine imposed on summary conviction shall not exceed £100."

The difficulty formerly in the United States was the absence of competent professional accountants from whose ranks the auditors might be appointed, but this has now been overcome by the adoption in the leading states of the union of the certified public accountants acts, which have called into existence a body of men answering to the British chartered accountants, who are nearly always appointed as the auditors in question. Any person can call himself an expert accountant, public accountant, or expert bookkeeper. He cannot call himself a certified public accountant, if he has not been admitted, without being guilty of a misdemeanor and subjecting himself to a heavy fine every time he does so.

Sir Alfred Harmsworth, the British publisher, recently purchased the London World.

Albert Fredericci, at one time a famous operatic baritone, now practically controls the roast chestnut trade of New York.

Sir Conan Doyle and other public spirited men have started in to ascertain whether tobacco can be grown profitably in Ireland.

The king of Greece has conferred the order of officer of the "Order of the Savior" on M. A. Constatinis, president of the Jewish community in Athens.

President Eliot of Harvard, now 70 years of age, declares that one of the most desirable satisfactions of his life comes from having nothing to do with the attainment of wealth.

One of Lord Rosebery's hobbies is the collecting of books. He is something of a poet when in the mood, and will, on occasion, turn out impromptu verse for the edification of friends.

Count Benckendorff, the Russian ambassador at London, might have made a comfortable living with his brush. Years ago he studied painting in Italy and achieved considerable success.

August Forster, who is more than a millionaire and a son of a recently deceased St. Louis packer, is slaughtering hogs at $10 a week. He is 22 years old and a graduate of the University of Missouri.

According to Miss Katherine Carl, who painted a portrait of the dowager empress of China, the impression that she is a bloodthirsty wretch is erroneous. Miss Carl found her not only pleasing but also a very intellectual woman.

CRIBSIDE SOCIETY MAKING ARRANGEMENTS FOR A KIRMESS.

It Will Take Place in Orchestra Hall Jan. 8, 9, and 10—Onwentsia Hunt Club Makes Announcements for Last of Season—Mrs. John Morron Hostess at a Dinner—Harmony Guild to Give a Card Party Next Monday Afternoon.

The Cribside society is arranging an entertainment to be given at Orchestra hall on the evenings of Jan. 8, 9, and 10, for the benefit of the Children's Memorial hospital. The affair will be in the nature of a kirmess, the whole taking part in it to be many of the representative members of society.

The feature of the performance will be dancing, and instructors will come from the east to act with Chicago instructors in the work of drilling those who will take part. The costumes will play an important part, and already plans are under way to have some of them imported. There will be all manner of dances—French, German, Italian, Indian, in fact, almost every country will be represented. There will be also many eccentric dances, such as one to be known as the "Ballet of the Hours."

Mrs. Stanley Field is president of the Cribside committee. Mrs. Russell Tyson is president of the auxiliary board of the hospital. Miss Margaret Winterbotham is in charge of the kirmess, and among her assistants are Mrs. John A. Carpenter and Miss Louise Catford.

The Onwentsia Hunt club has issued announcements to the effect that the regular Tuesday morning hunt today will be followed by a breakfast at the club. The other meets of the week will take place Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, and Saturday afternoon at 3. After next Tuesday morning's hunt Mr. Alexander de Nuber will act as host at the hunt breakfast at the club. The final runs of the season will fall on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and on Thanksgiving day, at 11 o'clock in the morning.

Mrs. Arthur Meeker, 1815 Prairie avenue, is giving a series of small and informal dinners for her sister-in-law, Mrs. David Cook of California, and her mother, Mrs. A. B. Wood, who are here on a visit to her. Last evening her guests numbered six, and later attended the theater. Thursday evening another small dinner will be followed by "squash," the Meeker residence having one of the few squash courts in town.

Mrs. John R. Morron, 3206 Michigan avenue, gave a dinner last evening for Miss Mary Canby and her guests, the Misses Dunsmore of Minneapolis and Miss Margaret Swindell of Baltimore. Miss Canby was a débutante of Saturday. Miss Pauline Morton, who was her guest at the time, and who assisted at the reception given by Mrs. Canby for her daughter, left for her home in New York on Sunday.

Mrs. Charles William Merrifes of Winnetka has cards out for Tuesdays, Dec. 5 and 12.

Miss Margaret Kendrick, 466 Elm street, will give a young people's tea on Wednesday, Nov. 22, from 4 until 7 o'clock, for Miss Ethel Millard of Rochester, N. Y., who is to be her guest for several weeks.

Harmony guild will give a large euchre party at the Chicago Beach hotel next Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, for the benefit of several charities in which the guild is interested.

Mrs. Albert Gridley has closed her summer home, Ravine Place, at Geneva, and with her son, Mr. Logan A. Gridley, has taken the Jerreme apartment in Grand boulevard for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Eichberg, 3816 Grand boulevard, are in New York.

SOCIETY IN NATION'S CAPITAL.

Speaker Cannon and Daughter Take Possession of Their Vermont Avenue Residence for Season.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Speaker Cannon and Miss Helen Cannon, his daughter, will arrive in Washington tomorrow afternoon and take possession of their residence in Vermont avenue for the rest of the season.

Capt. Edmund Tyler and Mrs. Tyler are at the Grafton, where they will spend a part of the season.

The residence of Gen. and Mrs. Henry C. Corbin at Twenty-second and R streets, which was occupied by Mrs. Mark Hanna last winter, has been leased for this season by Senator Bulkeley of Connecticut, successor to Senator Hawley, and he will take immediate possession.

Something to Remember about

"LOWNEY'S"

We are manufacturers, not mixers.

We buy the highest cost cocoa beans that are grown—and those only—and more of them than any other manufacturer.

We buy everything in the largest quantities.

We have marvelously perfect machinery and the most skilful and experienced people.

We have a reputation to maintain, and we use no dyes or adulterants.

Our Chocolate Bonbons, Breakfast Cocoa, Culinary Chocolate and Eating Chocolate are world famous.

Nothing finer or better can be made than we make.

We sell at as low a price as such goods can possibly be sold.

When other makers offer to sell at lower prices, what is the logical conclusion?

WOMAN GIVES 160 ACRE TRACT FOR NEW TUBERCULOSIS CAMP

Mrs. Edward L. Gaylord Also Will Provide Funds for Maintaining "Outdoor" Hospital Near Blue Island.

A new tuberculosis camp is to be established near Blue Island for the benefit of Chicagoans suffering with the disease. It is to be the gift of Mrs. Edward L. Gaylord, who has donated 160 acres of land to make the institution one of the most modern of the kind in the United States. Mrs. Gaylord also will provide the fund for the maintenance of the camp.

The equipment of the institution will cost about $5,000. Probably twenty-five patients will be taken care of at the beginning. The camp will be given over to the supervision of the Visiting Nurse association, whose work Mrs. Gaylord has watched with interest for some time. Last summer she inspected its camp at Glencoe, and her offer to found another camp was the result.

The new institution will be opened in the spring and will be conducted along the ideas of fresh air living. The homes of the patients will be tents, according to the modern systems operated elsewhere. Mrs. Gaylord is a member of the directors of the Visiting Nurse association.

HUSBAND PUT ON PROBATION.

Justice Hurley Paroles William Lintner, Accused of Abandoning Wife and Children.

William Lintner of Pullman, accused of abandoning his wife and children, appeared in Justice Hurley's court yesterday in a contrite spirit, after ten days spent in the county jail.

"I am going to straighten up now," he pleaded, "and I will work and support my family."

"I don't know about these promises," interposed Justice Hurley. "This case will be continued until Nov. 22. In the meantime I'll let you free to find work. When your pay day comes around, bring it to me and I will turn it over to your wife."

Lintner turned away without a word and walked out of the courtroom.

A "raid" on the fathers of the west side in the vicinity of the Deering street police station was conducted during the day by Lieut. Wood and five policemen. Fifteen men were arrested on charges of neglecting their families. Justice Hurley gave the fathers a warning lecture, after which they were fined court costs.

Burger, and will be assisted by Miss Alice Genevive Smith, harpist; Mrs. Lillian French Read, soprano; Miss Emma Hosech Dawdy, contralto; Miss Gladys Carpenter, soprano; Miss Harriet Nurnberger, alto; George L. Tenney, tenor; David Grosch, baritone; C. P. Swift, bass.

DR. F. W. GUNSAULUS SCORES "SENTIMENTAL RELIGIONISTS."

In Address at Memorial Meeting to the Late Sir George Williams He Declares That Englishman's Firm Adherence to Ideas of Honor and Duty Won Success for Organization Where "Weaker Tactics" Would Have Failed—Others Praise Him.

So called "sentimental religionists" were scored by the Rev. Frank W. Gunsaulus, president of Armour Institute of Technology, yesterday in an address at the memorial meeting to Sir George Williams, founder of the Young Men's Christian association, in the Association building's auditorium.

"Sir George Williams was great," said Dr. Gunsaulus, "because he had the qualities of youth, its enthusiasm and undefeated energy. He was square and fair, and personally gave tone to the work which he began by holding ideas of honor and duty more firmly than most sentimental religionists have done.

"He knew that the young man, who receives impressions readily, must have expression and not repression. He saw that the bible was the young man's book and ministered to his spiritual freedom, quickened conscience, and highest aspirations."

The auditorium of the central association was crowded with men of all classes and ages, in honor of the memory of the great Englishman who founded the organization in 1844, and who died recently in London at the age of 84 years. A biographical sketch was given by Edward A. Halsey, manager of the central department.

Resolutions expressing regret and pledging support to the principles which Sir George held fundamental to the society were adopted.

THRASHED MASHERS ARE FINED

Dr. Cassell and Brother Appear Against Husband Who Beat Them and Meet New Downfall.

Any husband who finds it necessary to thrash another man for "making eyes" at his wife will find a stanch friend in Justice Prindiville of the Harrison street police court. This was demonstrated yesterday when Dr. Owen E. Cassell, 4166 Halsted street, and his brother, Moses A. Cassell, appeared against Robert Singer, 3105 Groveland avenue, for the beating which the latter gave them Sunday for winking at Mrs. Singer in a restaurant at 3105 Cottage Grove avenue. Their charges against the husband were dismissed and they were each fined $50 and costs.

"I gave them the best licking I could," said Singer in response to the "innocent or guilty" query.

"Well, it was a peach," said the justice, surveying the two battered complainants.

STOCKS LOW; MONEY HIGH

DULL TRADING RESULTS FROM STRINGENCY OF FINANCE.

Rate for Call Loans Goes Up to 20 Per Cent Early in Day on Account of Monetary Pressure—Rumors of Relief by Treasury—Possibility of Importation of Gold as Result of Drop in the Foreign Exchange Rate—Other Financial News.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 13.—[Special.]—The trading in stocks today was dull, owing to the money stringency, which is greater than at any time since the autumn of 1902. The rate for call loans ran up early in the day to 20 per cent, large sums being loaned at that rate.

In spite of the lofty flights of the money rate rumors persisted of some early measure of relief soon to develop. These consisted for a time of a reiteration of reports that the treasury department was to intervene, but the official announcement of Secretary Shaw's indisposition to take any measures unless convinced that business interests, as distinguished from speculative, are likely to suffer, offset the effect of these reports.

The violent fall in the foreign exchange rate gave rise to consideration of a possible import movement of gold. Whatever may be the outcome, the high rates for money were effective in inducing the placing of heavy sums in the loan market for the account of foreign capital.

The substantial recovery in the market was due to the good effect of the relief afforded to money by the break in sterling exchange. The late rush in the money rate up to 25 per cent was not regarded as normal any more than the sudden relapse to 6 per cent, but the effect was unsettling on the closing tone, which was irregular, but with some prices at the highest point.

Money on call, strong and higher, 6@25 per cent, closing bid 23. Time loans, firm; 60 days and 90 days, 7; six months, 6. Prime mercantile paper 5@5½ per cent. Sterling exchange weak, closing firmer, with actual business in bankers bills at 485.15@485.20 for demand and at 481.75@481.80 for sixty day bills. Posted rates 483@483½ and 486½@487. Commercial bills, 481¼. Bar silver, 62⅝c. Mexican dollars, 48⅝c. Government bonds, strong; railroad bonds, weak.

LOCAL LINES GO OVER.

FEAR OF TIGHT MONEY AN EXCUSE FOR SELLING GRAINS.

Wheat Depressed in Spite of Firm Tone of Foreign Markets, but Reacts Partially on Heavy Covering—Corn Weak on Unloading by Big Operators, but Good Shipping Demand Develops on the Break—Exports of Oats Continue Liberal.

High prices paid in Wall street for call loans and weakness in stocks affected the temper of the average professional speculator in grains. Vigorous local selling pressure forced prices lower and brought out some new stop loss liquidation, as it was intended to do.

However, after December had sold off 1⅛c to 85c and May ⅞c to 87½c, with offerings only moderate at the low point, the market recovered, scoring a fair rally. There was some heavy buying by commission houses and local shorts covered, taking profits.

The appearance of a more active milling demand for one of the varieties of contract wheat here and reports of bad weather in Argentina were important influences in bringing about the reaction. December closed at 85⅝c, with a loss of ½c, and May at 88c, a loss of ⅝c.

Receipts were liberal all through the west, particularly in the local market, where arrivals were 311 cars, compared with 51 last year, and 299 were estimated for today. There were 1,075 cars northwest compared with 1,089 last year, and the total movement to primary market was 1,548,000 bu, compared with 1,245,000 bu.

The visible supply statement, however, was not encouraging to further bear effort, the increase for the week only 1,836,000 bu, compared with one of 2,940,000 bu a year ago, and the total of 31,732,000 bu, only 419,000 bu more than last year, in spite of the fact that the movement has been from a much larger crop.

Millers in the Market.

The feature of the local cash market was the demand for the No. 2 red in store from millers, one of the local mills taking 100,000 bu, and sales of 5,000 bu more to Tennessee mills being reported. The transactions were at 1c over December in store, a higher price by ½c than mills were willing to pay on Saturday. Elevator interests took the bulk of the carlot arrivals to make contract grade. Minneapolis reported a good cash demand, with the mills the best buyers, but at Kansas City the demand was called slow, and a similar complaint came from Duluth. Local millers were still doing a fair export business. Some Minneapolis messages claimed export bids were decidedly lower. Seaboard clearances of wheat and flour were 167,000 bu. World's shipments were slightly over the estimate, 12,522,000 bu, but foreign markets were generally firm, Liverpool ⅛d higher to ⅛d lower, Paris unchanged to ⅛c higher, Berlin up ⅛c, and Budapest up ⅝c. On passage cargoes were quoted quiet, with little bidding.

Commission selling of May was led by Logan-Bryan, Pringle-Fitch-Rankin, Ware-Leland, Lake, Bartlett-Frazier, and Scott-Monahan, and O'Brien was the best seller of December, of which there was scattered liquidation in small lots. On the buying side the prominent feature was the absorption of about 1,250,000 bu May by Wrenn, supposed to be the covering of short sales made during the previous fortnight, although some traders thought the buying might be for Lichstern. Love, Gillett, Kneeland-Clement-Curtis, and Barrell were other buyers.

More Pressure on Corn.

Clear weather over the corn belt, favorable for saving and moving the crop, and increased selling by receiving houses, indicative of larger country acceptances, added to the recent troubles of the bulls. There was more miscellaneous liquidation, several good sized local lines of May went over, and the bears helped the break along until there had been a decline of 1c, to 44⅝c. Covering operations closed the market ¼c over bottom. A fair shipping demand developed on the break, sales being 500,000 bu, and December was relatively firm, losing ⅛c to ⅛c. Cash prices were off ½c to 1c. Most of the cash business was with the seaboard, but a dull export demand was reported, sales 40,000 bu. Clearances were 322,000. There were 474 cars inspected in and 219 estimated. Primary receipts were 878,000 bu, compared with 406,000 bu last year. The visible supply showed its first increase in some weeks, but a small one—83,000 bu. Liverpool prices were unchanged for both futures and spot. Wagner and Bartlett-Frazier were active sellers of May. Comstock and Geahart unloaded lines taken on last week, and Kidston, who has been supposed to operate largely for Armour, sold 1,000,000 bu or more. Other Armour brokers, however, were buyers. Pringle-Fitch-Rankin, Love, Requa, Sterling, and O'Brien took corn, and Patten's house turned buyer on the dip to 45c.

Oats Share Lower Tendency.

Oats were affected by the weakness in other grains and by selling by the leading long house, but on the consequent break of ¼c cash houses were good buyers and the market closed at 32c bid, a net loss of ⅛c. Cash prices were ¼@½c lower and the shipping demand not quite as active as it had been. Sales 150,000 bu in addition to 250,000 bu marked for export late Saturday. Seaboard advices said there was a better demand for oats than for any other cereal but only moderate sales were reported, 50,000 bu. Clearances were liberal at 386,000 bu. There were 333 cars in and 320 estimated. The visible supply decreased 42,000 bu for the week, the first decrease in a long time. Bartlett-Frazier were heavy sellers at 32c and there was selling by Buckley, Peavey, Wagner, Ed Hunter, and Ware-Leland. The buying was scattered.

Provisions Are Featureless.

Firm early, the provision market dragged along in a featureless way, becoming toward the last depressed, in sympathy with the grain weakness. The small gains noted at the outset were absent on the closing transactions, which were unchanged from last prices of the previous session. At the opening there was some buying of lard on foreign account, and quite a few May ribs were wanted by commission houses, offerings being slight. The trade subsequently became dull and subject to waves of scattered selling, mostly by local traders. Hogs were 5c lower. Receipts were 36,000, and western markets all told had 83,400, against 82,200 last year. Cash demand on domestic account was called fair. Meat shipments were 2,263,000 lbs, against 1,731,000 lbs a year ago, and lard shipments 1,948,000 lbs, against 785,000 lbs last year.

Rye, Barley, and Seeds.

Rye futures were ½c to 1½c lower in sympathy with wheat. There were no sales reported. Receipts were 21 cars. December closed 71½c asked, May 74½c asked. Cash No. 2 sold at 69c to 73c f. o. b. and 70c billed through. No. 3 sold at 67c to 68c f. o. b., and No. 4, 63@64c.

Barley was ½c lower for feed, but steady for other grades. Receipts were 122 cars. Malting ranged from 40c to 53c, feed, 38c, and screenings, 25c to 40c.

Timothy seed was quiet and steady. November closed at $3.20; January, $3.50; March, $3.40. Country lots ranged from $2.50 to $3.20. Clover seed was unchanged. Prime and November, $13.00. Country lots ranged from $10.00 to $13.00.

Flaxseed was unchanged. Spot No. 1 southwestern closed at 93½c bid and No. 1 northwestern $1.00. Minneapolis receipts were 135 cars, Duluth had 86 cars, and Chicago 2 cars.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON 'CHANGE.

Owners of drying establishments, whether their speculative interests at the moment are on the bull or the bear side of the market, do not take kindly to the suggestion of the state grain inspection department that kiln dried corn should not be graded higher than No. 3, which would eliminate it as a contract grade, except at a 5c discount. Their contention is that corn should be graded on its merits when offered for inspection and they point to the fact that kiln dried corn has been shipped east and exported in the spring when winter shelled No. 2 corn is not available because of danger of its heating. In explaining the attitude of the state department, Chief Inspector Cowen says: "About two years ago this department got into a whole lot of trouble over some 450,000 bu of kiln dried corn shipped down to Buffalo. It was inspected out of here as contract, but when they loaded it off at the other end it resembled an aboriginal brand of corn meal. The stuff had literally been cooked to pieces. We have not had any trouble to speak of since then, but there is always the danger, and the interest and reputation of the trade would be better protected if the proposed change is adopted."

The visible supply of wheat increased 1,826,000 bu. Chief points of accumulation were: Buffalo, 248,000 bu; Chicago, 155,000 bu; Duluth, 332,000 bu; Minneapolis, 420,000 bu. There was an increase of 901,000 bu on the lakes and 264,000 bu on the canal. Stocks at Fort William and Port Arthur decreased 562,000 bu, which would indicate Canadian shippers are having better success in forwarding their wheat. The corn visible increased 83,000 bu, rye 29,000 bu, barley 547,000 bu, and oats decreased 42,000 bu. Stocks in detail follow:

World's shipments of wheat last week reflected the falling off in exports from America and Russia, which, however, was partially offset by the heavier contribution from Argentina. The shipments in detail follow:

Local millers were good buyers of cash wheat, taking 100,000 bu No. 2 red at 1c over December price. A 5,000 bu lot sold to a Nashville miller at the same premium. Elevator people took most of the carlot offerings, which sold at the same relative difference as heretofore. Kansas City prices were steady to ½c lower, with millers taking all the best grades. Demand at Minneapolis was reported good with No. 1 northern selling at 2½@3c premium over December. Comparative f. o. b. prices follow:

The important change in the position of this country as an exporter of breadstuffs and coarse grains from a year ago is strikingly shown by a comparison of the clearances from Atlantic and gulf ports last week, compared with shipments for the corresponding period a year ago. Exports of wheat were 2,000,000 bu, against 152,000 bu a year ago, and while a considerable quantity of Canadian wheat going through Boston and other ports in bond was undoubtedly included, this does not apply to the flour shipments, which were 289,100 brls, compared with 77,500 brls, or, reduced to bushels, 1,261,000, against 349,000. Exports of corn were 845,000 bu, compared with 190,000 bu; oats, 1,450,000 bu, none at all having been exported last year, and of barley 333,000 bu, compared with 157,000 bu. Of all grains and flour exports were 5,898,000 bu, compared with 848,000 bu.

Since Armour took a block of 600,000 bu No. 2 red winter wheat ten days ago that quality had gained 1c on the price of futures. That trade was made at December price in store, and No. 2 red sold yesterday at 1c over December. Under a good local and outside milling demand that this grade of wheat should go to a premium in spite of the liberal stocks here is no surprise to the cash trade. The quality of the grain is unusually good this year. Millers in the older winter wheat states have an established trade which demands flour made from red winter wheat when it is obtainable, and the area devoted to its cultivation in the older states is slowly but steadily decreasing, owing to the exhaustion of the land and other causes.

Corn traders were busy making guesses, and then changing them, as to the identity of the principal for whom Kidston sold about 1,000,000 bu May corn. As Kidston was supposed to have acted for Armour in making heavy purchases of late, the first guess was that the selling was for Armour account, and then that Patten was using an Armour house in the effort to depress the market. Both these guesses were given up on the reported discovery that the selling was for a big local trader who had been tailing on to the Armour purchases, but was less able to stand the discouragement of a 2c break. Several other local long lines went over.

Contract stocks of wheat increased 114,572 bu for the week; corn decreased 14,789 bu; oats increased 27,936 bu. Details follow:

Duluth shippers were inclined to lament the paucity of the cash demand for wheat from the east and to point to the fact that stocks there aggregated 4,300,000 bu, a large supply so near the close of navigation. "Eastern buyers are taking more or less wheat," said a message to Daggett, "but at concessions on the part of the sellers. Trades are at all times forced."

"Receipts of wheat have dropped off," said a Kansas City message, "because local mills are taking all good wheat at prices that do not admit of its coming to Kansas City. Poor wheat coming here is being picked up freely for export south. Mexico has taken a good deal."

Only a moderate business was done in bids and offers. December wheat bids sold at 85⅛c to 85⅛@85¼c and offers at 86⅛c and 86¼c. May wheat bids 87½@87⅝c to 87⅝@87¾c and offers 88⅛c to 88⅛@88⅜c. Bids on May corn 44⅞c to 45c and offers 45⅛c to 45½@45⅝c.

The break in the corn market enabled shippers to do a bigger business than they have executed in some time. Sales aggregated 665,000 bu, largely for December shipments. Sales of oats 425,000 bu, including 280,000 bu sold to Germany late Saturday.

Wheat supplies on passage for Europe increased 1,997,000 bu last week, and the total quantity afloat now is 31,176,000 bu, compared with 38,200,000 bu last year. Corn increased 714,000 bu, 10,879,000 bu, compared with 18,688,000 bu a year ago.

In three weeks local receipts of wheat have aggregated about 2,800,000 bu in excess of shipments, but the bulk of the arrivals have gone into private elevators, stocks in public houses showing an increase of only 671,000 bu in that time.

"There are 202 cars of corn here today," Kansas City wired Logan-Bryan, "and with favorable weather we will get 400 cars daily by the end of the month."

Export sales at the seaboard were 16,000 bu macaroni wheat at 95c f. o. b. New York, January shipment; 168,000 bu corn, and 70,000 bu oats.

Estimated receipts for today are: Wheat, 299 cars; corn, 289 cars; oats, 320 cars; rye, 12 cars; barley, 107 cars; hogs, 24,000.

EXCITED TRADING IN COTTON.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The cotton market was excited with transactions during the first hour on a larger scale than for weeks. Later business was not so active and the market ruled irregular, but the close was easy at a net decline of 33@48 points. Sales were estimated at 800,000 bales. There was good buying on reports that the secretary of agriculture had given out an interview placing the crop at about 10,000,000 bales. A message received from Secretary Wilson during the late trading stated that the report pointed to a crop of more than 10,000,000 bales.

ON THE LOCAL EXCHANGE.

LAMONT'S PLACE FILLED IN SECURITIES DIRECTORATE.

James N. Hill Elected to Fill Vacancy at Meeting of Stockholders, at Which Also Were Named James J. Hill, George F. Baker, George W. Perkins, and Nicholas Terhune—No Dividend Declared on Northwestern "L" Preferred.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Northern Securities company yesterday the following directors were elected to serve for three years: James J. Hill, George F. Baker, George W. Perkins, James N. Hill, and Nicholas Terhune.

James N. Hill was elected in place of the late Daniel Lamont. A formal resolution was adopted approving all the acts of the officers, directors, and executive committee during the previous year.

Northwestern "L" Matters.

J. B. Dennis of Blair & Co. is in Chicago in connection with general matters of the Northwestern Elevated and the other street railroad properties in which Blair & Co. are interested.

Agitation for a dividend on the preferred stock of the Northwestern is wholly futile. The voting trustees are men who will not be influenced by petitions of speculative holders in Chicago. The company is a small one, and the trustees have several times signified their intention of using the earnings of the company in extensions and improvements rather than paying them out in dividends and borrowing for the purposes indicated.

Boxboard Plan Prepared?

The Chicago News Bureau yesterday had the following from New York on United Boxboard:

"Details of the plan of reorganization of the United Boxboard and Paper company, which have long been under consideration, are completed and approved by the directors. A special meeting of the stockholders will be held shortly to ratify the plan. Transfer books will close for this meeting on Nov. 20. While official announcement of its terms has not been made, it is understood that the plan will provide for the extension of the time of maturity of the company's bonds for a long term of years. The arrangement is designed to facilitate materially the company's operation and simplify its financial obligations. Formal announcement of the provisions of the plan will soon be made to stockholders."

Transfer books of the preferred and common stocks will close on Nov. 20 and reopen on Dec. 19, according to the same authorities.

France and Russian Bonds.

In important financial quarters in London, as voiced by the Statist, there is held to be little probability of a panic among French holders of Russian bonds, and in consequence equally slight probability of a crash upon the London and continental exchanges, something which might be expected to occur were French holders differently disposed. In discussing the calmness of the latter and reciting the fact that throughout the war they refrained from selling, the paper continues:

"It is in the interest of France that Russia should be kept strong. They will hope, therefore, that Russia may soon overcome her difficulties. In the meantime they will do nothing to add to those difficulties. They are persuaded that Russia will keep faith with all her creditors, and they are content to see the quotations for their securities low, in the full assurance that they will receive the interest to which they are entitled regularly as it falls due. So long then as a revolution is avoided those best acquainted with France are of opinion there will be no scare amongst the holders of Russian securities.

Crash in Market Not Expected.

"If there be a revolution, those best in a position to judge think there will be no great scare. The present government has proved itself incompetent in war and in peace alike. It has not known when to yield and when to be firm. It has committed atrocities which were quite unnecessary, and it has actually set nationalities against nationalities. Therefore, many thinking Frenchmen are of opinion that it would be much better for Russia and, therefore, for France if an entirely different system of government were established. It is obvious that a free Russia would be much more in sympathy with a free France than could be an autocratic Russia. Therefore, many exceedingly good judges hold that even a revolution in Russia would not bring about a scare amongst the holders of Russian bonds, and, consequently, would not cause a smash upon the bourse.

"Everybody knows that with good government Russia has almost boundless potentialities. With good government her wealth will grow. And whatever difficulties lie before her in the immediate future she will overcome and will become a really great power. Therefore, the financial world will be ready to lend to her as long as she has a real government, whether that government be legitimate or revolutionary. Over and above this it will be recollected that from a financial point of view it would be a grave matter for France, Germany, and Holland if Russia were to default. It seems, then, not at all likely that anything will occur to scare French holders of Russian bonds. And if that be so a crash upon the bourse is not in sight."

Amalgamated Copper.

Benjamin B. Thayer, assistant to H. H. Rogers, president of the Amalgamated Copper company, is quoted as saying since his return from Montana:

"The general physical condition of our properties is better than ever before, and our output for the current year will be fully as large as for any year in the history of the company.

"We have just made contracts for the electrical machinery with which to operate our large concentrators, the electric light system in the city of Anaconda, and to operate our electric trolley system. The saving in operating expenses of the concentrators alone will more than pay for the installation of the electrical machinery each year. We expect the new electrical system will be in full operation with the next twelve months."

General Financial News.

The Ely & Walker Dry Goods company of St. Louis will shortly increase its capital stock from $3,000,000 to $4,500,000 by an issue of second preferred stock amounting to $1,500,000.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad has applied to the London stock exchange to list $32,420,000 fifty year 4 per cent convertible coupon bonds of 1955.

The New York subtreasury was a debtor at the clearing house yesterday morning to the extent of $320,230.

IN THE FOREIGN MONEY MARKET

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Money was fairly abundant and in moderate demand today. Discounts were steady, though fractionally easier.

On the stock exchange business was virtually at a standstill beyond adjusting the settlement. The Russian situation continued to cause uneasiness and the market closed depressed on continental selling. Consols were fairly steady. Home rails generally were supported. Americans opened weak at below parity on New York selling, recovered afterwards to above parity, and seesawed with scanty support. Prices weakened later and closed flat on renewed New York selling. Foreigners generally were sluggish. Russians were weak and Japanese were firm. Kaffirs were depressed. Japanese imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 101⅛.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Prices on the bourse today opened firm, but became depressed and closed weak. Russian imperial 4s were quoted at 90.00 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 516.00.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—In most departments of the boerse today business was dull. Americans were weaker upon New York advices. Coal shares were active.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 13.—[Special.]—Liquidation on an extensive scale sent prices off sharply this morning, but there was good buying on the decline, which was arrested before any serious declines occurred with the exception of 9 points on Tamarack and 5 in Calumet. After an early break a slow recovery set in which carried prices of copper stocks back to net losses of about ⅜ of a point. Railroads and industrials declined a point ½ point. Call loans were marked up in some cases. Call loans, 7@8 per cent; time loans, collateral, 5¼@6 per cent; time loans, mercantile paper, 5@5½ per cent; clearing house loans, 6 per cent.

Cattle.

Good steers sold readily, but other cattle were in small demand, buyers being well supplied and unwilling to take more unless sellers would make concessions. Hogs.

Buyers of hogs were backward and endeavored to force concessions from sellers. Prices of choice butchers and prime heavy hogs were steady, but the tendency was lower on packing grades and rough stuff. Quotations:

Sheep.

Efforts to boost the selling prices of sheep above the low level of last week were successful in only a few cases. Western lambs lacked good killing quality, and few were of finish sufficient to land them above $6.75. Feeders were in comparatively free supply and found a good demand. Toppy kinds made $6.25. Some fed yearlings and sheep made $5.50 and a string of fed ewes sold at $5.25. Western ewes at $4.85 were weak. Quotations:

COTTON

November 13th, 1905.

The very large and badly discomfited long interest in the cotton market made an effort at one time today to check the decline by a claim that Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture, in an interview in the Washington Post, had stated that the last report of the department indicated a crop of not over ten millions. An official telegram from Secretary Wilson, received by the superintendent of the New York Cotton Exchange, reads as follows:

"The interview is not strictly correct. I said 68.8% indicated over ten million bales."

This effectively disposed of the hope of a crop of anything under ten million bales, and meantime the advices that reach me from nearly every section of the South indicate that the crop has not yet ceased making, and show a considerable revulsion of sentiment with regard to the outlook. Secretary Wilson himself, in his interview, says:

"Our November report refers, of course, to the cotton that is still maturing in the boll. It is a mistake to say that the cotton staple does not continue to grow in the boll after Nov. 1st. Why, after our December report was issued last year there were vast fields in the South in which the cotton boll continued to produce a fresh supply of the staple. Indeed, in some sections the old bolls were producing even after preparations were well advanced for planting the new crop. The total yield last season was over thirteen million bales, but our estimate did not show that figure, simply because we could not include in our final report in December the increase that came after the season closed."

Personally I am not disposed to substantially increase my previous estimate of the crop, but defer any more definite statement in this respect until the publication of the next ginners' report, which will probably be on the 21st of November, and will indicate the quantity of cotton ginned up to the 14th of November.

My attention has been called by Messrs. W. C. Craig & Co. of Vicksburg, Miss., to a typographical error in the closing paragraph of my cotton letter of the 8th of November, published in this paper on the 9th of November.

The paragraph referred to reads as follows:

"My friends, the short crop theorists will, I fear, be somewhat chagrined to note that in Georgia and South Carolina the amount ginned up to Nov. 1st, actually exceeds their estimates of the entire season production for these states, this especially being true in the case of Mr. J. C. Dietz, who for Messrs. W. C. Craig & Co. of Vicksburg, estimates the total crop of Georgia, South Carolina, and Louisiana at 2,019,000 bales, whereas there have been actually ginned up to the 1st of November in these states 2,124,000 bales."

The error is almost so obvious as hardly to need correction. What I intended to say was that "Mr. J. C. Dietz, who for Messrs. W. C. Craig & Co. of Vicksburg, Miss., estimates the crop in Georgia and South Carolina alone at 2,019,000 bales, whereas there have actually been ginned up to the 1st of November in the states 2,124,000 bales."

The text of my letter should have made the error plain to the thoughtful reader, but in order to correct any possible injustice to Messrs. W. C. Craig & Co., I take this means of rectifying even the typographical mistake. The significance of the facts as correctly stated is even more bearish than the erroneous statement as it originally appeared.

Nor is there less attention paid to the question of style—every fur garment we sell is modeled on correct lines, and may be unhesitatingly accepted as in perfect harmony with the latest dictate of fashion.

But the reputation of this store as "the place for fashionable furs" is owing in no small degree to the positive economy which we can offer customers—economy that springs from our methods of buying pelts at the very sources of supply and manufacturing the garments ourselves.
